HERBERT

we dedicate . . .

The death of Herbert T. Condon last summer closed a chapter in University history. Dean Condon, who served Washington for nearly fifty years, first as registrar and finally Dean of Students, will be a part of this campus in spirit as well as material memorials for the rest of its existence.

In that fifty years Dean Condon saw his small college grow into a mighty center of learning guided by his philosophy of education.

"I am a firm believer in the policy that colleges can teach character as well as they can teach knowledge," the Dean once said. "I think a function of a University is to teach a student some rules of conduct as well as rules of grammar."

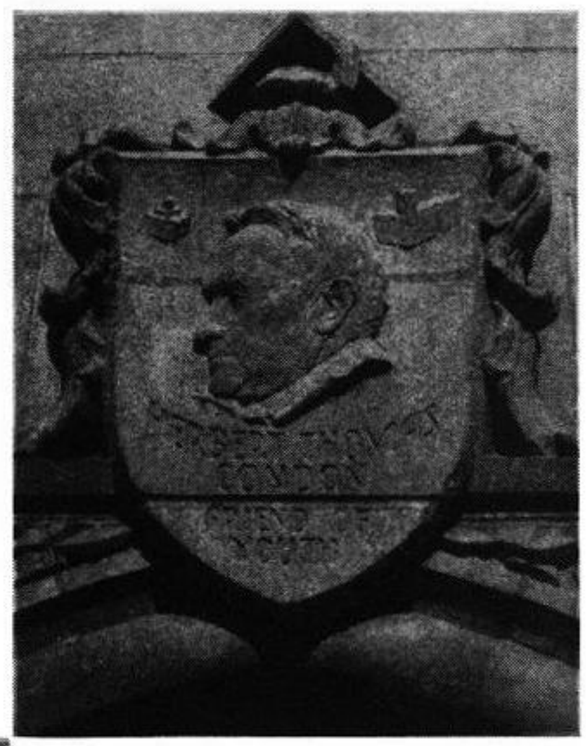

With this philosophy always in mind Dean Condon advised Regents and laid cornerstones of actual buildings as well as new ideas. He dedicated his life to Washington and served the University longer than any other one person.

Supreme Court Justice Mathew W. Hill expressed the Dean's devotion by using the names of the four Columns in the Sylvan theater.

"Loyalty, Industry, Faith and Efficiency, I know of no life that epitomizes these qualities more than our friend, Herbert T. Condon," Justice Hill said at memorial services last June.

It is hoped that the dedication of this Tyee to Dean Condon may in a small way express Washington's thanks for the Dean's self-dedication to us.

Herbert T. Condon was truly a "Friend of Youth."

It is a special pleasure this year to greet the young men and women of the University of Washington, for 1953 marks the 100th anniversary of the establishing of our Territory, of the beginning of a spiraling progress, social and industrial, vocational and educational.

Throughout the century just behind us the University has figured prominently. It was established when other universities and colleges throughout the national already were of age. They had a tremendous head-start in terms of years and tradition. It is amazing, considering this, that in a very short time the University has developed to a point at which it ranks among the foremost educational institutions in America.

Much of this progress we owe to those early men of vision whose faith in their fellow pioneers and in the potential of the Territory directed them to the most careful deliberation and planning of the educational program of Washington. Much of this we owe, also, to those who have come after the first builders and to you students who are carrying on the finest traditions of education and preparing yourselves for the high level of citizenship necessary to the building of even greater centuries ahead.

Arthur B. Langlie

GOVERNOR OF WASHINGTON

This first opportunity to extend greetings to a class of fellow graduates in the Tyee is a special kind of pleasure.

This book is something you will treasure more and more as years go by. Certainly, this has been true with me and my 1914 Tyee. I hope that this will be true with you too, not merely because your yearbook can help you to re-live the pleasant moments of your college life, but for an even more important purpose as well.

This has to do with the continuous process of learning. I hope that the mementos of your college life may always be a reminder that learning is a continuous process, not something which ends abruptly at Commencement time. It may have occurred to many of you that Commencement is a peculiar sort of a word to use in connection with the end of your University education. If it were the end, this most certainly would be a peculiar kind of usage.

In a very real sense, however, the learning process is only beginning for you. Your University has done the best it can to aid you in this beginning, but it can make no pretense that it has taught you all you ought or need to know. The truly educated man or woman is the one who never ceases to learn, who always seeks to become better educated. To the extent that you do continue to learn, your University will have served its best and most worthy purpose.

So I hope that your Tyee, indeed everything about your University, will be a constant reminder of these important facts and that they will help inspire you to constantly improve upon whatever education your University has been able to give you. In doing this, all of us at the University hope that you will call upon your University to aid you in this process in any way it can, wherever you may be and whenever you need its help. In serving you, in the years ahead, we hope that your University will merit the kind of loyalty from you that it should be able to expect from its sons and daughters.

board of regents

Under state law, the government of the University is vested in a BOARD OF REGENTS consisting of seven members appointed by the Governor with the approval of the State Senate. They serve for terms of six years each, without pay. Under rules prescribed the Regents, the President of the University and the faculty have charge of the immediate government of the University.

HAROLD P. EVEREST became Vice President of the University of Washington on July 16, 1952, after serving as Acting President for the preceding six months. He joined the University journalism faculty in 1938 and became Director of the School in 1944. When the School of Journalism and the Radio Education Department were combined into the School of Communications in 1951, he was named Director of the new School. He held this position until appointed Acting President in January, 1952. A University of Washington alumnus, Professor Everest was the publisher of a weekly newspaper in Kirkland for 16 years before entering the teaching profession.

Specializing in the out-of-class life of the university students, the Office of Student Affairs is an outstanding service organization on the University of Washington campus. Personal problems receive helpful and confidential attention from the staff of experienced counselors whose job it is to help students adjust to university life.

Its numerous functions include counseling individual students and organized groups, providing loans and scholarships for qualified students, finding jobs or housing, and acting as an information center on campus life. Data on other departments and offices are always available, and if there is any question that the OSA cannot answer, its staff will gladly and promptly obtain the answer.

The positions of executive director, counseling supervisor, and foreign students' adviser, along with a competent staff of associate counselors, make up an efficient and effective organization designed for the purpose of beneficially serving university students.

administration

Giving intelligent guidance to the numerous fields of activities at the university is the important job of the administrators. Their various positions necessarily cover a wide range of duties as there are many behind-the-scenes tasks involved in the successful administration of a large university.

The fifteen men and women who are each separately charged with specific aspects of administration are well trained and qualified to give wise direction to the operation of the university. Under their leadership falls the comprehensive responsibility of maintaining and improving the financial, physical and educational well being of the university and its students.

Financial control is vested in the comptroller, the assistant camptroller, the registrar, and the purchasing agent, while other administrators handle the physical aspects of the university. Such physical aspects are controlled by the superintendent of buildings and grounds, and the director of campus housing. The well being of the students is directed by the counselor of the women's residence halls, the director of the food service, and the director of health service.

The all-important educational area of administration is jointly directed by the director of adult education, the executive officers of extension classes, correspondence studies, and in-service teacher training, and the director of libraries. The directors of summer quarters, press, and office of public information and university relations complete this well-rounded force of administrators. Through their respective titles of office, each extends beneficial influence toward the major areas of university interest.

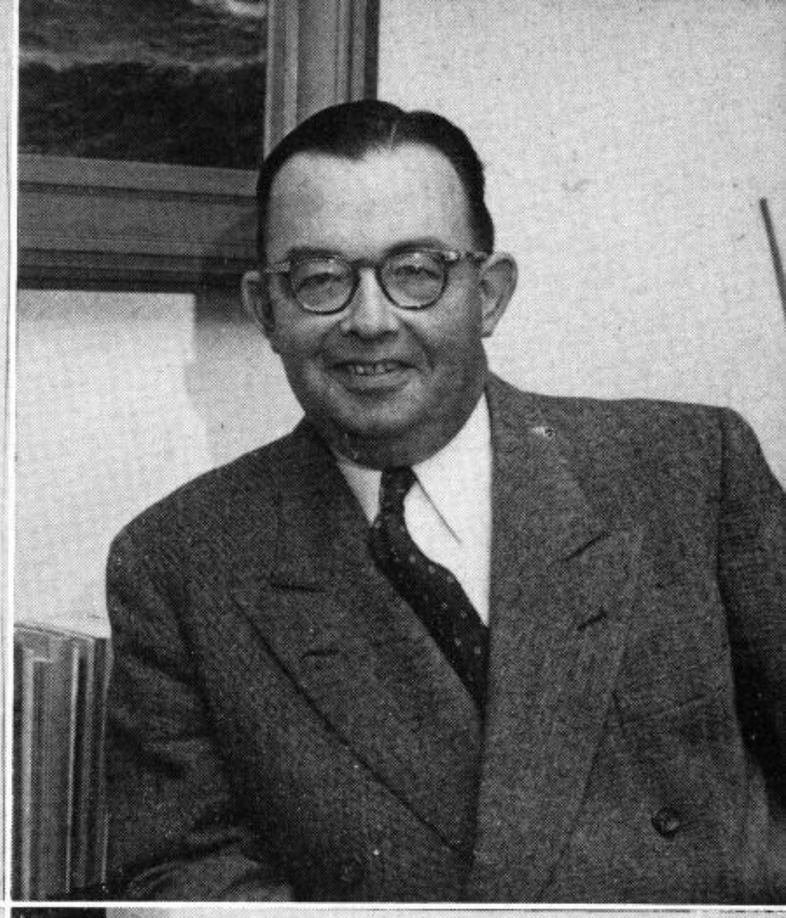

No institution can function properly without a competent crew of administrators, and those of Washington are certainly deserving of honor and credit for the smoothe operation of our university.

University alumni may be gone from the campus, but they continue to bear the name of Washington proudly and with honor.

Aiding in the promotion of the high ideals, efforts, and best interests of the University of Washington is the purpose of the Alumni Asociation. Since its beginning in 1891, the association has successfully carried out numerous long term and far-reaching projects bringing countless benefits to the university and its students. Outstanding activities include awarding scholarships to future graduates, holding class reunions, celebrating Homecoming annually with new and vigorous enthusiasm, and each June sponsoring the commencement tea honoring graduating seniors. These year-round functions serve as a connecting link to past college days and provide excellent opportunities for the alumni to renew old acquaintances.

Through the Alumni Association, countless graduates carry forward the traditions of the university and contribute to the continuance of its role of dynamic leadership in American education. In this way, genuine pride and earnest endeavors are combined by Washington alumni to see that their beloved alma mater becomes greater through the years.

Annual presentation of the President's and Faculty Medals was made at the President's Fall Convocation. The President's Medal is conferred upon the graduating senior who has maintained the highest record over the four years of his undergraduate course. For 1952, the Medal was awarded to James Robb Grover, a graduate in chemistry.

Faculty Medals are awarded to students in the sophomore and junior classes who have made the best scholastic records in their classes during their freshman-sophomore, and freshman-sophomore-junior college years, respectively. Recipients of Faculty Medals in the junior class were Margaret Rae Baugh, sociology major, and Ernest Christian Pogge, who is majoring in engineering. Sophomore Faculty Medalist this year was Zorn Shively, a prelaw major.

James Robb Grover*, above, is awarded the President's Medal from Acting-President Harold P. Everest. Winner of the Junior Faculty Medal last year, James is a graduate in chemistry, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Lambda Epsilon, Zeta Mu Tau, and Ammonii Socii.

Baccalaureate honors are based on the entire scholastic record of the graduate. The distinction of summa cum laude signifies a minimum grade-point average of 3.9, magna cum laude an average of 3.6, and cum laude an average of 3.35. The honor summa cum laude is awarded only to students who have completed four full years at the University of Washington, while magna cum laude and cum laude are presented to those who have completed not less than ninety hours at this institution, together with a record of distinction at institutions previously attended. In computing honors, and "A" carries four grade points, "B" three, "C" two, and "D" one.

In addition, the University of Washington recognizes excellence in scholarship by the issuance of scholarship lists at the close of each quarter, by the award of Certificates of High Scholarship and Faculty Medals at the President's Convocation in the autumn, and by the bestowal of honors and the President's Medal at Commencement in June.

Mortar Board recognizes outstanding senior women in seventy-eight American colleges, and is represented on this campus with Tolo chapter. Members are chosen in their junior year on the basis of high scholarship, service to the University, and leadership. A grade point average three-tenths above the all-university average is required.

The organization promotes loyalty, advances service and fellowship among college women, and encourages high scholarship and leadership.

The major projects of Mortar Board include an award of a one hundred and fifty dollar scholarship to a worthy girl each year, presentation of plaques to the outstanding sophomore and junior girls att he AWS-AMS Scholarship Banquet, and sponsorship of the annual and traditional Tolo dance. Mortar Board members also assist at University functions whenever needed, among them, the President's reception for freshmen, and the Convocation Assembly in the spring.

In existence for forty-six years, Fir Tree is an organization comprised of those students who, as undergraduates, have served the University by their participation in athletics, debate, journalism, and other worthy activities.

Distinguished from other organizations, Fir Tree elects its members from those who have shown unselfish devotion and loyal service to Washington. As its purpose is to designate individuals outstanding in some field of student activity, election to Fir Tree is truly a high reward for past services rendered the University.

In order for Fir Tree to be a Washington society in essence, membership is limited to undergraduate men who have taken all their college work at this University. The symbol of a fir tree serves as an appropriate emblem because it is particularly indigenous to our state and reaches its greatest height and luxuriousness when grown from the beginning in one place, surrounded by its fellows.

oval club

OVAL CLUB, originally established forty-six years ago on the University of Washington campus, is an active upperclassmen's honorary whose principal purpose is "Service to Washington." Through its symbolic spirit Oval Club has preserved the traditions, the ideals, and the history of the University. Members are bi-annually selected by the active chapter from junior men who have displayed outstanding interest and participation in activities, athletics, and in the academic field. This undergraduate honorary performs many large and small services for betterment of the University throughout the year. Among these school services are a Faculty Banquet, honoring all faculty members who have devoted thirty or more years of service to the University. This banquet is co-sponsored by Totem Club. Other Oval Club activities and projects include an Alumni Banquet, Initiation Dance, Children's Picnic, Pledge Project, Intermission Entertainment at athletic events, and presentation of the Oval Club Scholastic Trophy.

totem club

This year marked the Twentieth Anniversary of Totem Club, founded in 1932. The purposes of Totem Club are: To secure, strengthen and perpetuate a greater Washington spirit of loyalty and service; to promote an undergraduate cooperation and unity; to develop cultured leaders, bound together by ties of friendship, and dedicated to the furtherance of the interests of the University of Washington; to preserve and foster worthy traditions of the University of Washington; to further for Washington attainment of the ultimate American university; and to prevent those evils which are apt to arise in a student honor society.

Totem Club functions as a Senior women's activity honorary. One hundred and twenty credits and a 2.0 grade average are required for membership. Coeds are tapped during the spring of their Junior year by the presentation of a miniature totem pole during class. Pledging also occurs during fall quarter. Each year Totem Club sponsors Song and Stunt Night whose priceeds go toward a two hundred dollar scholarship awarded annually to a deserving woman student.

Phi Beta Kappa, founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary, is the oldest Greek letter society in the United States. The University chapter, Washington Alpha, was founded in 1914. Election to Phi Beta Kappa has been a recognition of intellectual capacities well-employed, especially in the acquiring of an education in the liberal arts and sciences. The emblem is a key.

college of arts and sciences

The College of Arts and Sciences, headed by DEAN LLOYD S. WOODBURNE, trains thousands of students for varied occupations. The College's thirty-three departments offer courses ranging from architecture to anthropology, from physics to philosophy.

One recent addition to the College is the newly formed School of Communications, which includes Journalism and Radio Education. The latter has become increasingly important on the campus with an enlarged broadcasting schedule over Station KUOW.

Being divided into three main sections, the College presents a wide and comprehensive variety of subjects falling under the general classifications of Humanities, Social Sciences, and Sciences. Also in the College of Arts and Sciences is an ever-increasing number of students under the General Studies program. In addition, here is found those countless students preparing for entry into professional fields including medicine, dentistry, nursing, law, and teaching.

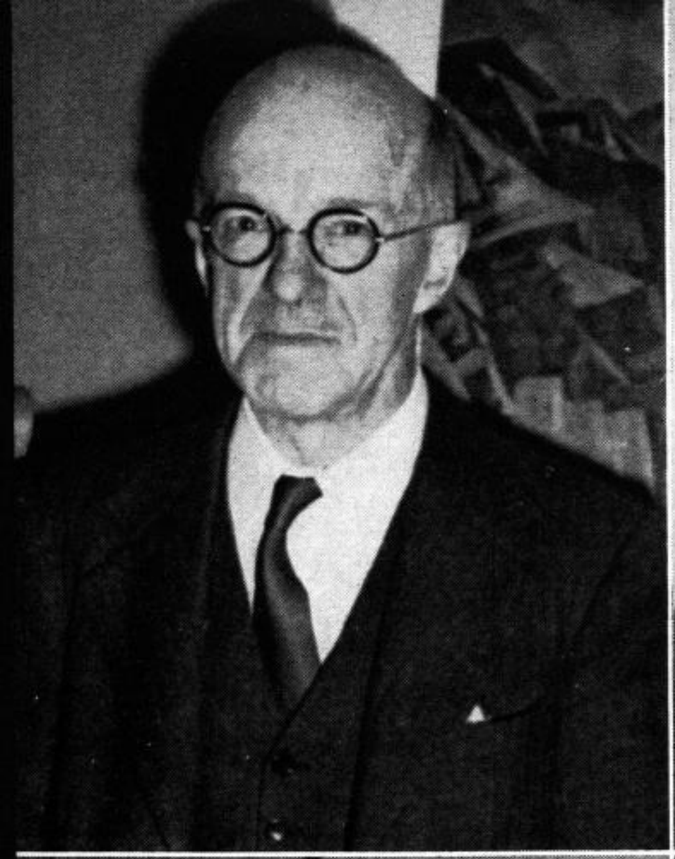

Thus, it is evident that the College of Arts and Sciences provides unlimited opportunities for college students interested in versatile training and specialization.

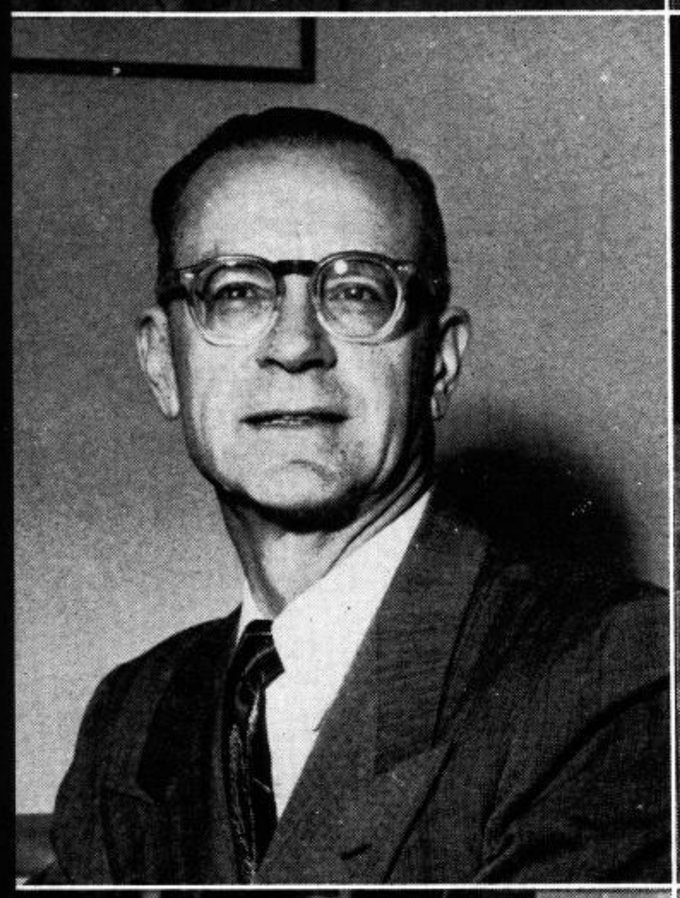

The Library, well-known to students and faculty alike, has long been the center of study and research.

LIZ LOVSTED speaks an international language and seems to find JOHN FERY in perfect sympathy. Liz and John served the Class of '52 as freshman class president and secretary. Liz went on to be elected class secretary during her junior year and topped it off by becoming ASUW Secretary. She is also a member of Mortar Board, Totem club, and W-Key; president of Zeta Phi Eta, speech honorary, and chairman of AWS Concerts committee. John was class president during his sophomore year, chairman of Parents' Weekend, and vice-president of Oval club. This year he received the Dean Condon Award for the Outstanding Senior Man.

Founded in 1910, the Home Economics club is a professional, as well as a departmental, organization and is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association. Membership is extended to all Home Economics majors.

A cookie sale, the proceeds of which are placed in a special fund to be used in helping a foreign student attend school in this country, highlights the year's activities. Social functions include a Christmas party, Mothers' tea, and Senior banquet. Services given are a Foreign Package Drive in the fall quarter which supplies food and clothing to needy persons in foreign countires, and aid in the department's annual Open House program.

Arena, Professional Drama Honorary, was founded in 1949 Jand has as its motto, "ARENA—the encompassing art." Its objects and purposes are fourfold: to provide a professional organization for students of artistic and technical ability in the School of Drama, to coordinate the extra-curricular departmental activities of the students of the School of Drama for the advancement of their art, to coordinate drama with the allied arts, and to establish a high esprit de corps between member students and the staff of the University of Washington School of Drama.

mu phi epsilon

Mu Phi Epsilon is a national music sorority in the professional field, having as its purpose the recognition of scholarship and musicianship, and promotion of friendship within its sisterhood. Membership requirements are a 3.01 cumulative grade average, a year of music theory, musical ability, and faculty recommendations. Tau chapter is active in the music department, sponsoring concerts, social functions, and serving as hostesses. One of their main projects this year has been to earn money through cookie sales to furnish the department major room. Their biggest function of the year was a banquet given in March to raise money for the Sterling-Mathias Memorial fund, the sorority's national philanthropy. The college chapter has cooperated with the Seattle alumnae in presenting many musical programs and other events besides providing a one-hundred dollar scholarship to a deserving girl in the music department.

omicron nu

Omicron Nu is an honor society organized nationally for the purpose of recognizing superior scholarship and promoting leadership and research in the field of home economics. Members for Omicron Nu are selected from qualified second quarter juniors and seniors majoring in home economics. A 3.02 cumulative grade point is necessary for election to this honorary. Several varied and interesting activities are carried out which follow the theme of scholarship, leadership and research. Some of the activities are the presentation of the annual Honor Tea given in the Spring of each year for all girls with high grades in the department, participation in the high school open house, a jam sale, a cook book project and many more.

Theta Sigma Phi, national women's professional journalism honorary, was founded on the University of Washington campus April 8, 1909. Theta Sig members are chosen from junior and senior women journalism majors.

Theta Sigma Phi's Matrix Table banquet, honoring women of achievement, is sponsored by active and alum chapters all over the nation each year in April. Seattle's Matrix Table honors 500 local women and 100 University coeds each year.

The aims of Theta Sigma Phi include promoting the professional ideals, and campus. Theta Sigs further this aim six times during the school year by inviting outstanding journalists to speak in panel discussions. Neophyte "Maggie Higgins" are invited to the annual "Women in Journalism" coffee hour. Prominent women reporters, authors, advertising executives, and radio-TV writers discuss their careers and offer helpful suggestions to the coeds.

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, has been active on campus for forty-three years. Based on aptitude and character as well as scholarship, the fraternity honors with membership those men who show the greatest promise in newspaper work and allied fields.

The chapter seeks to provide a program of activities which will augment class and laboratory work and which will provide avenues for the development of each member's character and leadership potential as well as professional skill.

Along with recreational activities, the group's regular meetings offer discussions by leaders in such fields as television, radio, magazine and newspaper production. In addition, Sigma Delta Chi cooperates in projects initiated by the School of Communications.

pi alpha sigma

Pi Alpha Sigma, women's professional advertising honorary, promotes advertising as a profession among women. It was founded to bring about mutual benefit to the women on campus interested in advertising. Members are enabled to make personal contacts with people outstanding in various fields of advertising. Pledging takes place in the fall and often in spring, too. Women pledged must have at least a 2.5 grade average and must plan advertising as a profession. Pi Alpha Sigma traditionally sponsors the annual campus Apple Day in the fall, part of the proceeds going to some organization such as Campus Chest. The spring project is taking charge of arrangements for the ASUW publications banquet.

Zeta Phi Eta, the national professional speech arts fraternity for women, was founded at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, in 1893. Membership is based on scholarship, professional attitude, and extra-curricular activity as evidence of professional excellence. Zeta Phi Eta maintains and supports the Lois Beal Sandall Scholarship Fund for the benefit of outstanding students in Speech Arts. The scholarship is available to any senior or graduate majoring in Speech, Radio, or Drama. In addition, the Zeta Phi Eta plaque is awarded to the outstanding graduating senior man and woman in speech. The engraved plaque is then displayed in the Walker-Ames room of Parrington Hall. A plaque for the oustanding graduate in radio is also awarded.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is advancing the cause of music in America and fostering the brotherhood of music students. On this campus, Sigma chapter presents an annual All-American Concert featuring only American composers. The fraternity sponsors a scholarship for private music lessons to one underclassman musician each year. A highlight of the year is the Carl Paige Wood Memorial Scholarship Concert in honor of the late director of the School of Music. Phi Mu Alpha also advises the University Songfest committee.

In the music department, Phi Mu Alpha promotes good times for the music students with its Fall Get-Together and Christmas Party.

Admitted into the national fraternity in 1921, Sigma Chapter has become a professional-honorary with special recognition for outstanding scholarship and musicianship.

lambda rho

Through the years its members have brought honor to Lambda Rho by their many outstanding achievements in the field of art. Although it is a local organization, it has become national in a sense through its members who have established themselves throughout the United States. In the Northwest probably the majority of women who have attained notice in the field of art were once members of Lambda Rho.

Membership is open only to those women majoring in art at the University of Washington who have a high scholastic record. The faculty of the school of art is also eligible for membership.

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national professional advertising fraternity, is designed to "bridge the gap" between advertising theory and experience. Classroom training is supplemented by contacts with advertising practitioners and the working advertising world, both on and off the campus. Membership is based on aptitude, leadership, and advertising as a career. Chapter activities include the annual Agency Banquet to which all professional advertising men are invited, talks and panels by prominent advertising men and field trips to local advertising departments. Alpha Delta Sigma provides a campus advertising service open to any organization that wants aid or advice. The Washington chapter is named in honor of the late Robert W. Jones. Vernon R. Frost, Director of the School of Communications, is Western Regional vice president and Clyde Robinson, Director of Publications, is the faculty adviser.

"This picture should get us banned from campus," says Columns Editor FRANK CHESLEY to BARBARA MOORE. During her four years at the U., Barb has spent much of her time at the YWCA. She was their Second Vice-President, Secretary, Co-chairman of World Relatedness committee, and co-chairman of Effective Citizenship committee. Other activities, which include Cosmopolitan club and Omicron Nu, and high scholarship earned her membership in W-Key, Mortar Board, and Sigma Epsilon Sigma. Frank, in addition to his work on Columns and on the Daily, is a member of Oval club, Publications committee, and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary.

ERIC FONKALSRUD, the only Washington survivor of the Civil War, rests after a long hard day in Health Sciences. Place your bets here on ART MARTINS success with that billiard ball. If she's up to snuff MARILYN BRADFORD might beat him. Marilyn has spent the past year as Panhellenic president and Board of Control member. Before that she was AWS Standards committee chairman and AWS Cabinet member. Marilyn is also a member of Totem club. Art, as ASUW First Vice-President, was Organizations Assembly chairman, and Board of Control member. Membership in Alpha Phi Omega and Alpha Sigma Phi also took up his time. He was chairman of Student Organizations committee, chairman of Campus Cooperation committee, YMCA Board member, and on the YM-YWCA Cabinet.

Always a winner, JOAN SMITH holds the scholarship trophy awarded by the Inter-Sorority Mothers' club. Joan was tapped for W-Key and Sigma Epsilon Sigma in her sophomore year. Increasing activities and high scholarship brought membership in Totem club, Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa. She was also Pan Hellenic second vice-president, associate editor of the Tyee, chairman of the AWS Constitution and By-Laws committee, and a member of Kappa Delta. Joan has just completed her first year in law school at the University.

women's physical education club

The Physical Education club originated in Autumn, 1919. It is professional and social in purpose and utilizes the skills and knowledge achieved in professional courses to sponsor, organize and direct a Sports Day for High School and a Parents Night. High light of the Spring banquet is the awarding of the Mary Gross Hutchinson Memorial Loan Fund and a plaque to the outstanding senior of the year.

business administration

The College of Business Administration, directed by DEAN AUSTIN GRIMSHAW, is divided into four main departments covering all business aspects. These departments include: General Business; Accounting, Finance, and Statistics; Marketing; Transportation, and Foreign Trade; and Policy, Personnel Relations, and Production.

Of increasing importance is the Bureau of Business Research which conducts study and research for business and government agencies upon their request. In this manner, both school and local community benefit from its reports on topics of current interest.

In the College, students take full advantage of a remarkable integration and meaningful combination of the major fields of business. The typical student is provided with a broad background of business fundamentals, in addition to a wide general background of non-business subjects, and, perhaps most important, a major field of specialization in one certain phase of business. Since each major field is further broken into specialty majors, a student in Marketing, for instance, could specialize in Wholesaling, Retailing, Advertising, or Market Research.

The College of Business Administration is constantly in search of new fields of interest to offer its ever-expanding enrollment of college students.

Commerce Hall entrance, usually teeming with student activity between classes, now seems empty at day's end.

Is FLOYD McCRACKEN eagerly watching the Pi Phi's or is he just resting with one foot on the bar? At any rate he deserves a long rest after a busy college career. As a sophomore Floyd was chairman of Sophomore Carnival and a member of Purple Shield. He progressed to Oval club, Athletic chairman for AMS and ASUW, and most recently Junior class president. Floyd is also affiliated with Sigma Nu.

A goal requiring extra effort is extended to business administration majors by Beta Gamma Sigma, National scholastic honorary. The final charter for University of Washington's chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma was received in 1923. This well known national honorary has 55 chapters throughout the United States. Listed among its group of members are the top ranking Juniors, Seniors, and graduates in the school of Business Administration. Juniors must have a 3.5 cumulative grade point average to be eligible for membership, while Seniors and Graduates are required to have a minimum of 3.3. Only the top ten per cent of the Senior class can be initiated, while not more than the top 5 per cent of the Juniors.

alpha kappa psi

Alpha Kappa Psi is the first and oldest professional business fraternity in the fields of commerce, accounting and finance. Founded October 5, 1904, at the School of Commerce, New York University, it has expanded steadily until it now has 76 active collegiate chapters and 12 alumni chapters. Members are pledged after achieving sophomore standing, and have shown proficiency in their studies. The aims of Alpha Kappa Psi include fostering the welfare of the individual members, encouraging scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounting, and finance, and educating the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein.

Rho chapter at Washington has a full program of professional and faculty speakers, including panel discussion centering on informing our men on the characteristics and requirements of their prospective fields Our annual program also features field trips, stag parties, district conventions, and joint dinner meetings with the Seattle Alumni chapter. The Alpha Kappa Psi scholarship award is presented each spring to the senior in business having the highest accumulative grade point.

Pan Xenia is an international foreign trade honorary and professional fraternity. Its members are upperclassmen majoring in foreign trade and related fields, who evidence interest in the promotion of the group's objectives and good scholarship standing.

The fraternity was founded in 1918 to promote good will and better trade relations and practices throughout the world. The group has received special recognition from the Carnegie Peace Foundation as being a factor able to improve international relations. It is the oldest international college fraternity.

Beta Alpha Psi is a national professional accounting fraternity, chartered on the University of Washington campus in 1920. The aims of the group are to encourage the ideals of service as the basis of the accounting profflession, to promote the study of accounting in its highest ethical standards, and to act as a medium between professional men, instructors, students and others who are interested in the development and study of this profession. Members are selected on the basis of professional promise and scholastic accomplishment. Candidates must be upperclassmen with a B-grade average in all subjects and a B in accounting. They are given competitive examinations covering accounting and business law. The organization serves as a contact between active members and employers in these fields.

The Marketing Club helps students bridge the gap between school and the business world by sponsoring talks by outstanding business men and field tours of marketing organizations in the area. This gives the students an opportuntiy to become better acquainted with members of the faculty and in the business profession. The Marketing Club is affiliated with the American Marketing Association, the leading professional organization sponsoring the development of more scientific practices in the distribution field. Membership is open to students interested in marketing as a career.

Management Club was organized in April 1948 by Dr. T. J. Barnowe. The purpose of the club is to bring together students interested in the field of management; to foster their own professional qualifications as future managers. During this school year the club has held several banquets featuring prominent speakers from business concerns in this area. A dance was held; and the year was highlighted by the successful sales campaign on the book "Selling Yourself," which was written by club members and professors in the field.

DEAN ERNEST M. JONES

Under the administration of DEAN ERNEST M. JONES, the School of Dentistry has made remarkable growth since its beginning in 1945. Today this department of the University occupies a prominent place among the dental schools of this country. Over three hundred and fifty students are now receiving instruction in the various phases of dentistry, including graduate students engaged in advanced training for the several specialized areas of dentistry.

The School of Dentistry at the time of graduating its first class of students received full accreditation by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association and this year the school will confer degrees on its fourth graduating class. Students from the Department of Dental Hygiene and graduate students in the specialized areas of dentistry will also receive degrees.

The Department of Dental Hygiene has been organized and devleoped to meet the standards of the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association. Two curricula are offered. The two-year basic curriculum, for undergraduate students, provides preparation for the professional practice of dental hygiene. The other curriculum, for graduate dental hygienists, provides background and training for administrative work with specialization directed toward the field of practice selected by the student.

The College of Education, headed by DEAN FRANCIS F. POWERS, trains students for positions as teachers, administrators, and educational specialists. There are many graduate students working for advanced degrees and doing research on practical problems of teaching and administration. An extensive program of cadet-teaching is one of the facilities offered by the college in its excellent training program for the nation's future educators.

The beauty of the "Double-E" Building is a tribute to engineering genius on the University of Washington campus. The College of Engineering can well be proud of this outstanding structure which serves as its departmental headquarters.

college of engineering

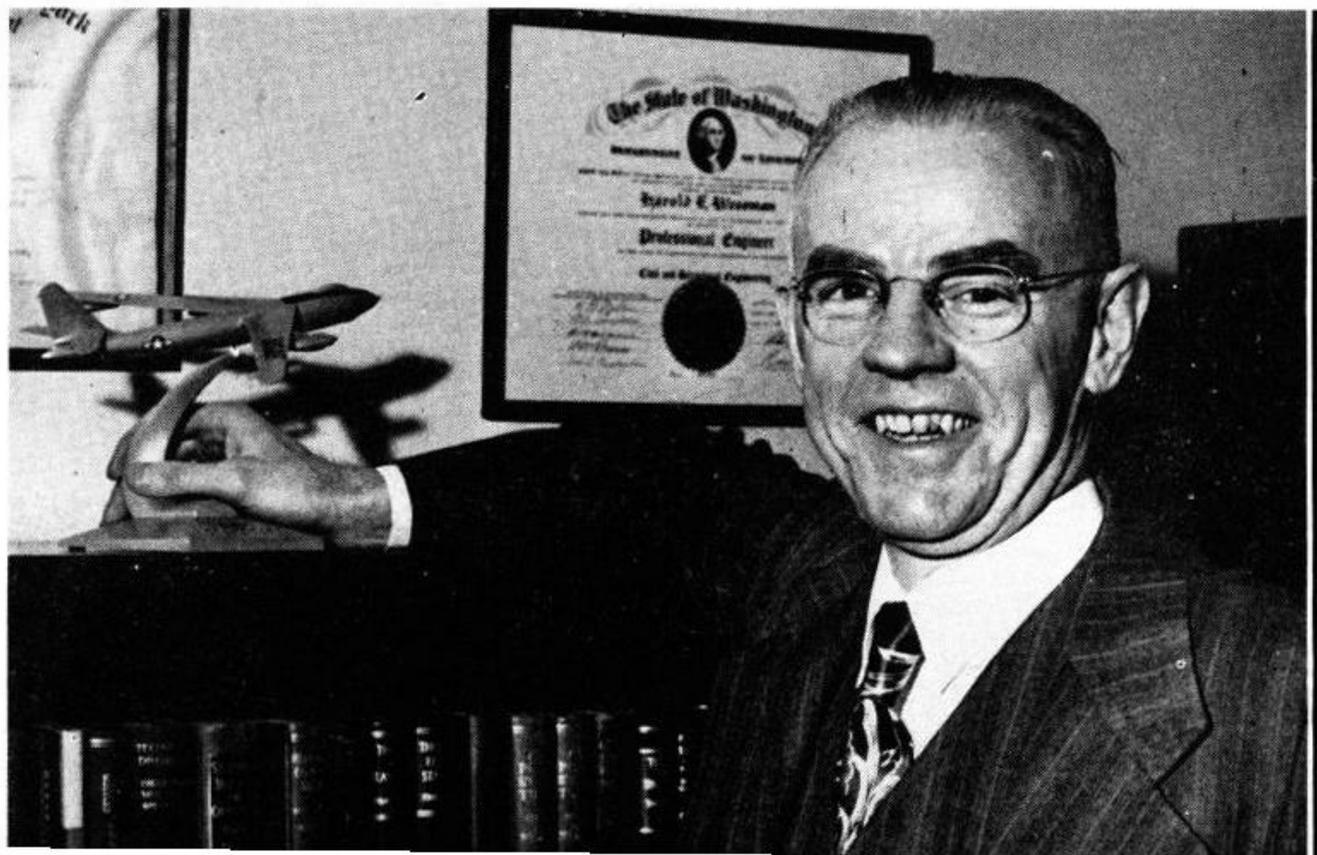

The College of Engineering, organized into nine departments under the direction of Dean Harold E. Wessman, ranks high among engineering schools in this country. It is fully accredited and offers both bachelor's and advanced degrees in aeronautical, ceramic, chemical, civil, electrical, industrial, mechanical, metallurgical, and mining engineering. An active research program is carried on by the departments in cooperation with the Engineering Experiment Station. Many special research facilities are available, and a number of research fellowships in the Engineering Experiment Station are provided each year for qualified students.

All engineering students enroll in a common curriculum during the freshman year. The curricula for the following three years, however, differ for each branch of engineering. A program in the humanities, offered by the Humanistic-Social Studies Department, is also taken by each student concurrently with his technical courses. The teaching staff in Engineering numbers approximately 110 persons and is drawn from all branches of the profession. Practically every staff member has had practical profession experience in addition to advanced graduate study.

The tremendous demand of industrial firms and governmental agencies for highly-trained engineers and scientists has increased the emphasis on graduate study and research. This year's enrollment of 1600 students in engineering includes 215 graduates working toward master's and doctor's degrees. A placement program, conducted through the Office of the Dean, brings students and prospective employers together for interviews leading to definite positions in industry and government.

Research highlights in the College of Engineering are published quarterly in "The Trend in Engineering." The student publication, "Washington Engineer," reflects the activities of the student body, and includes articles on research, news of alumni, and current activity of the student branches of the various professional societies.

Pleasant thoughts seem to be occupying the minds of LIZ MYERS and DONNER BUCHET. Phi Bete Liz is also first vice-president of the YWCA, and a member of Mortar Board, Totem club, and Delta Gamma. She was also chairman of the Mortar Board Tolo last year. Donner, a member of Oval club, has been chairman of the 1953 Varsity Ball, the Social Events committee and the ASUW Operating committee.

tau beta

Tau Beta Pi is an all-engineering honor society, founded at Lehigh University in 1885 to commend those engineers who have conferred honor upon the Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship as undergraduates or by their attainments as alumni. There are now ninety-two chapters and 77,000 members.

Alpha Chapter of Washington was established in 1912, and many outstanding engineers are among its alumni. Its membership is limited to male engineers who stand in the upper one-fifth of the senior class or the upper one-eighth of the junior class.

An engineering major, as well as editing the WASHINGTON ENGINEER, more than fills the schedule of ROLAND STANTON.

washington engineers

THE WASHINGTON ENGINEER is a semi-technical magazine published by the Engineering Students' Council. Written and organized entirely by engineering students, the magazine appears six times during the school year. Articles published are selected from material submitted by these students at all levels.

THE WASHINGTON ENGINEER is staffed each year in the spring from the ranks of the College of Engnieering. Now in its fifth year of publication, the magazine has become a necessary part of the life of many of its lower campus readers.

The Engineering Students' Council is the link between upper and lower campus in student government. It is composed of the president, and a junior and senior representative from each of the student branches of the national professional societies, two sophomores, one freshman, the editor of the Washington Engineer and the president of Tau Beta Pi.

The principal activity of the Council is the biennial engineering Open House. It also publishes the Washington Engineer.

The Electrical Engineers on campus are represented by two professional societies: the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers. Within these organizations is a common group of elective offices.

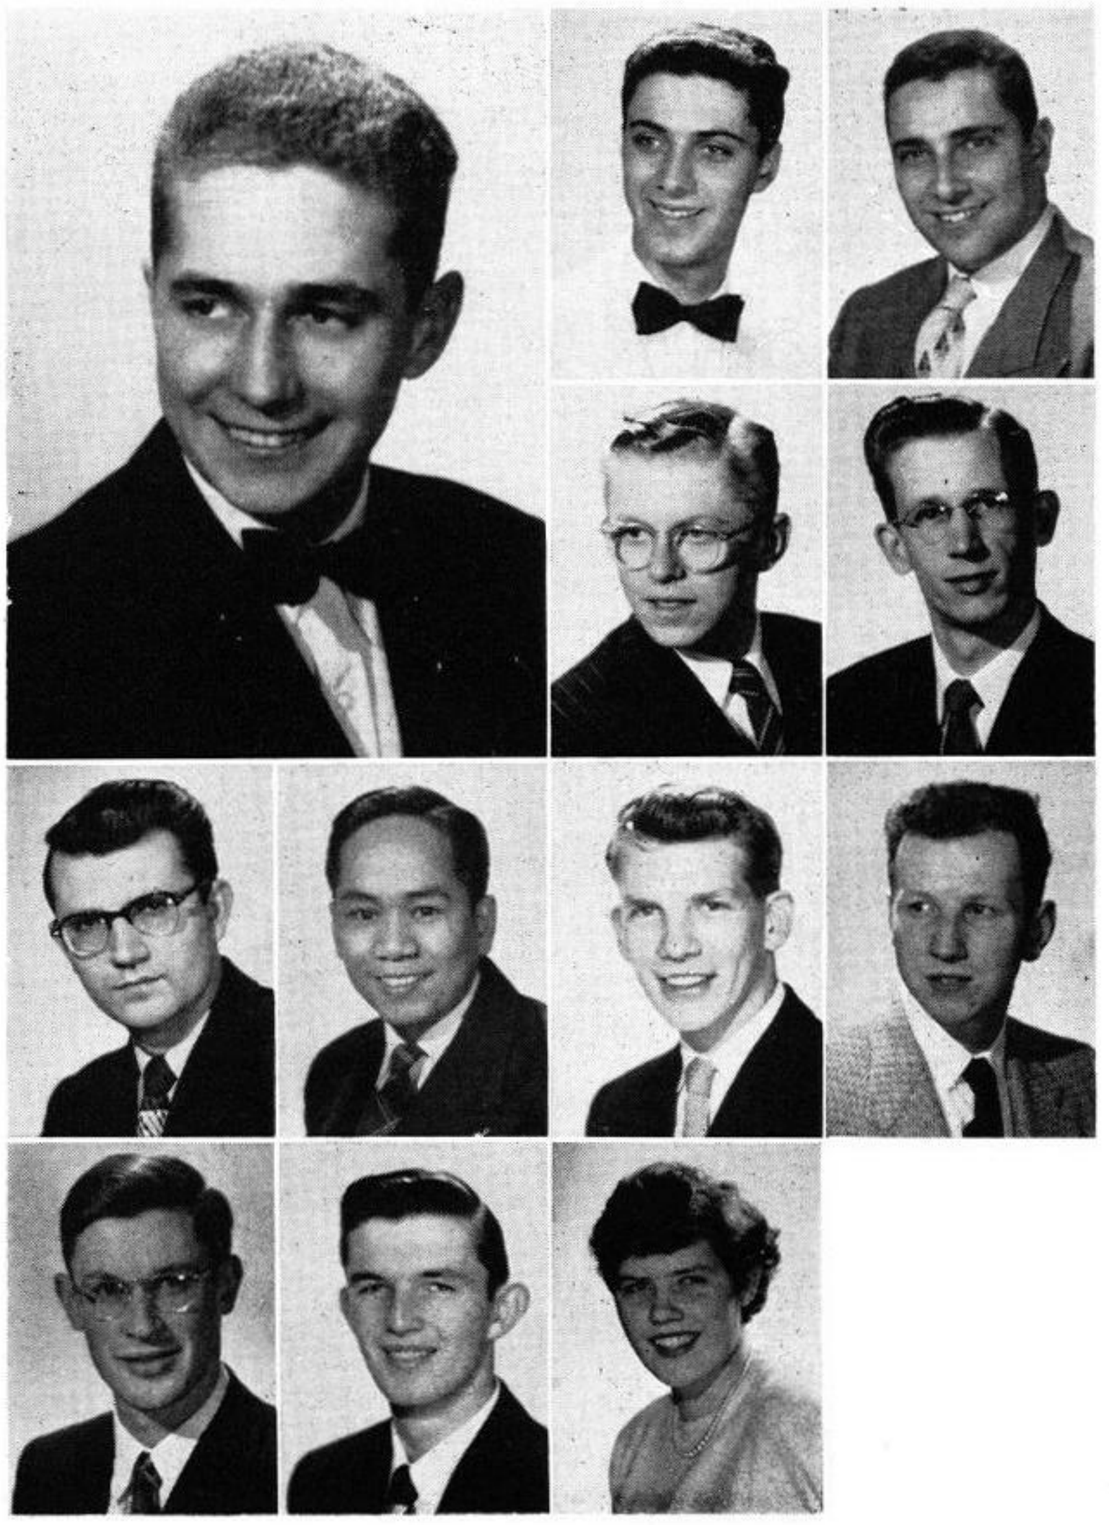

The function of the AIEE-IRE is to promote student activities and to develop a sound relationship with the professional society. Some of the activities include field trips, a prize paper contest and joint meetings with the professional group.

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers was founded in 1908. The objects of the Institute are the advancement of the professional standing of its members, the maintenance of high professional standards among its engineers and the furtherance of chemical engineering in theory and practice.

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers is the parent organization of all the student chapters throughout the United States. At the University of Washington the student chapter was chartered in 1940.

The regional chapter of the AIChE, the Washington-Oregon-Idaho Chapter, assists the student organization in sponsoring field trips, banquets, conventions, and seminars. These activities form an essential part of the educational program of the Department of Chemical Engineering at Washington.

american society of mechanical engineers

The University of Washington Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was established on the campus in 1917. The primary aims of the organization are to broaden the students' acquaintance with the practical side of mechanical engineering, to enable the students to establish fraternal contact with their fellow students in engineering and to meet graduate engineers engaged in active practice of mechanical engineering. The University of Washington Student Branch sponsors frequent field trips to inspect local industries, movies of general interest, student talks, and teams to compete in intramural sports. Membership is open to any student enrolled in the engineering college of an accredited school. The office is in 415 Guggenheim Hall.

Most civil engineering students at the University of Washington hold membership in the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the oldest national engineering society in the United States, founded in 1852 with headquarters in New York.

Members obtain special rates on all ASCE publications, and take part in the following activities: field trips to industrial plants and construction projects, participation in the annual Pacific Northwest Conference of student chapter of ASCE, attendance at the annual joint meeting with the Seattle section, ASCE, and attendance at group meetings held for hearing practicing professional engineers and students, watch films, etc.

college of forestry

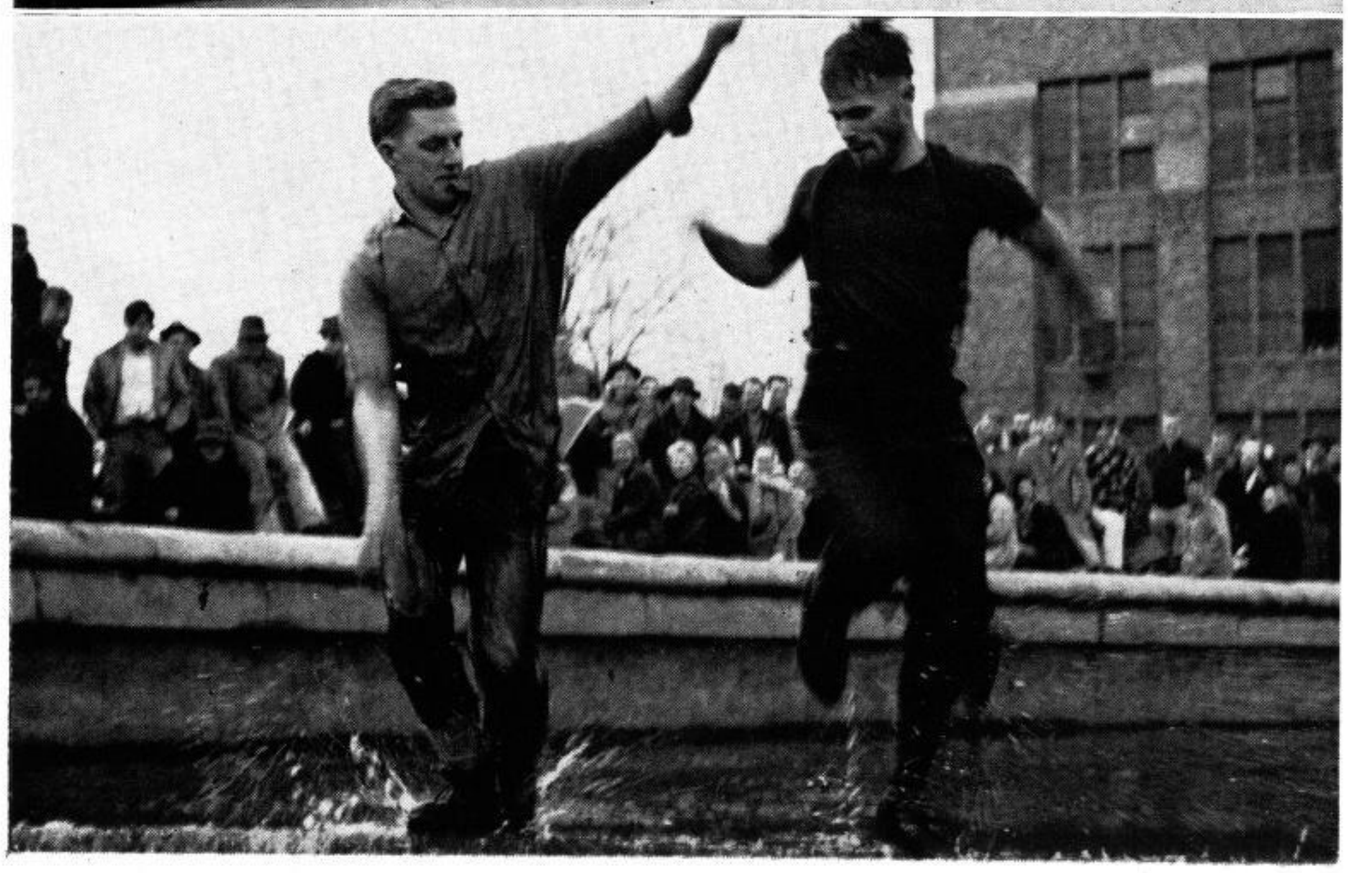

DEAN GORDON D. MARCKWORTH

The College of Forestry under the leadership of GORDON D. MARCKWORTH has been active in training leaders for work in administration and research in all phases of the timber producing and manufacturing industry. Located in the heart of one of the finest timber producing areas in the world, its graduates readily secure employment in timber production, timber harvesting, and timber manufacturing.

Forestry majors soon become familiar with their second home, ANDERSON HALL.

Fast action and fancy footwork may keep one of these foresters from a cold bath during Garb Day competition.

"Garb Day," which is the annual forestry day on campus, brought together this group of foresters to compete in logging skill contests: log rolling, tree climbing and chopping. The object of the Forest club is to promote fellowship, interest, and to advance forestry among students not only at the University but cross the country.

The Graduate School is administratively in charge of graduate study in whatever division of the University such study is carried on. This involves the supervision of students and programs which go beyond formal undergraduate work or the work of professional schools into areas of advanced training, research, and scholarship. The Graduate School is in a sense actually a part of every other school and college of the University. It is its duty and opportunity to assist all schools.

The School of Law was established at the University of Washington in 1899, and is presently housed in Condon Hall, a building designed specially for the particular needs of a law school. The School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is approved by the Council of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Bar Association.

The University Law Library contains 117,267 volumes including the decisions of all English and United States courts of last resort and the reported decisions of inferior tribunals. Extensive runs of the English, American, and colonial statutes are available, as are copies of all legal periodicals published in the English language. The Law Library is the tenth largest law school library in the United States and the largest to be found west of the Mississippi, according to the Association of American Law Schools' Directory of June, 1950.

The School of Law is within a few minutes' ride of both the federal and state courts sitting in Seattle. Thus law students are afforded ready opportunity to observe the trial of actual cases. This proximity to the courts has also made it possible to obtain both federal and state judges to preside over and hear practice court trials and appellate arguments prepared and conducted by law students acting as counsel for the parties. The School of Law's Practice Court, in which senior law students try actual cases, with the consent of the parties, has gained national recognition in the field of legal education. Each year, the Student Bar Association sponsors the Moot Appellate Court Competition. Open to all law students, this contest is designed to develop forensic ability in the presentation of arguments at the appellate level.

Law students are governed by the Student Bar Association. Every student enrolled in the School of Law is a member of this Association, which is affiliated with the American Law Student Association, which, in turn, is sponsored by the American Bar Association. The objectives of the Student Bar Association are: (1) To promote useful activities among the law students; (2) to foster a professional outlook on the part of each student; (3) to promote and bring about contacts and cooperation between students and practicing attorneys and judges; (4) to further the best interests of its members, of the School, and of the legal profession. The elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, together with two elected representatives from each class, comprise the Executive Board of the Association, which is its governing body.

Courses in Librarianship at the University of Washington are designed to prepare graduates for the various duties professional librarians are called upon to perform. The School of Librarianship is a graduate school and offers the degree of Master of Librarianship. The bachelor's degree, required for entrance, may be taken in any major field. In fact. students with a variety of backgrounds are needed as specialists in libraries devoted to law, medicine, engineering, business, and other technical fields. In addition to its regular graduate courses, the School offers several introductory courses which may be taken by interested students as electives during their senior year. While these courses are designed primarily for teacher-librarians, they provide an excellent preview of the field for prospective students. This group of courses covers children's books, school library materials, and an introduction to the problems of purchasing, classifying, and cataloging books.

"Full length figures . . . 75 feet above the ground . . ." This is an excerpt from a library folio describing the figures of the eighteen men who symbolized the chief contributions to learning and culture to University faculty members in 1923. The figures, done by Allan Clark of New York, are placed across the front of the library in Gothic niches. Each faculty member was asked to suggest eighteen names to be placed on the library. In all 246 names were suggested. Twelve of these received a majority of all the votes cast. The final recommendations included persons contributing to every important field where learning and culture have counted. The figures from left to right are Benjamin Franklin, Grotius, Shakespeare, Dante, Beethoven, Darwin and Goethe. The last two figures are duplicated pictures of Franklin and Beethoven.

Educating physicians is big business and more than fills the time of Dean Edward L. Turner and his faculty of the School of Medicine. Enrollment averages three hundred, with seventy-five in each class. Contracts have been let by the University of Washington Board of Regents for the first unit of the teaching hospital. Excavation for this structure began in July. This first unit of the hospital will house the offices, laboratories and certain teaching adjuncts of the clinical departments of the School of Medicine and will also include a referral out-patient diagnostic and treatment clinic. Because of the lack of facilities in this area for low-income bracket patients in need of psychiatric out-patient care, one entire floor of the structure is being developed for such purposes. The first unit will also include a small in-patient unit of twenty-five research beds. This portion of the future teaching hospital has been designed so as to fit into the overall ultimate plan for an in-patient building housing approximately 300 beds.

The School of Nursing, under the direction of DEAN LILLIAN B. PATTERSON, has expanded its enrollment rapidly in both the basic and the master's programs. Research is being carried on under foundation grants from Kellogg, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the United States Public Health Service.

The United States Public Health Service grant includes research in psychiatric nursing, mental hygiene and nursing curriculum. It is expected that this research will contribute to the development of nursing on a national scale as well as in the State of Washington.

graduate nurses club

The Graduate Nurses' Club of the University of Washington, organized in 1920, is open to all graduate professional nurses registered in the school of Nursing. These nurses are enrolled in advanced programs, majoring in nursing education, public health nursing or industrial nursing. The group is primarily interested in promoting closer relationship between students, other campus organizations, and the nursing faculty. Miss Julia Anderson is this year's faculty adviser.

alpha tau delta

Alpha Tau Delta is a professional nursing sorority with an added stipulation of a 2.55 grade average. Members are from the Nursing School on campus at Harborview and Swedish Hospitals. Basic students and graduates alike are eligible if working for a nursing degree and have been in the School of Nursing two quarters. The main purpose is uniting the nurses at the University in bonds of friendship. Service projects and social events do much to add to this feeling of "United in Service," the motto of the sorority.

"Just like the corner drugstore" is the demonstration pharmacy on Bagley's top floor. The shop's purpose is to give students training under usual pharmacy conditions. Wherever possible actual pharmacy atmosphere is duplicated.

Overlooking traditional Frosh Pond is Bagley Hall, center of the Pharmacy, chemical engineering, and chemistry departments. The fountain in Frosh Pond is a display for the Engineering Open House.

The College of Pharmacy is one of the older colleges on the campus, the first professional courses in pharmacy appearing in the 1894 University catalogue. A four year program leading to the Bachelor of Science degree was offered in 1904. Graduate work was instituted in 1912 leading to the degree of Master of Science, and since 1925 the college has been accepting candidates for the Doctor of Philosophy degree with a major in Pharmacy, Pharmacognosy or Pharmaceutical Chemistry.

The college is a member of the Division of Health Sciences. This division also includes the School of Medicine, Dentistry and Nursing and was constituted to coordinate the teaching and services of the four members.

The Department of Pharmacy maintains a drug service department to serve other schools and departments on the campus. Service courses are provided for the School of Dentistry and the School of Nursing.

A well developed medicinal plant garden together with greenhouses and plant laboratories constitute an important phase of the pharmacognosy program both for undergraduate and graduate study.

A completely equipped laboratory is maintained for service to the State Department of Agriculture and the Washington State Liquor Control Board. Many of the facilities are made available to the Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry.

Lambda Kappa Sigma, a national sorority for women in pharmacy, seeks to promote professional interest and prepare its members for service in the medical profession. The Society was organized in 1913 with 10 members. It now has 32 active chapters with 14 graduate chapters with a total membership of about 3,000.

Chi chapter at the University began as the "Antidote Club" for women in pharmacy and was installed on April 20, 1941. Present membership is 26.

rho chi

Rho Chi's object has been to promote the advancement of the pharmaceutical sciences through the encouragement and recognition of scholarship. In addition to demanding high scholarship of its members the Society brings undergraduate and graduate students together for enjoyment and the exchange of ideas.

Rho Chi's greatest value is that it makes its members more professional, more ethical, and more useful as pharmacists. The Society as a national organization has sought to encourage and promote pharmaceutical research.

The Greek letters "Rho Chi" were selected as emblems of the prescription sign.

american pharmaceutical association

The student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association at the University of Washington was established in 1946.

There are 71 student branches in various Colleges of Pharmacy in the United States, all of which are affiliated with the parent organization with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The purpose of the organization is the elevation of the professional principles in the fields of wholesale, retail and scientific pharmacy.

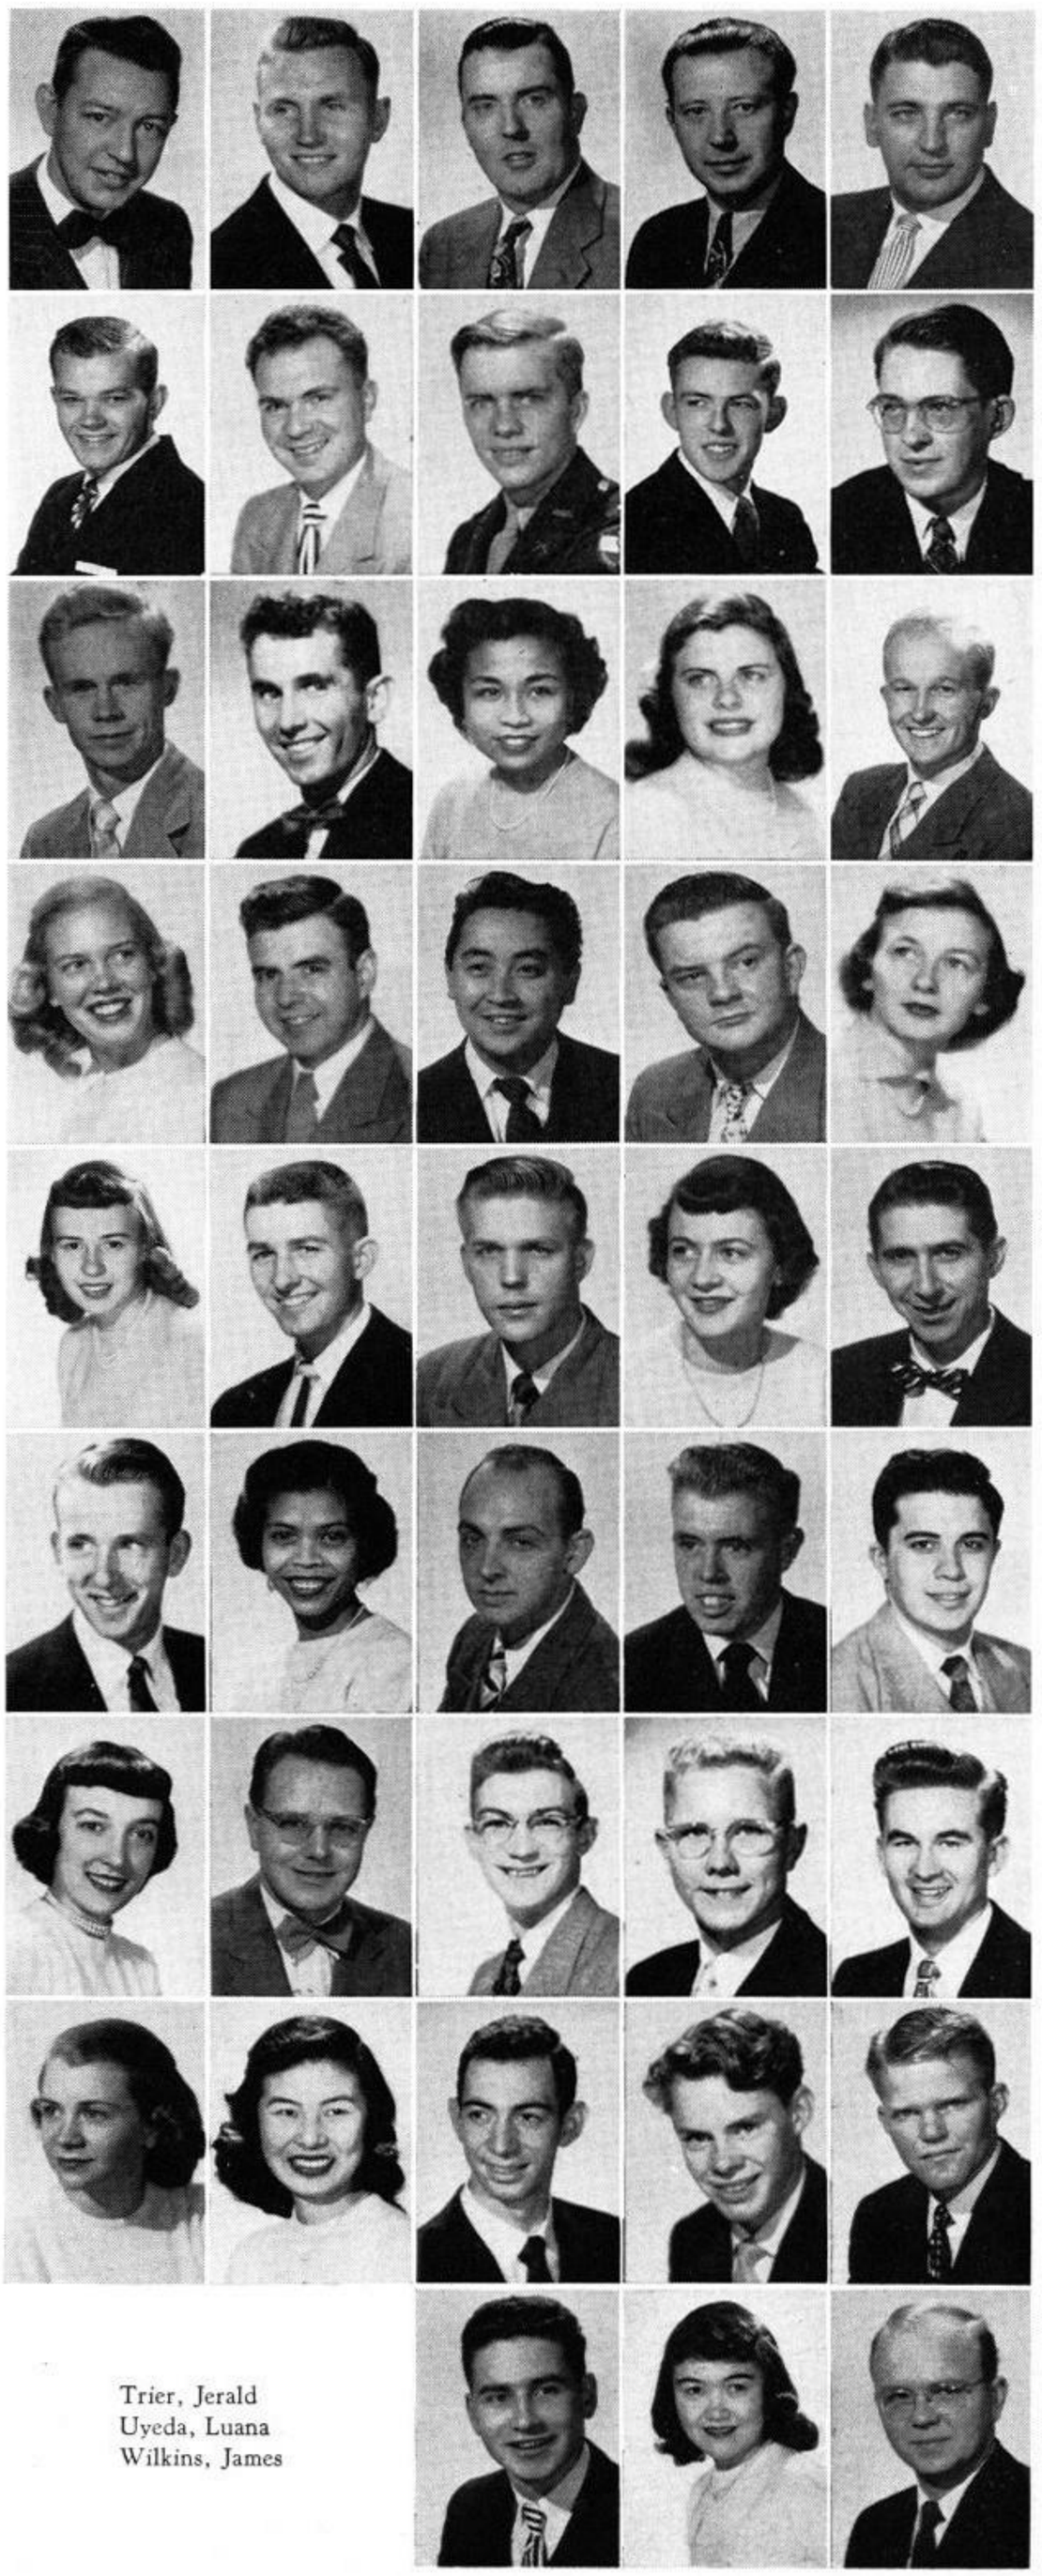

The American Pharmaceutical Association celebrated its centennial last year with a banquet at the Student Union Building.

The national pharmaceutical fraternity, Kappa Psi, was granted a charter in 1916 to twenty pharmacy students. The organization has as its aims the fostering of pharmaceutical research, high scholarship and the improvement of professional standards of pharmacy.

Beta Omicron chapter has reached its full strength and is expanding its scope of activities both professionally and socially. It is one of 44 collegiate chapters located throughout the United States.

reserve officers training program

The University of Washington's Reserve Officers' Training Corps is designed to produce for the military service men of officer capabilities. Every male student of the University, excluding veterans, reservists, and handicapped persons, are required to take two years of ROTC.

The Army ROTC under Colonel Ray O'Day and the Air Force ROTC under Colonel George Dietz offer in addition to basic military science an advanced program open to students in the upper part of their class. Upon graduation from school students are commissioned as Second Lieutenant and must serve for two years of active duty if called and six years in reserve duty. While in advanced study, students are paid approximately twenty-five dollars a month. The Naval ROTC program under Captain Arthur Wood is a four-year course offered through both competitive scholarships and open registration. Those entering on scholarships are given their books and tuition free plus fifty dollars a month. In return they agree to spend three years on active duty upon commissioning as Ensigns, plus five years in reserve duty. Those students not on scholarships must serve two years active and five years reserve duty upon commissioning. They receive no pay other than the ordinary reserve officers pay in their junior and senior years.

The national society of Scabbard and Blade is an honorary organization of Army, Navy and Air Force upper-division cadets and midshipmen on each of over one hundred campuses. Members are selected on the basis of academic achievement, military leadership and the recommendation of their respective commanding officers. Applicants must be in the upper third of their military class and must have qualities of leadership, integrity and honesty. On the social side, Scabbard and Blade holds a dance for members and guests, and sponsors the annual Cadet Ball at the Fort Lawton Officers' Club.

arnold air society

In March of 1949, the Arnold Air Society, a national organization, was established on this campus. In 1951 the Squadron was formally dedicated in honor of jet pilot Douglas Matheson, a former University of Washington student who was killed in Korea.

The national society was named for General H. H. "Hap" Arnold, one of the nation's outstanding pioneer airmen. A fraternal bond among men who will become officers in the Air Force Reserve and a well rounded social background are the goals of this group. Meetings and activities are held semi-weekly for members who are enrolled in the advanced A.F.R.O.T.C program.

Jet pilot, DOUGLAS MATHESON, for whom the Arnold Air Society Squadron was dedicated in 1951, was a former University of Washington student who was killed in Korea.

Compass and Chart, Washington's Naval fraternity, continued to advance its prestige on campus during the past year. Recognized nationally in Navy circles as one of the leading units, the Clark Hall organization is composed of all NROTC members who desire to belong. Membersihp is not compulsory, yet nearly all midshipmen join. C & C sponsors many activities during the year. The "Binnacle," unit newspaper, is one of the most polished NROTC papers in the nation. A large intramural program is carried on and at the present C & C holds several University trophies. The glee club is known throughout campus, and the sailing club, Helm and Halyard, regularly holds sailing parties. Other activities include the rifle and pistol teams, Radio Club, bridge tournaments and noon time entertainment.

Compass and Chart also has an active social calendar. During the year it sponsors a fall informal, occasional picnics and beach parties, and the well known Ring Dance. One of the campus' largest formal, the Ring Dance is held during the winter quarter. In connection with the dance, a queen is chosen from among the dates of the midshipmen. Compass and Chart, in its 27th year on the Washington campus, can well be proud of its position.

Helping spruce up the boats of Helm and Halyard, the Naval sailing club, are Bob Farrell, Bill Burch, Shirley Overby, and Ann Gates.

The pistol team is made up of Gordon McAllister, Ernest Anderson, Dave Phifer, Bob Kramer and Guy Belleman.

In a holiday spirit all year long are, left to right, Harlow Tucker, Maureen Doyle, Laura Paulson, and Jerry Redmond. All-State in basketball for two years while at Walla Walla High School, Harlow joined the Frosh basketball squad and proved to be a real asset. Maureen has served on the AWS Community Service Community, and in high school was Student Body Historian, Songleader, and active in Girls' Club. Former Girls' Club President at Ballard, Laura took over the chairmanship of the Frosh King and Queen Contest. She was also Secretary of Student Council and of her Junior Class at Ballard. Jerry's outstanding performance on the football field at Cleveland resulted in his prominent position on the Frosh football team.

The Freshman Class entered the University of Washington, donned their green beanies, and set to work to make the Class of 1956 one of the greatest to ever go through the University.

Early in the year a Freshman Council was organized, and under the leadership of the four officers and this Council. the Class began their participation in activities at the University.

Probably the biggest event of the year for the freshman was Frosh Day. With Jack Scott taking over the duties of general chairman, the freshman put on a most successful Frosh Day. The annual event, to the tune of "Hats off to the Frosh," was complete with a torch parade the night before, contests, the tug-of-war with the sophomores over Frosh Pond, the selling of candied apples, the king and queen contest; and to top the schedule of events—an all University dance at the HUB.

Louie Guterson took the reins in putting the freshmen through their paces for Song and Stunt Night, and with the use of a Western theme, the freshmen again stacked up very well with the other class competition.

With the close of the school year '52-'53, the freshmen were well acquainted with their new home, and are now ready to take an active part in its functions for the next three years.

Nancy Bratton, Freshman Class Secretary, came to college with much past experience in writing minutes and notetaking. At Olympia she was Secretary of the Student Body and Class Secretary for two years. Nancy's college activities include Activities Pool and Freshman Representative on Home Ec Council.

Busily cleaning the mural in the HUB lobby are Sandy Lederman, Don Lockwood, and Betty Daily. Sandy was most outstanding in football at Santa Monica, California, and was chosen to play for All-League and All-California Inter-Scholastic Federation. With this background Sandy is certainly a valuable addition to present and future Husky football. From Roosevelt, Don was President of the Activity Honorary and on Student Body Cabinet. He is also a member of Frosh Crew. Betty came from Roosevelt as former Student Body Treasurer, and then wasted no time in becoming active on Frosh Day Committees, Varsity Ball and Sophomore Carnival.

Waiting in the "chow line" are Jack Scott, Betty Breshears, and Phil Nowell. Jack, Chairman of Frosh Day, was President of ASB at Ballard, as well as Boys' Club, Freshman and Junior Class Prexzy. At Roosevelt, Betty was a member of Girls' Club Cabinet and ASR Committee Chairman. In her freshman year at college she belonged to ASUW Activities Bureau and worked on AWS-AMS Elections. Also from Roosevelt, Phil played Varsity golf and served on Sophomore Interviewers. More rerently he has been active in Junior IFC.

Butch Thomas, a graduate of Roosevelt High School, capably took over the top executive position as Freshman President. His past high school experience included Boys' Club Cabinet, Advisory Council, and Activities Honorary member. Although his executive duties require active membership on the Board of Control, Butch also found time to turn out for Frosh Crew.

Freshman finances are handled by Joy Price as Class Treasurer. Joy's high school activities at Roosevelt were numerous and included Girls' Club Cabinet, Assemblies Chairman, Golden Spurs, Song Leader, Campus Day Chairman, and Sophomore Treasurer. Her first year in college she worked on ASUW International Relations Committee and Husky Winter Sports Club.

Monna Gahegan, Vice-President, is also a graduate of Roosevelt High School where she was Vice-President of Girls' Club, a Song Leader, and a member of Golden Spurs. Monna's college activities so far include Frosh Council Chairman and Activities Bureau.

Making a clean sweep of business at the Hub are Larry Ramm, Anita Luvera and Helen Zobrist. Distinguishing himself in basketball on the Junior Varsity squad last year, Larry moved up to Varsity and will be eligible for two more years of play. Anita was chairman of the International Area, Program Panel, ASUW Election Banquet, and a member of W-Key and Sigma Epsilon Sigma. Helen's activities include ASUW Interviewers, House Announcements, chairman of Hub Receptionists, and W-Key.

Exercising their Boy Scout training in fire-building are, left to right, Clarence "Buzzy" Anderson, Warren Miller, Stan Schoonover, and Sandy Gorfkle. "Buzzy" has been very active on News Bureau and the "Hubub" Staff, and is a member of the Husky Swim Team. He was Publicity Chairman of Campus Forums, besides devoting much time on Frosh Day activities including Freshman elections. Warren was Chairman of both Sophomore Carnival and Homecoming Signs, and also a member of Purple Shield. Moving up from secretary of Junior IFC to treasurer of Inter-Fraternity Council, Stan also worked on the Frosh Day Contest Committee. Sandy was Vice-Chairman of OA, served on the Steering Committee, and was a member of the Organizations Assembly itself.

Realizing they had to work hard to overcome the traditional sophomore jinx, the Class of 1955 set its sights high to acmomplish just this end.

The organizing of a thirteen-member Sophomore Advisory Council was the initial step toward class unity. The Council's first action was to set up a Sophomore Class Project of cleaning out Frosh Pond. The project was very successful, and the first one to test the clean pond was the newly elected Frosh president.

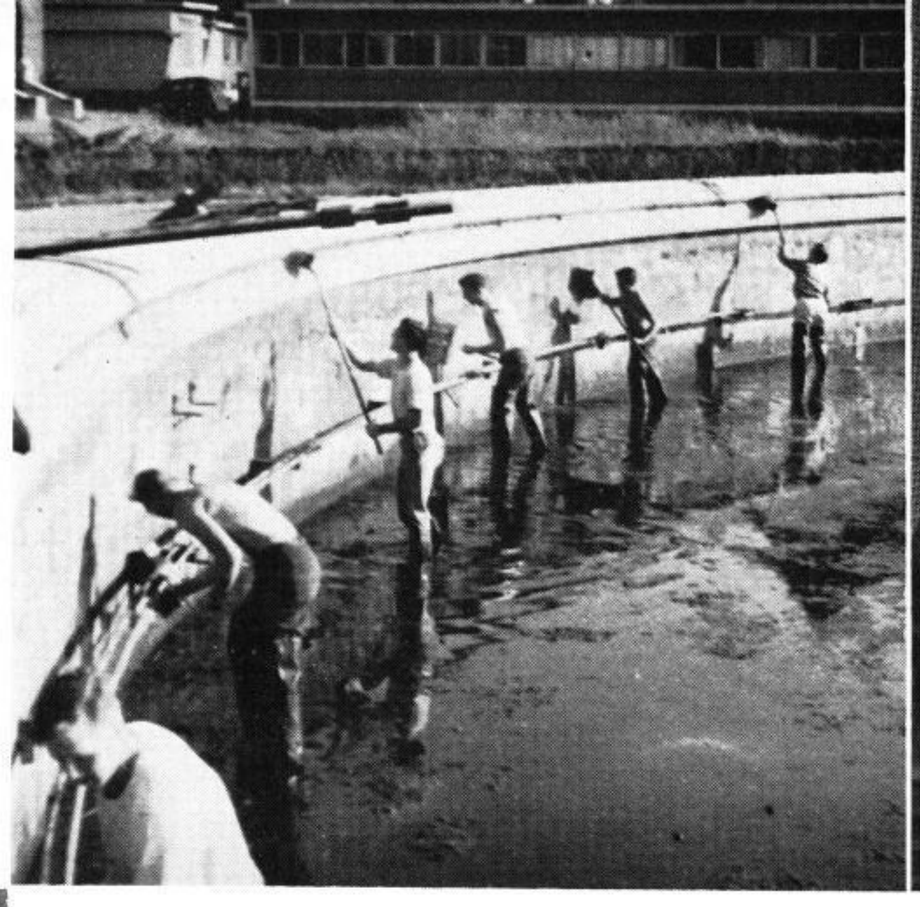

Winter quarter found the Sophomores in the thick of activities starting with their hilarious version of a "Romantic Adventure" in Song and Stunt Night. Next, the Sophomore Leadership Conference took the spotlight and potential leaders of tomorrow had a chance to "rub elbows" with some of today's elite.

A special Sophomore "Tug-of-War" Committee was created, and they made things very interesting for the Frosh at the annual tug-of-war contest across Frosh Pond on Frosh Day.

Finally, the Sophs wound up the year with the traditional Sophomore Carnival. This year the Sophomores had to wage an unexpected battle even to have the Carnival; but the fact that there was a show exemplifies the fighting spirit of the Class and is proof to all that this is truly a fine Class.

Marikate Tarbill*, Sophomore Secretary, is a versatile girl with many activities. Besides her many secretarial duties, Marikate devoted much time as Chairman of ASUW News Bureau, Publicity Chairman of Sophomore Carnival, and as a member of W-Key.

Cleaning out Frosh Pond was one of the most successful projects of the Sophomore Class. Above are shown some of the enthusiastic volunteers with scrub brushes and hip boots who did a great service to the University and at the same time got a lot of enjoyment out of the task.

Here's a happy threesome as Herb Mead "cuts-in" on dancing partners Gladyne Lucchesini and Bob Lewis. Herb served as vice-president of the Freshman Class last year, and later was chairman of Vocational Conference, Village Band Contest, and Program Panel representative. Gladyne has been active on Program Panel, was chairman of Hospitality, and ASUW Cabaret Dance Chairman. An outstanding swimmer as a freshman, Bob excels as an accomplished backstroker on the Husky swimming team.

President of the Sophomore Class is Bill Wilson, who also served most capably as Prexy of last year's Freshman Class. In addition to these executive duties, Bill managed to serve on ASUW Athletic and Publicity Committees, and is a member of Purple Shield.

Looks like a "good deal" for Carol Batchelder, Sophomore Treasurer—at any rate, she has a good deal of activities to her credit. Carol worked on Homecoming, served as General-Secretary for OA, was an ASUW Interviewer, AROTC Sponsor, and a member of W-Key.

Graham Molitor, as Sophomore Vice-President, is also very active in IFC and AMS. Serving on IFC Executive Council and AMS Advisory Board, Graham is IFC Greek Letter Editor and Chairman of IFC and AMS High School Relations Committees.

purple shield

The Purple Shield is a unique organization of college underclassmen. It was organized in 1925 by a group of students and faculty leaders to recognize achievement in scholarship and the accomplishment of leadership in the extracurricular life of the University. Its purpose was to be "an underclassman scholastic and activity honorary designed to bring together, in friendly union, the calibre of men who have shown themselves to be leaders in their respective fields of endeavor during their first years at the University. These men under common bond of organization and mutual respect, through interactions and common purpose, endeavor to give of their own character, and to gain from the other, so that sincere friendships and a thorough enjoyment of their college career will result."

The Purple Shield initiates new members twice a year, once during fall quarter and also during the spring quarter. New members must have attended at least two quarters at the University, compiling a 2.67 or better cumulative grade point, with a 3.00 point during one of the quarters. In addition, he must have taken part in several activities of the University in order to be eligible for membership.

As an underclasswomen's activities and scholastic honorary, W-Key strives to carry out its purpose of "Service to Washington." As well as being a goal which underclasswomen may work toward, W-Key gives its members the opportunity of meeting and working with women students in many different phases of student government. During the past year, W-Key members have cooperated with other organizations on sophomore carnival, the president's tea, the Korean clothing drive, and the Red Cross drive.

Getting ready to "shoot" is Maxine Softky, while Doreen Brackett awaits her turn and Jerry Force gives some expert advice on the art of pool. Never "behind the eight-ball" in activities, Maxine has served as AWS House Announcements Chairman, Sophomore Song and Stunt Night Secretary, and is also on AWS Council. As W-Key President, Doreen can rarely take time out for a game of pool, since that is a full-time job. She was also a member of AWS Council and Chairman of AWS Community Service Committee. Jerry capably took on the job of Junior Dance Chairman and, with the help of his committee, presented one of the most successful social functions of the year. Jerry was also active in the ASUW Dance Program Area.

Taking a well-deserved "coffee-break" are Dom Driano, Marian MacFarlane and Joan Packard. As last year's Sophomore Carnival Chairman, Dom was well qualified to take over the duties of Homecoming Chairman last fall, doing a beautiful job. He has also worked on Varsity Ball and Campus Chest committees. Marian was made chairman of Song and Stunt Night after diligently working on the committee last year, as well as being a member of the AMS-AWS Art Committee. Joan's many activities included AWS Activities Committee, AWS Concerts Committee, ASUW Activities Bureau, and Y Council.

The Junior Class began the year with one of the most successful Junior Dances ever held. The theme of the dance was a "Pogo Party," and some 700 people attended the gala affair at the Palladium. An old tradition of the Junior Class was revived with the selection of the Ideal Junior Couple—Mollie Odell and Dean Chambers. Walt Kelly, the originator of Pogo, judged the contest. Jerry Force was Chairman of the Dance. Sub-chairmen were: Pat Hatton, Eleanor Baker, Jeanette Barger, Marianne Merritt, Ronda Barnard, Anita Mainwaring, Ralph Holt, George Harding, and Alex Crewdson.

Winter quarter the Class of 1954 carried on its tradition of making a fine showing in Song and Stunt Night. The skit, under the direction of Marian MacFarlane, wa sa satire on a science fiction magazine.

A new project was undertaken by the Junior Class. Two scholarships, under the chairmanship of Marianne Merritt, have been given to a junior boy and girl whose academic achievements and need were sufficient to warrant this recognition.

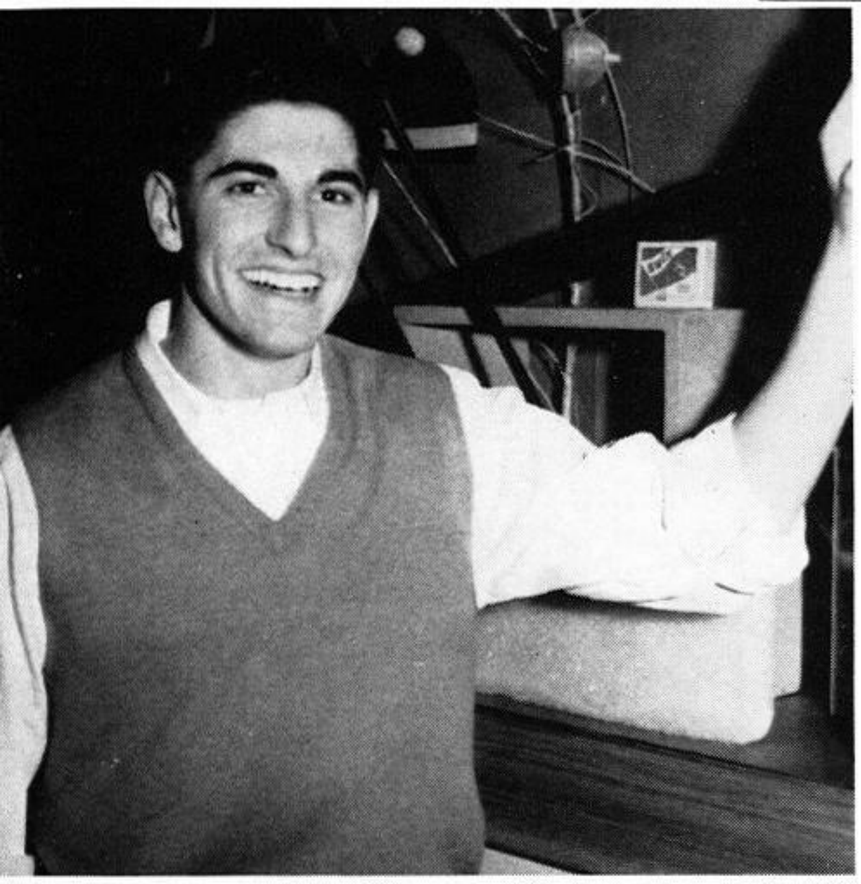

The Junior Class looks back on the past year with a good deal of pride in its accomplishments, and is looking forward to the big year ahead. With members in sports, activities and politics, the Juniors are well equipped to carry on Washington's traditions.

Pausing at the drinking fountain is Shirley Goggins, Junior Class Secretary. A natural-born note-taker, Shirley was secretary of Homecoming and Varsity Ball and Sophomore Carnival last year. To serve as Welcome Week Chairman next fall, Shirley is also chairman of ASUW Receptionists and a member of W-Key.

Two outstanding Varsity football "he-men," George Black and Jim Noe, close their books for a minute to talk over some pigskin plays. George, offensive end, and Jim, Husky tackle, both saw plenty of action in the football field and each won acclaim in his particular position, as well as being warded varsity letters. Big "W" Club is fortunate to have both George and Jim as members.

Kay Miller and Kathy Long are being serenaded on the Hub piano by none other than Roland "Iturbi" Halle. AWS seems to be Kay's "theme-song" in activities as she has served as treasurer and frosh council chairman. Kathy was Sophomore Class Secretary, and a member of News Bureau, AWS Concerts Committee, and Scholarship Banquet Committee. Both Kay and Kathy are members of W-Key. Roland plays basketball and baseball and still finds time to be an active member of Purple Shield and Oval Club.

Rising from Sophomore Vice-President to President of the Junior Class Frank Parker may be given credit for guiding the juniors through a busy and successful year An amiable and well-liked prexy, Frank has also taken part in Malamute activities and is a member of Oval Club.

An expert financier by now, Betty MacDonald, Junior Treasurer, gained experience in money matters as Sophomore Treasurer last year. As Chairman of the AWS Elections Committee and OA Recording Secretary, Betty still found time to head the Summer Program Planning Committee and remain active in W-Key.

Jackie Claypool, Junior Vice-President, has a long list of past and present activities to her credit. Chairman of the Homecoming Badge Committee and the Sophomore Carnival Dance Committee, Shirley has also worked on Song and Stunt Night, was Hub Receptionists Sub-Chairman, and a member of W-Key.

malamutes

Building school spirit is the primary purpose of the Malamutes. They attempt to fulfill this purpose by sponsoring the yell team, putting on the Homecoming and several other rallies, as well as planning and presenting card stunts during the football season. Other activities include the selling of rooters' hats, and the training of Waski, the Husky mascot. Songfest, one of the year's outstanding events, is presented every spring by the Malamutes. In many activities the organization works with the Women's Rally Club and several other campus organizations. The club also presents several social events each year for its members.

Membership is open to freshmen, who are taken in every fall as "invites." After one quarter of service, pledges are chosen. Active members are selected during the sophomore year.

Hullquist, Karen
McCorkle, Joyce
Schmid, Barbara

Founded in 1920, Rally girls has assumed a position of prestige on the University of Washington campus. The white skirts and white sweaters are seen working throughout the year in every phase of campus life. Fall brings the girls to the football games to sell pom-poms, lead the cheering and singing and help the Malamutes arouse school spirit. The girls play a part in greeting incoming teams at the airport or depots and show them our spirit at Washington. We also add color at rallies and send-offs for our own Washington teams.

Undercover we meet each week to play coming events such as a joint Homecoming breakfast with Malamutes, painting signs for card stunts and helping plan stunts and entertainment at rallies and games.

Winter finds our yell leaders and song leaders on the basketball floor cheering our team on to bigger and better victories. This year, invites, pledges and actives with the help of Malamutes took over the added project of selling Student Directories on campus.

Spring finds us working jointly with Malamutes to uphold the tradition of Songfest.

sigma epsilon sigma

Sigma Epsilon Sigma, the underclasswomen's scholastic honorary, is composed of all sophomore women who have maintained a 3.5 grade point throughout their freshman year. The members are active only during their sophomore year but remain members throughout their college career. One of the activities of this group is to serve as hostesses at the annual president's reception honoring outstanding freshmen in the fall. Another activity of importance is their sucker sale in the spring, the purpose of which is to provide a scholarship for a deserving freshman woman.

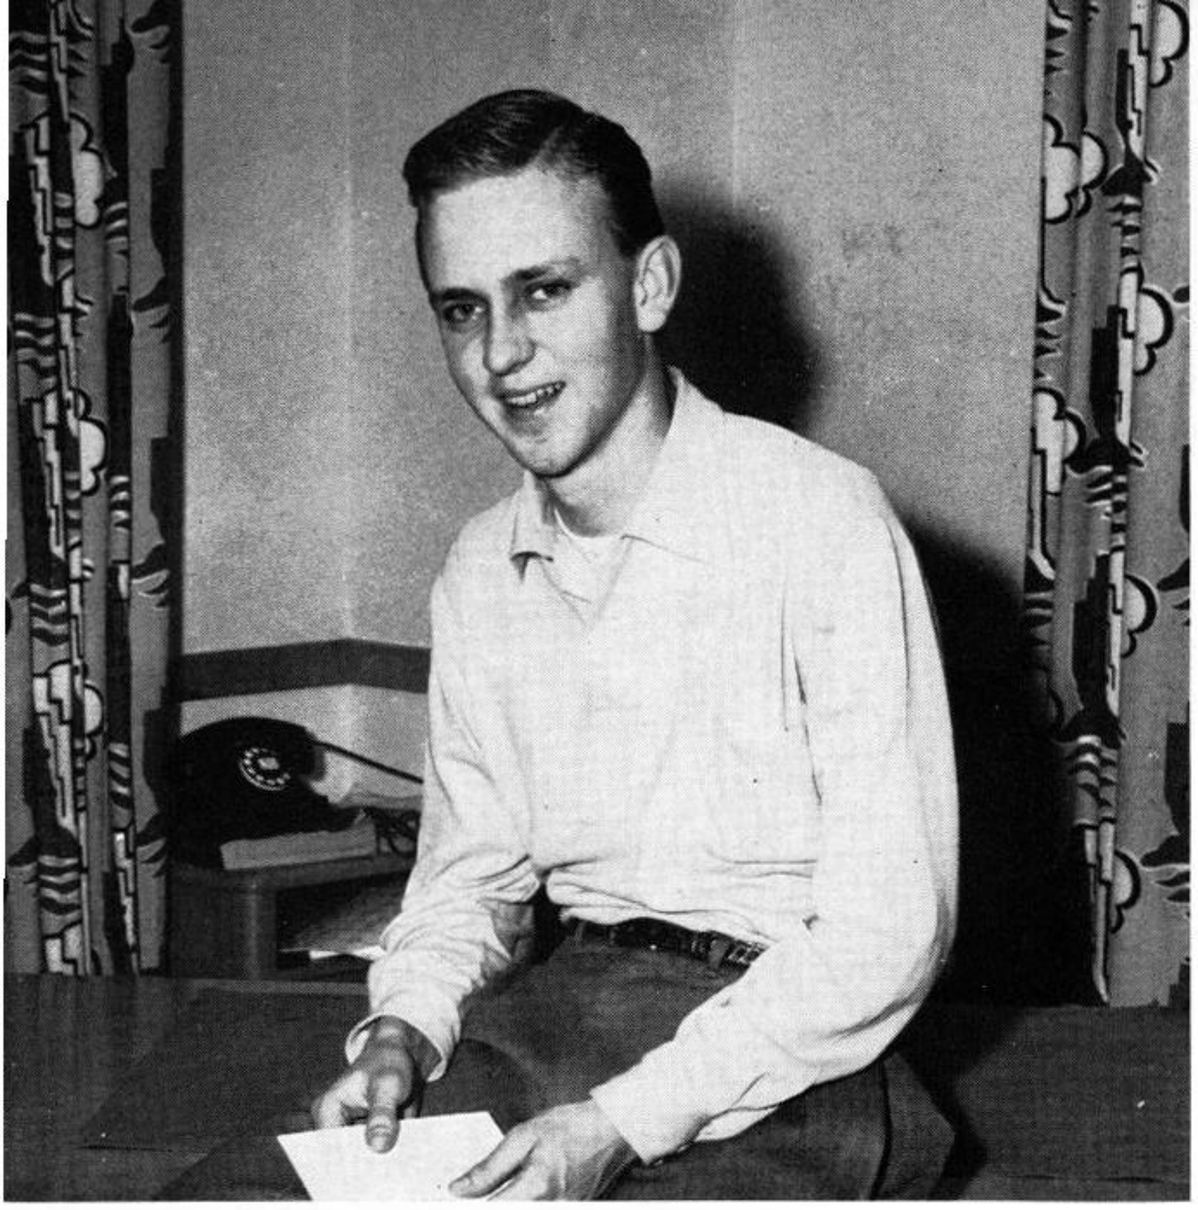

BEN HAYES big smiles comes because he knows LOU CLARKE can't really play the piano. Lou, who was treasurer of her sophomore class, was president of AWS during her senior year. She is a member of the Board of Control, Mortar Board, Totem club, W-Key, Sigma Epsilon Sigma, and Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociology honorary. She was also chairman of Varsity Ball contest committee and YWCA Cabinet member. "The most tremendous thing that ever happened to me," said Ben about the Dean Condon Award which he recently received. He is a member of Fir Tree, Oval club, Purple Shield, and Scabbard and Blade. He has been Junior IFC Secretary, president of his sophomore class, ASUW Second Vice-President, chairman of Program Panel, Board of Control member, Bookstore Board member, and winner of the Frederick and Nelson scholarship.

As the Class of 1953 graduates, the students carry with them a lasting memory of four momentous years spent at the University; years filled with studying, along with a wide range of outside activities.

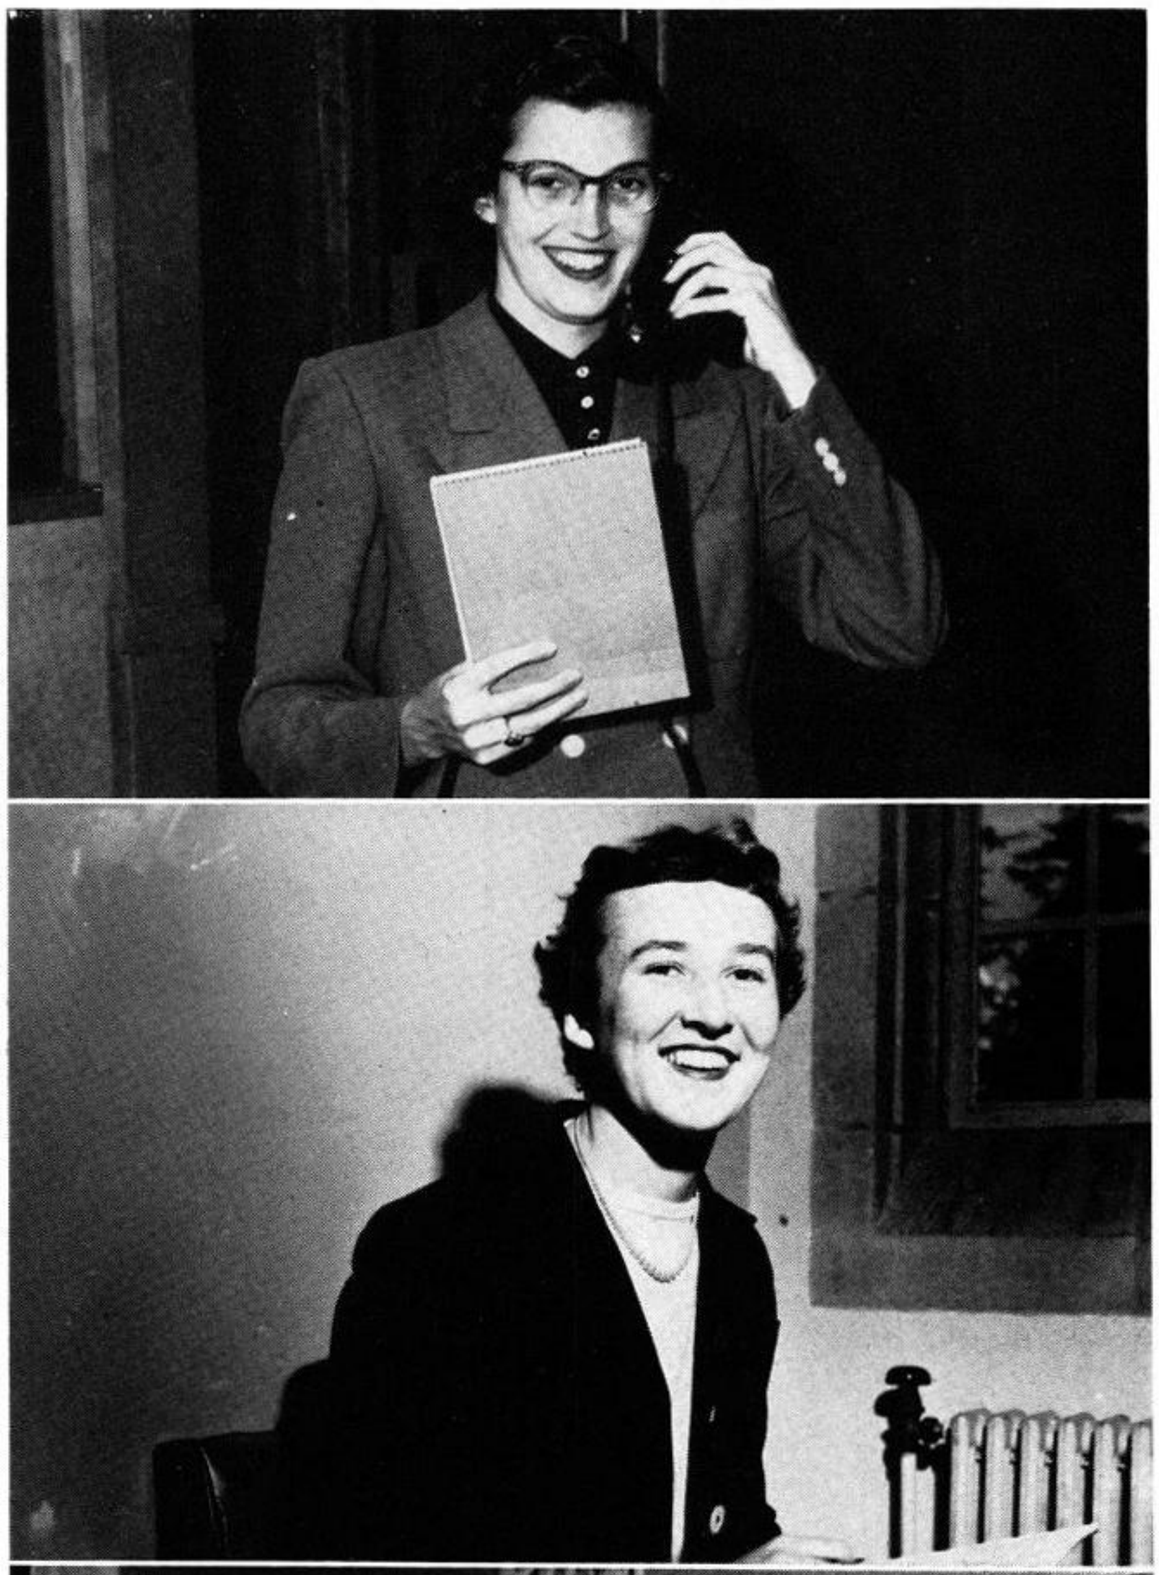

As graduates, the seniors look back on such activities as Homecoming, Song and Stunt Night, Senior Week, and last of all the Senior Prom—a memorable conclusion to a college career.

The seniors leave the campus feeling confident that they have added their part toward making Washington truly a "University of a Thousand Years."

PETE TOUHY, Senior Class President, rose in rank from the office of Vice-President of the Junior Class last year. Along with serving as Secretary of Malamutes, Pete is also a member of Oval Club and the Board of Control. Rounding out his busy college career, Pete took over the Chairmanship of Homecoming Signs and worked on the Varsity Ball.

A very capable Senior Vice-President is NAN KNUDSON, shown here busily making telephone appointments. Besides serving as Chairman of Welcome Week for 1951, Nan was also a member of W-Key and Totem Club, proving that scholarship and activities can successfully be combined in producing class leaders.

Senior Class Secretary, JOANNE TORNEY, smiles radiantly to show that she really enjoys her present office position. An extremely active girl, JoAnne is President of Totem Club and AWS Treasurer. In addition to this obviously full schedule, she has also been active in W-Key and Rally Girls while maintaining high scholarship in her studies.

Handling finances is JOANNE SCHWARY, Senior Class, Treasurer. In addition to taking care of money affairs, JoAnne is a member of Totem Club, and has served on various committees, working on class projects that came up during her busy college career. Presently, activities of the Senior Class have kept JoAnne almost constantly on the move, and she devotes all her time contributing to the smooth operation of class affairs.

may day

Chosen to reign over the May Day festivities for 1952 were May Day King and Queen Jim Warsinske, of Sigma Chi, and Arlene Sundquist, Alpha Chi Omega. They were crowned at the May Day dance held in the Hub ballroom.

Other events of the day included the faculty-student baseball game, in which the faculty scored 11 to 10 to win over the students. The engraved spatula, first prize for the pie baking contest, went to Peggy Brady, Beta Theta Pi cook. Eating his way to victory in the pie eating contest, Jerry Rogers, Theta Chi, received an engraved pie plate.

mortar board tolo

"The Emerald City" was the theme of the 1952 Mortar Board tolo held April 26 in the Hub ballroom. During intermission the new Mortar Board pledges were introduced and the tolo king, Charles Reed, was awarded Toto, a black terrier, who immediately disappeared and hasn't been seen since.

The bandstand from which Bob Hawkes and his orchestra played for the crowd of 330 couples was decorated with an emerald green castle backdrop constructed by Mortar Board actives.

Strange characters from the "Land of Oz" appeared on campus the week preceding Tolo to remind students of the coming event.

King Charles Reid posed with Libby Charnley for his official photograph shortly after being presented with a shiny new crown and a cute black door prime named "Toto."

Proud new wearers of the Mortar Board shared the spotlight with the King during intermission.

Four first prizes were awarded at the seventeenth annual All-University Song Fest in May. Blaine Hall won the small ensemble division for the second straight year, while Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Kappa Psi took first in the mixed groups. Alpha Delta Phi copped the Men's division, and Austin Hall received the Women's award.

Sponsored by Malamutes and the Rally Girls, the Song Fest was held in the Quad. Judging was based on interpretation, tone, technique, and organization.

Climaxing the evening was the announcement of the pledges to Fir Tree, Senior men's activity honorary; and the announcement of Lee Levy as Mr. Formal of 1952.

Gamma Phi's and SAE's all "blacked-out" for their "Uncle Tammy's Cabin" theme.

soph carnival

More than 5000 people were present the evening of May 17 to watch the U.W.'s annual Sophomore Carnival. Massed for their review were thirty-three booths each displaying a different theme.

Gamma Phi Beta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won first place in the doubles division. Second place went to Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Upsilon. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Gamma Delta placed third.

In the women's singles competition Kappa Delta won first, Phi Mu second, and the Women's Residence Halls third.

Sigma Nu placed first in the men's singles, Zeta Psi second, and Phi Kappa Tau third.

Kappa Delt's Can-Can Line-up highlighted their winning "Salon de Coiffure."

Sigma Nu's exposed life at the University to win first place in men's singles.

On the shoulders of the Soph Carnival committee, and Dom Driano, chairman, rested the responsibility of a successful carnival.

The Theta Chi's and Pi Beta Phi's presented a colorful "Academy Award" theme.

Phi Mu's with their second place winner in the women's division.

Alpha Phi "rabbits" are pulled from a Delta Chi derby in a magician's theme.

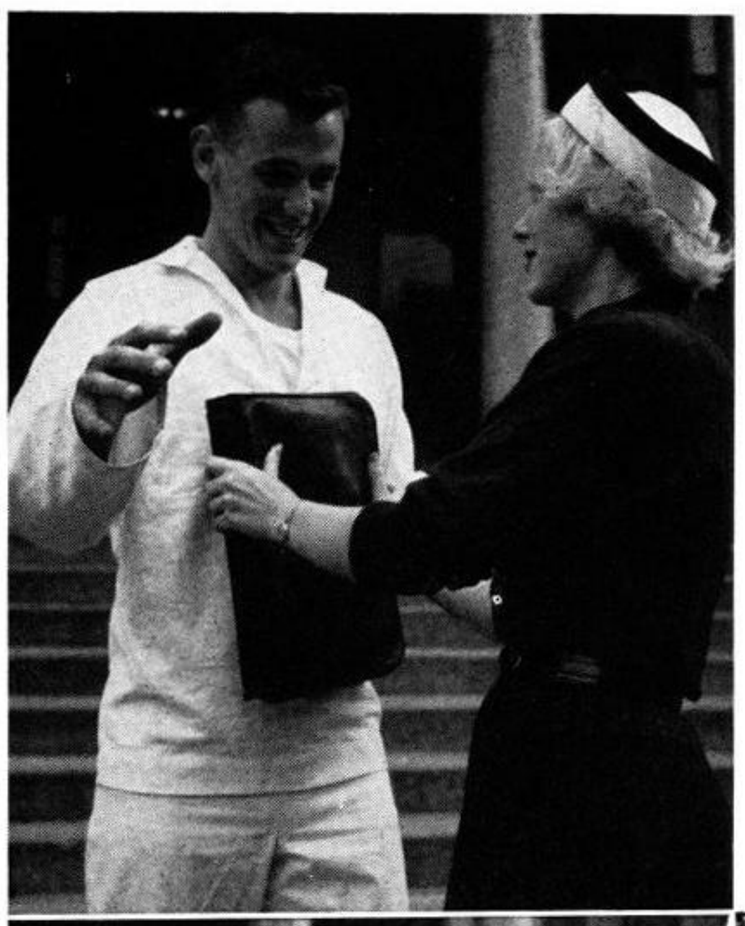

Kappa's and Fiji's won third place with their theme, "Under the Sea."

"The Greatest Show on Earth" by Alpha Delta Pi's and Chi Psi's.

Many acts and much talent was evident in the Alpha Gam's and Alpha Delt's display.

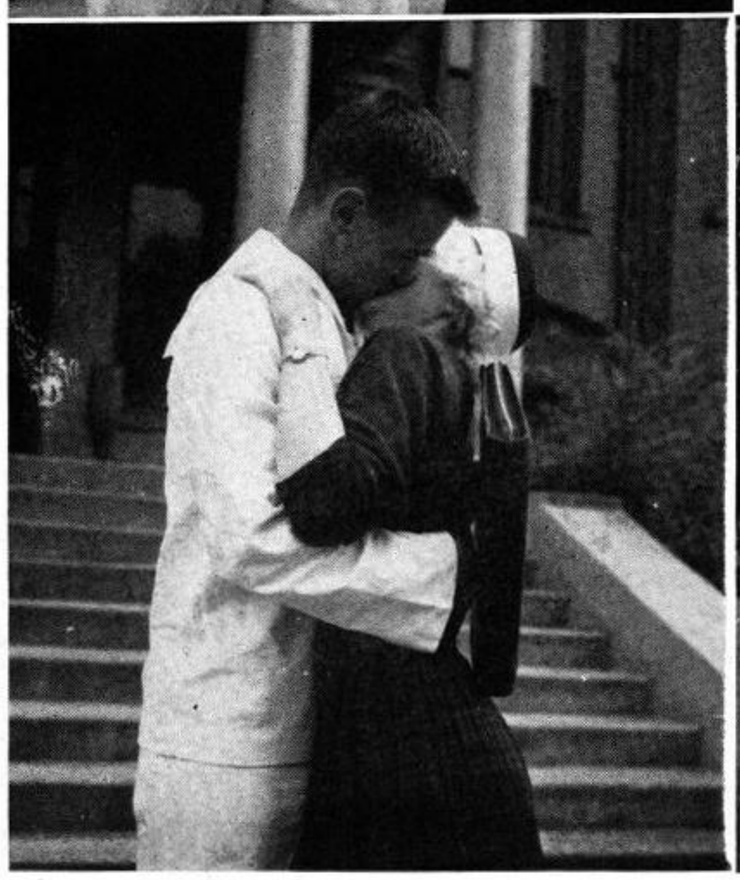

middy day

Brightly painted swabbies—one ear red and one ear green—found their initiation was no punishment at all last spring. Compass & Chart, national Navy ROTC honorary, issued 131 freshmen—or "scum," as they are better known—oars and anchors to be carried to all classes. Between classes the "scum" placed their hats on nearby girls and rewarded them with a kiss.

The "scum" also took an orderly march into the depth of frosh pond. Climax of the day was the kissing contest to see which freshman had the greatest future in the Navy. Bill Wilson copped this distinction.

Taking part in the review ceremonies were Air Force ROTC Coed Sponsor Alberta Warburton, Army ROTC Honorary Colonel Janet McDonald, and Navy ROTC Color Girl Kathy Wallace.

governor's day

Governor Arthur Langlie officially opened the annual Governor's Day program with a short speech which was followed by a marching review of 3,000 ROTC cadets and midshipmen.

During the ceremonies 50 awards were presented to the outstanding military students by the governor and acting president H. P. Everest. The four most significant awards went to Army Cadet Lt. Col. Ernest Pogge, Air Force Col. Herbert Wilkes, Navy Midshipman Lt. Donald Berg and Lt. J.G. Dwain Colby.

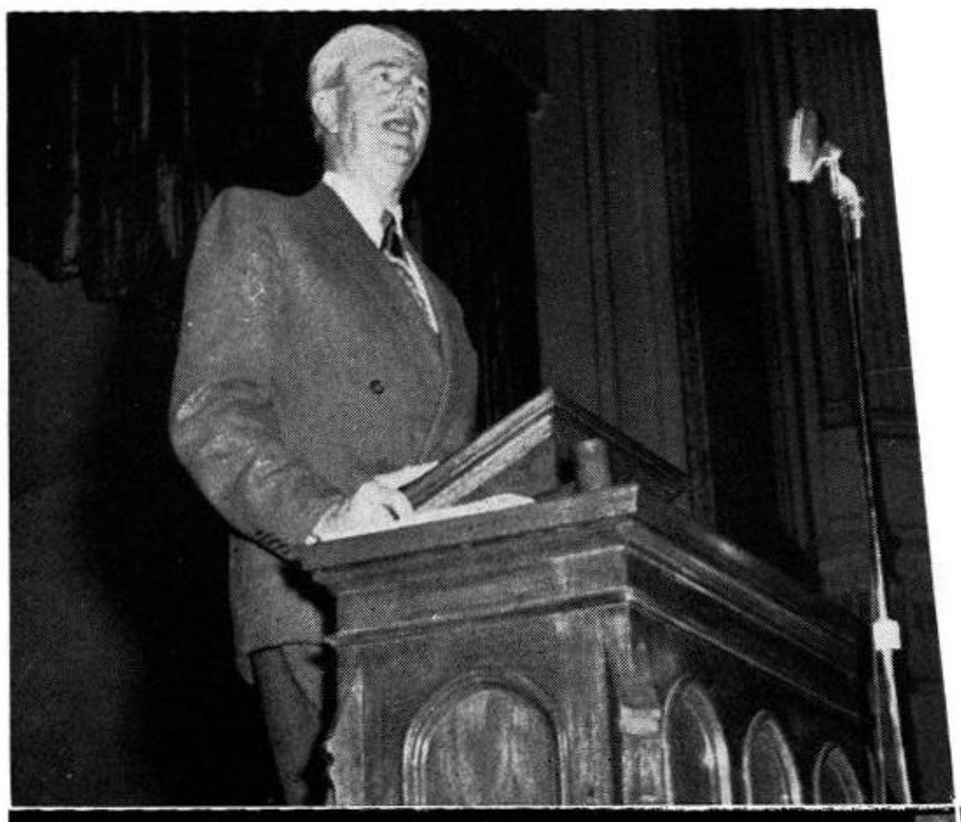

Governor Arthur B. Langlie spoke briefly at the beginning of the ceremony.

The Army's official color guard led the parade of cadets past the reviewing stand.

Students of the political science department sponsored a mock political convention in Meany Hall, May 21 and 22. Main speakers for the event were General Albert C. Wedemeyer and Under Secretary of Agriculture Clarence McCormick.

When the balloting began Eisenhower led the first ballot with nearly one-third of the voters in his support. However, since a two-thirds majority was necessary and the Taft forces would not weaken, Governor Earl Warren was finally awarded the nomination on a compromise ballot. Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois was nominated as the vice-presidential candidate.

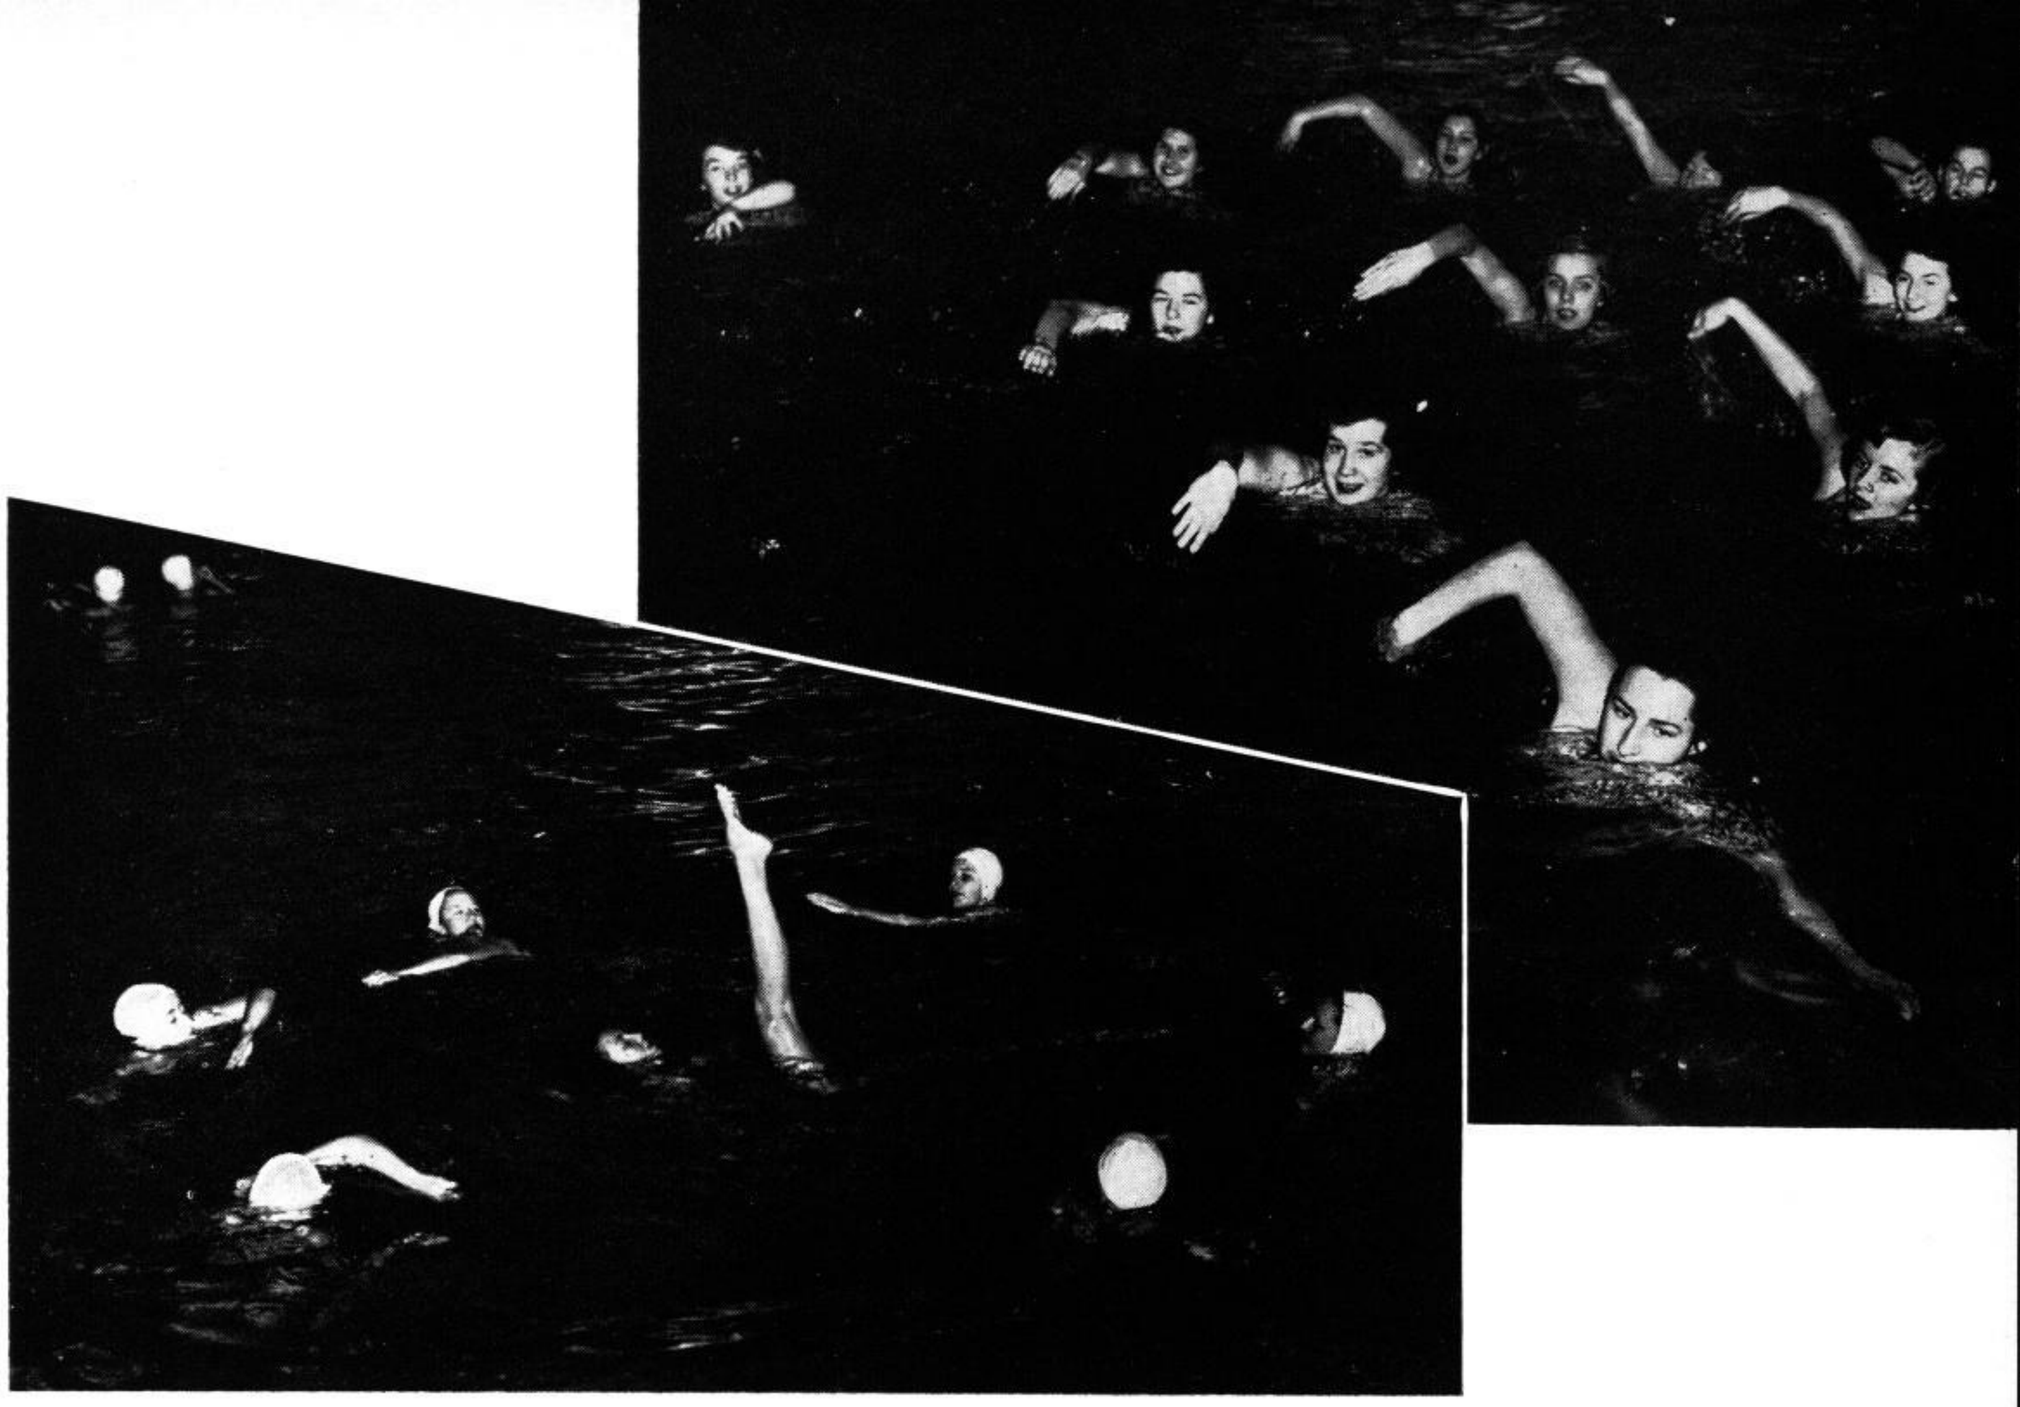

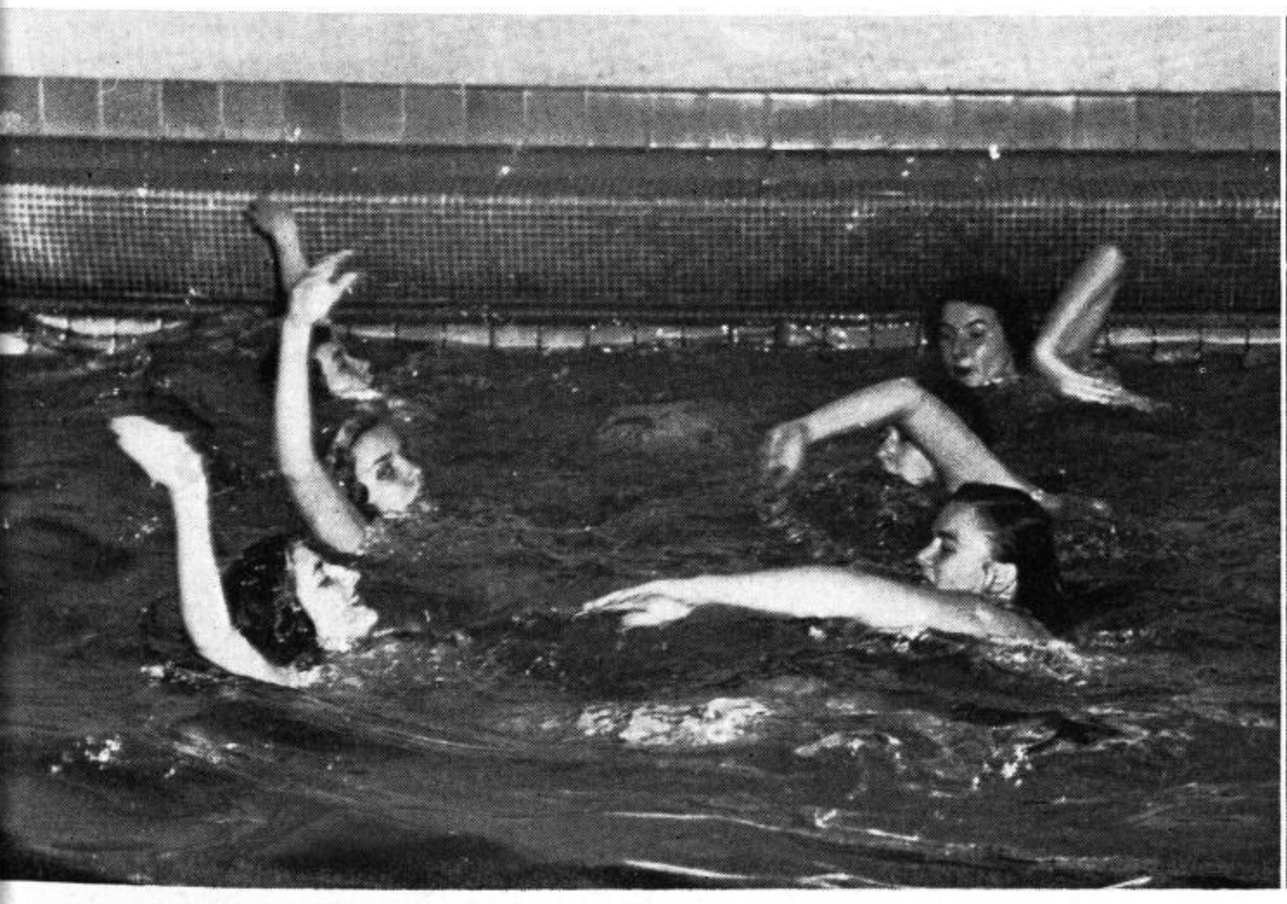

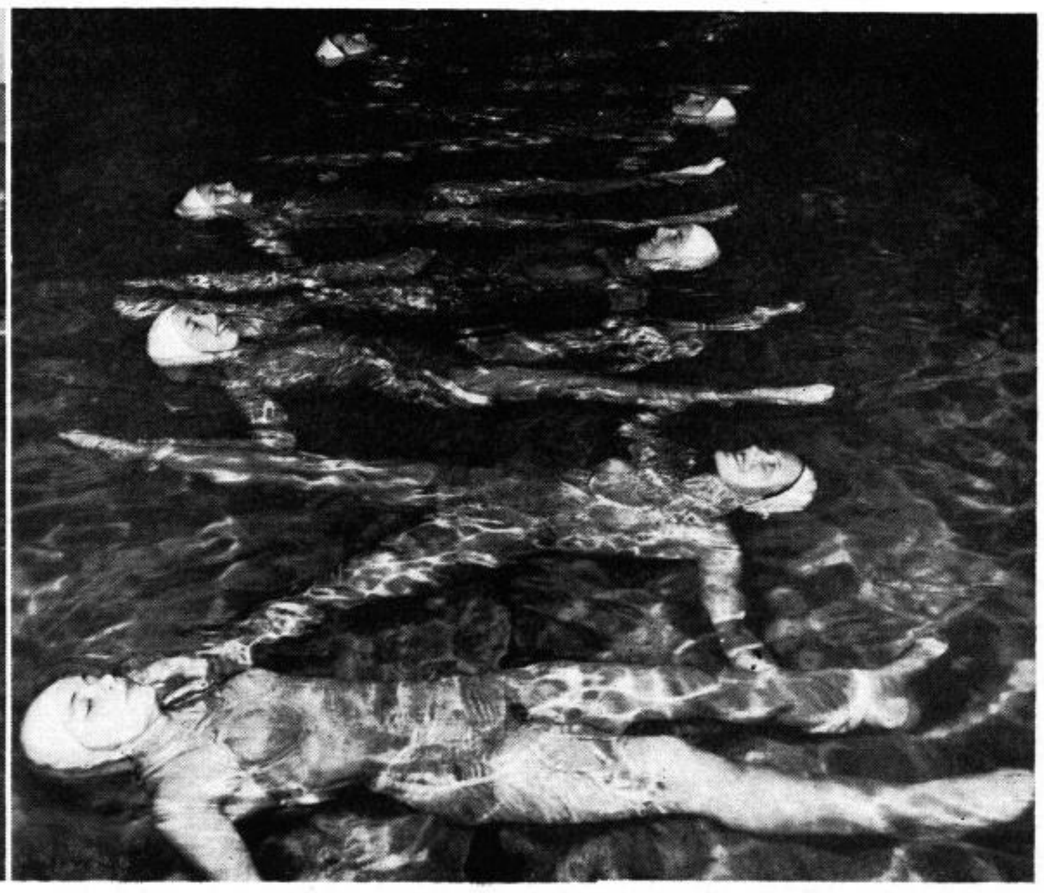

silver fish

Silver Fish, the women's swimming honorary, chooses its members each fall at tryouts which invite all University women. For those who don't make the honorary there is an auxiliary group called "The Guppies" which welcomes anyone interested in swimming. Each spring the Silver Fish combine with the Husky Swim Club to present a swim show featuring water ballet and diving exhibitions.

elections

The largest number of voters in the history of the University turned out to elect F. M. "Spud" Bunker as their ASUW president. Spud, a dark horse, ran on a "common man" platform.

Elected to other ASUW offices were Art Martin, first vice-president; Diane Cummins, second vice-president and Liz Lovested, secretary.

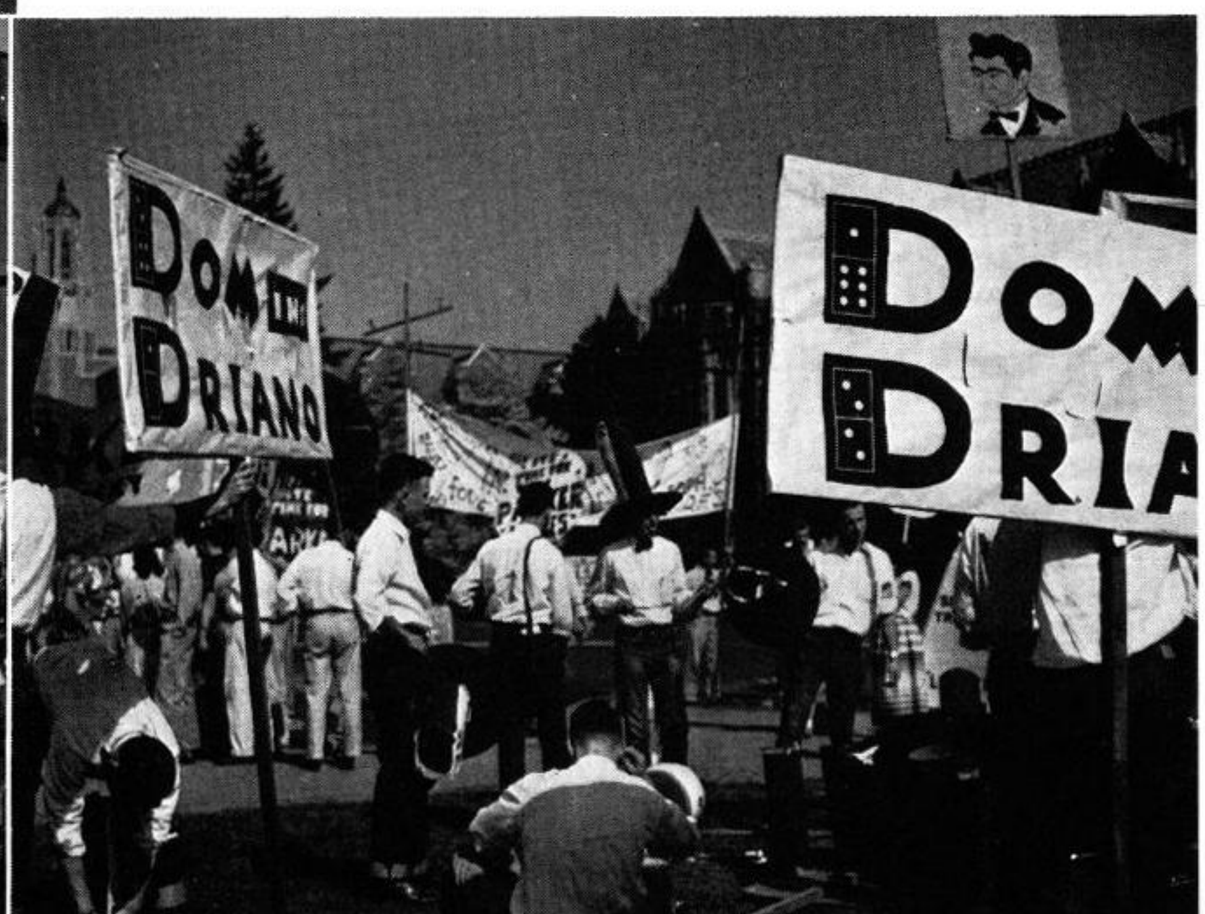

Senior officers were Pete Touhy, president; Nan Knudson, vice-president; Joanne Torney, secretary and Joanne Schwary, treasurer.

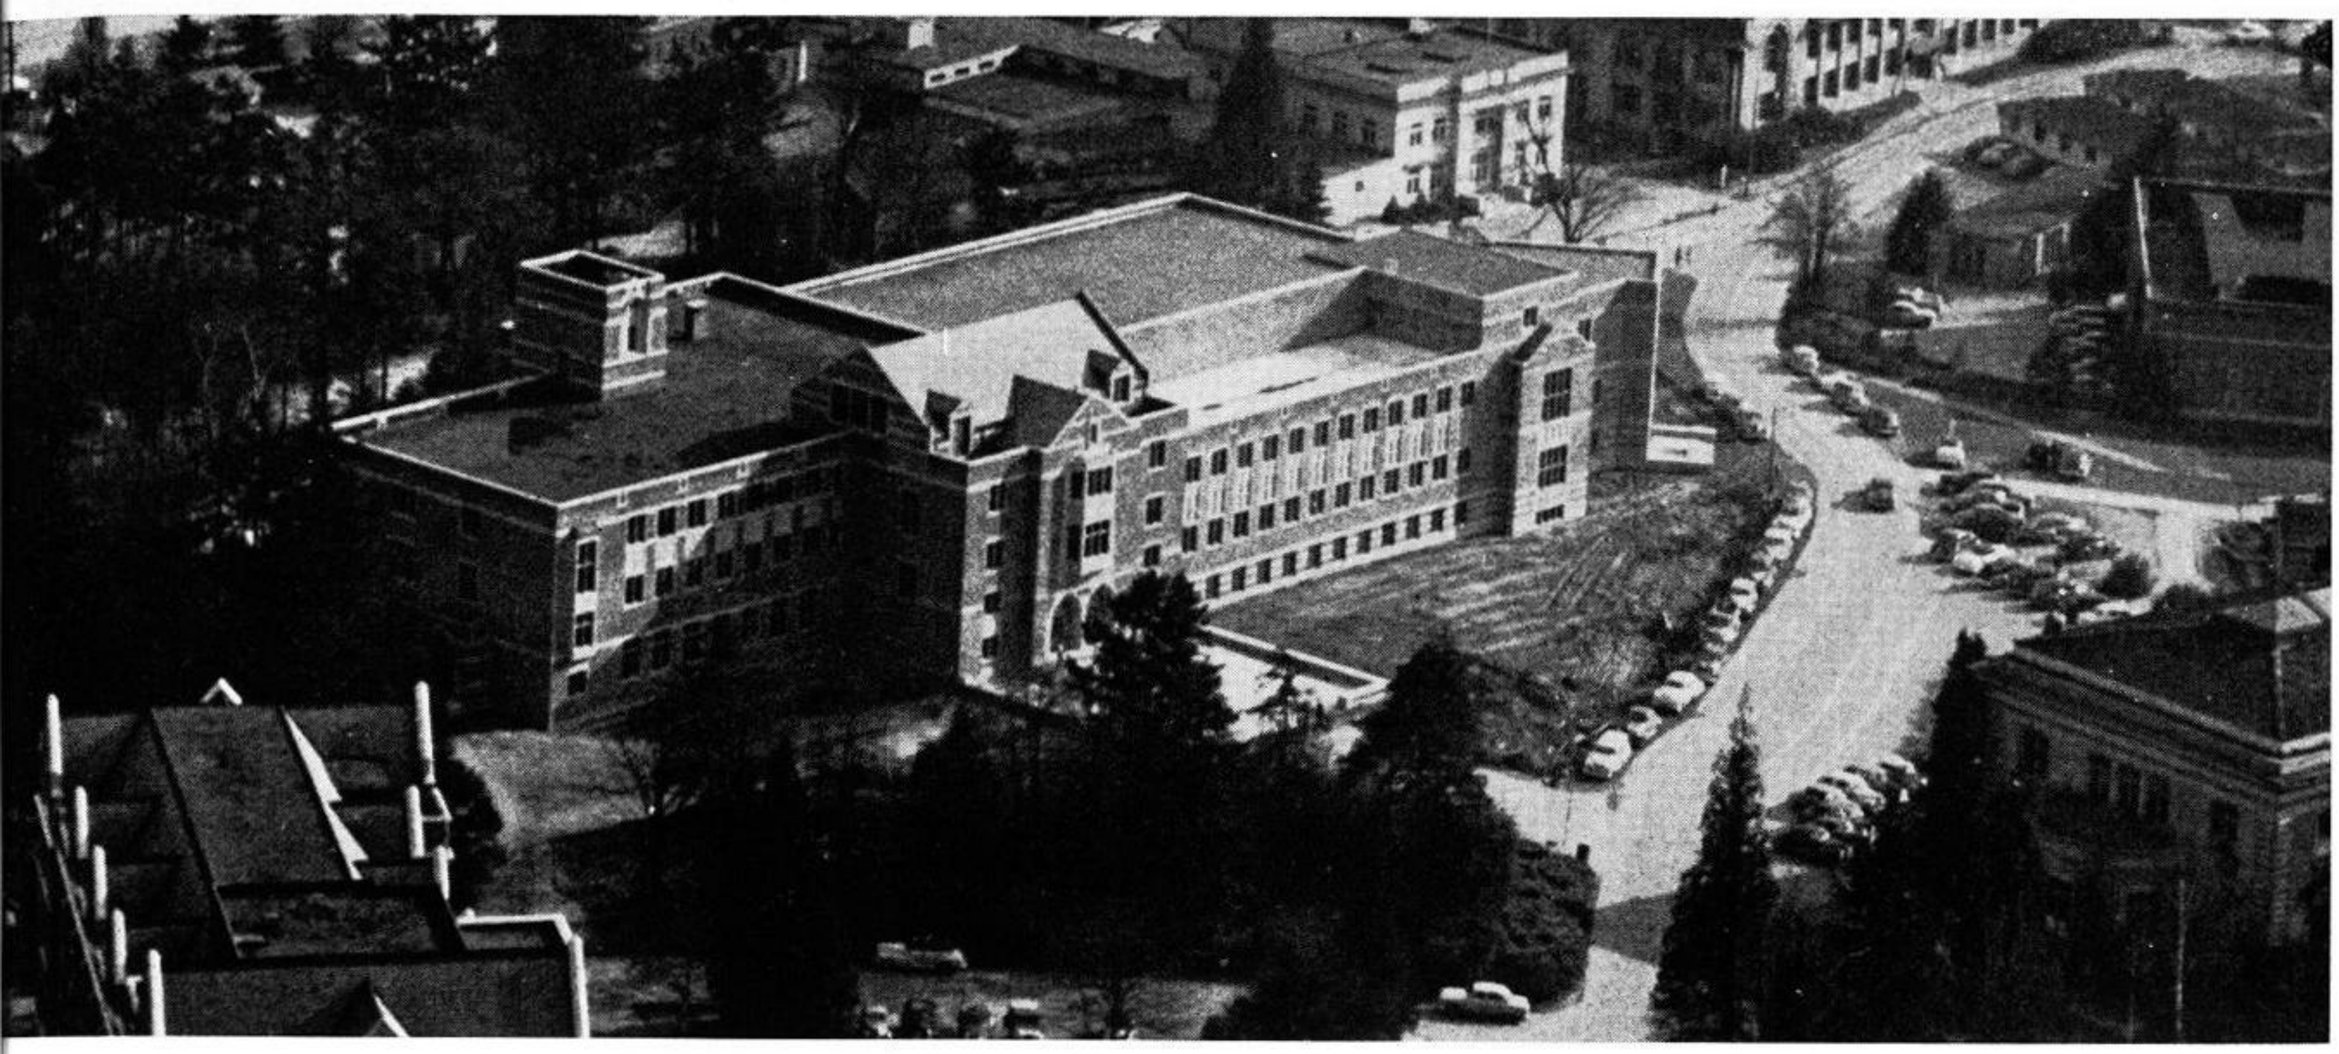

Winning Junior Class honors were Frank Parker, president; Jackie Claypool, vice-president; Shirley Goggins, secretary; and Betty Rae Macdonald, treasurer.

Taking over Sophomore class offices were Bill Wilson, president; Graham Molitor, vice-president, Marikate Tarbill, secretary and Carol Batchelder, treasurer.

hub dedication

JUSTICE MATTHEW W. HILL of the state supreme court opened the two-day celebration of the Hub dedication May 22 with the keynote address at the dedication banquet in the Hub ballroom.

During the afternoon there was a championship bowling match followed by the traditional senior class ivy planting ceremony. A reception was held for past and present ASUW leaders.

Guests from out-of-town arrived including the director of the student union building at the University of Oregon who expressed his admiration of the new facilities and of the size of the structure.

Winding up the dedication festivities was the annual Songfest.

More than 1,700 students in cap and gown said goodbye to their years at Washington on June 14 in the pavilion last spring.

Last minute activities included the traditional ivy-planting ceremony and the "Double-Dynamite" Senior prom. Following the graduation ceremonies a senior reception, sponsored by the alumni asociation, was held in the Sylvan theater. The reception is traditional and is held against a backdrop of the four white columns. Acting President and Mrs. H. P. Everest headed the receiving line.

fall activities

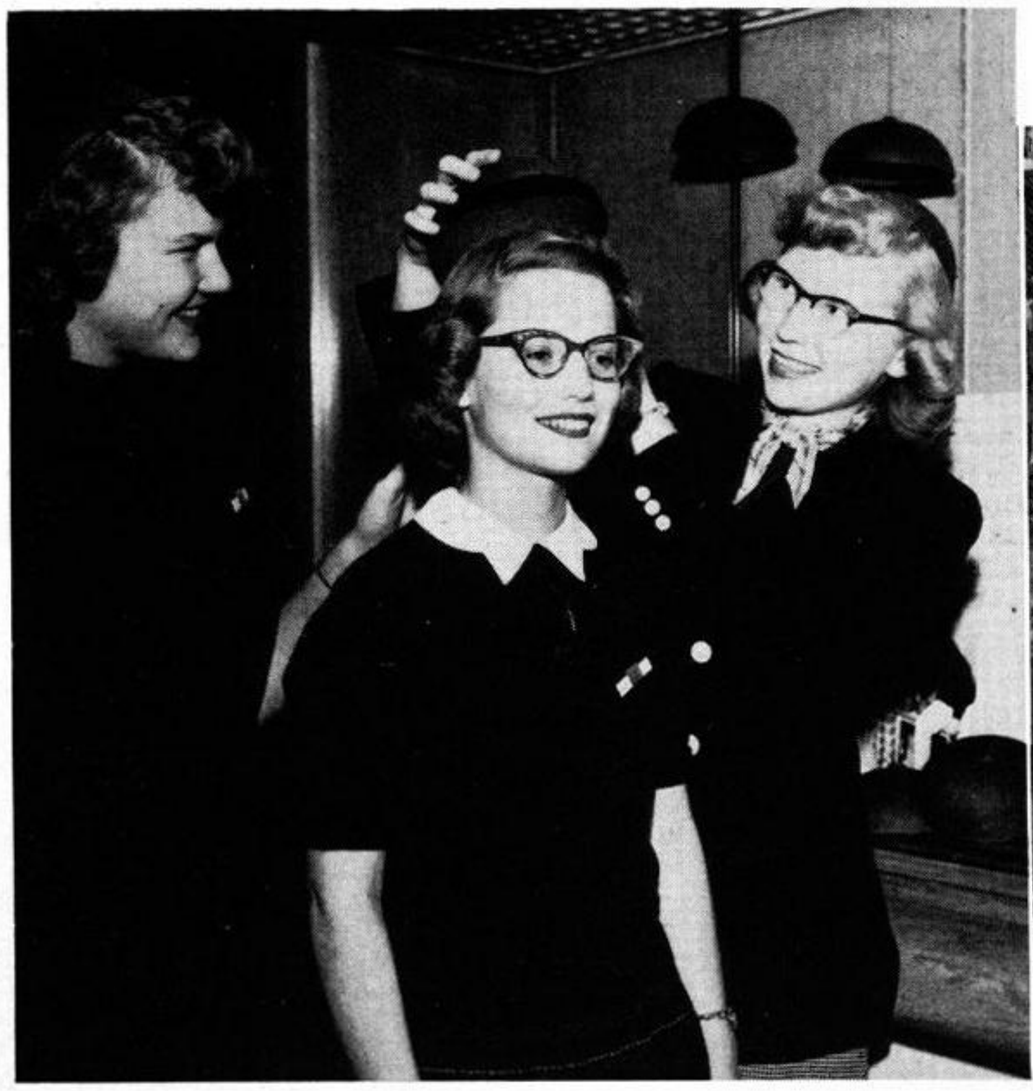

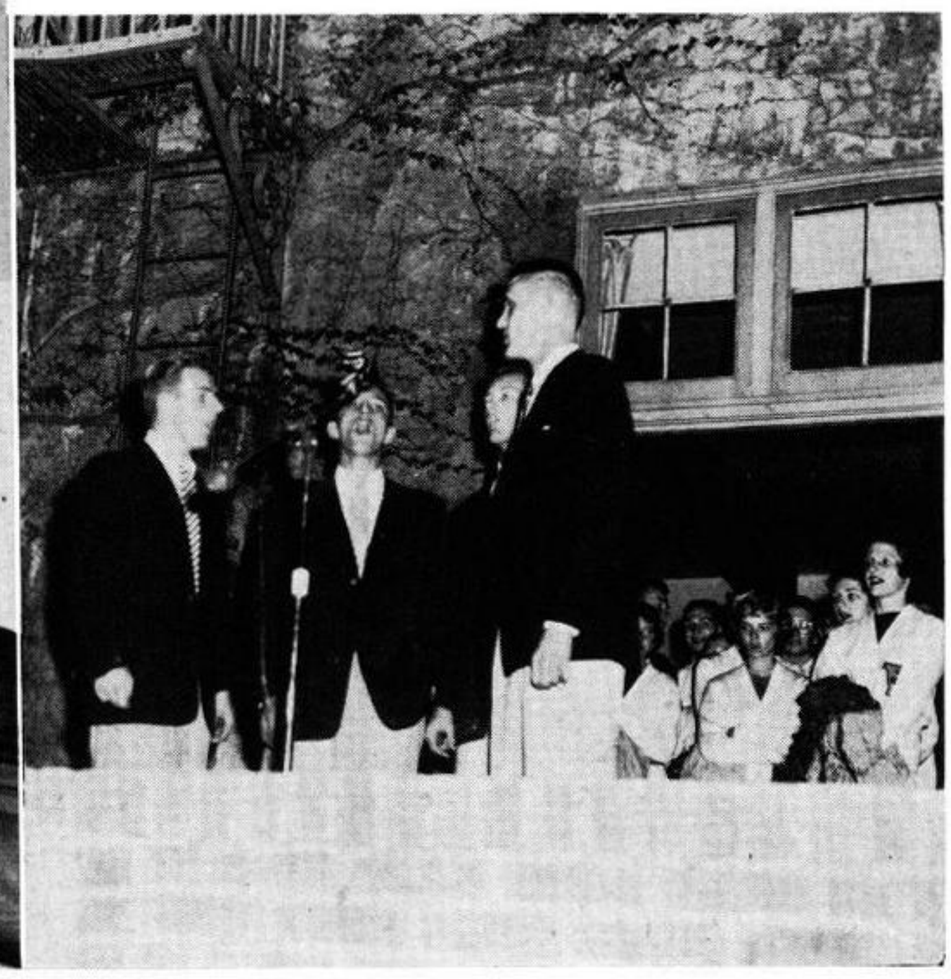

welcome week

Highlighting Welcome Week was the "Activities Carnival at the Hub," with open house for two days. Other activities were: a stag party for freshman men, a pre-game rally, and a greeting by President Schmitz. As usual freshmen were required to wear green beanies to all these events besides their classes the first three days of school.

Welcome Week was planned to acquaint new students with life at the university.

frosh elections

Fielding the largest group of candidates in our university's history the class of 1956 elected Harlan "Butch" Thomas as their president. A record number of freshmen went to the polls and cast 522 votes for Thomas—just four more than his nearest rival received.

Monna Gahegan emerged victorious from the highly contested vice-presidential race. Other successful candidates were Nancy Bratton, secretary, and Joy Price, treasurer.

Results of the election were announced October 30 at the elections banquet held in the Hub. It was preceded by a day and a half's campaigning complete with signs, house announcements, and serenades.

fund raising drives

University students were active in charitable as well as social activities this year.

Their first blood drive, in October, had to be extended an extra day which put the University way above its quota. The AFROTC supported the drive. Many students who were unable to donate blood donated time instead by working as receptionists and in the laboratory. The second blood drive was made successful by the cooperation of the NROTC unit.

Organizations from all over the campus participated in the Campus Chest drive in December, by supplying solicitors. The Alpha Epsilon Pi's sponsored their annual pie-throwing contest. At the end of the drive "Nickel Hop" was given by the YM-YWCA. Proceeds were donated to Campus Chest. Money received by Campus Chest went to United Good Neighbors, the World Students Service Fund, the Blind Students' Recording Project, and the Foreign Students' Loan Fund.

A spectacular waterfall plus the pun, "Oregon Falls," won the SAE's the first place trophy in the men's division.

homecoming

Homecoming festivities for 1952 were kicked off by the village band contest rally held October 13. Nine groups entered bands in this competition which drew a crowd of more than 2,500 students.

Zeta Psi's village band was announced to be the winner of the contest at the Homecoming rally held October 17. Short speeches were given by prominent alumni, Queen Lee Simonson was introduced, and the football team was presented by Coach Howie O'Dell.

A crowd of 1,200 couples attended the Homecoming dance held October 18 at the Civic auditorium. Hunting scenes and fir trees decorated the floor as students danced to the music of Johnny Rietz's orchestra.

Among the outstanding feature of this year's garb day was the dunking of Mary Tackett, who had enrolled in a forestry class. Later, fully recovered, she aided the freshmen in the traditional tug-o-war contest.

Walking off with honors as "Ole, king of loggers," was Fred Michelotti. In the beard department, top awards went to George Wilson, "blackest beard" and Peter Johnson, "reddest beard."

Climaxing the day was the "logger's brawl" dance held at Anderson Hall.

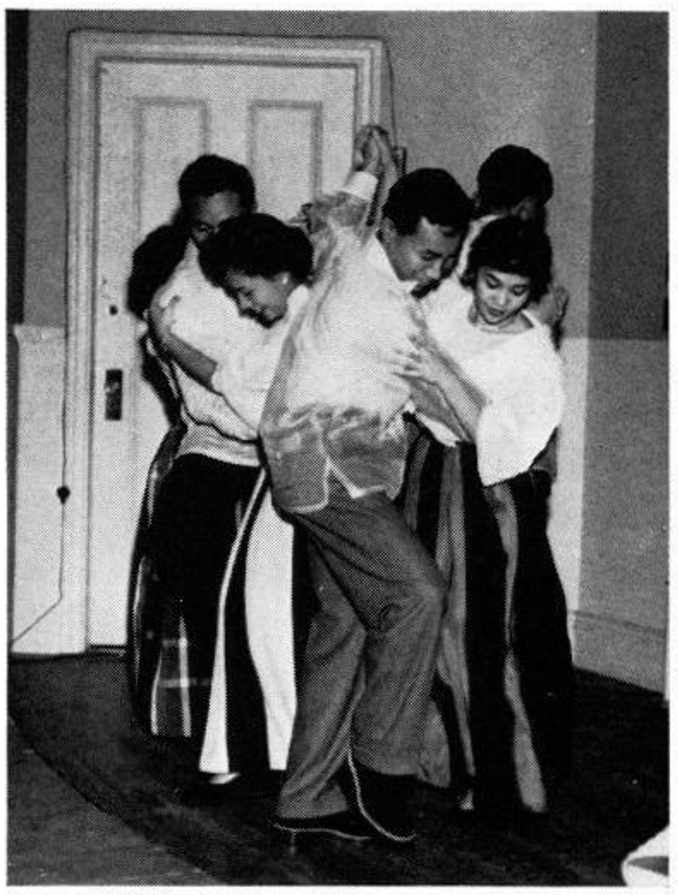

international banquet

"Ut Omnes Unum Sint," which in Latin means "That all may be one," was the theme of the eighth annual International Banquet sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Club. The evening included a reception, social hour, dance and a program presented by the foreign students. Co-chairmen were Barbara Moore and Wilbur Rickets.

Members of senior class line up to sing their prize-winning song.

Science fiction as presented by the junior class copped highest honors at the 1953 Song and Stunt night activities. "A Trip to Earth" was highlighted by weird costumes, green make-up and lighting extremes. Winning the song prize in the Totem sponsored event were the seniors who gave their version of crime. The other two entrants, the sophomores with romance and the freshmen with westerns, carried out the over-all theme "Totem Goes to Press."

age of mechanical translation is quickly descending us.

Erwin Reifler, University Far Eastern professor, is working on a project that will lead to the creation of hines capable of translating manuscripts from one language into another. Mechanical translation will be here within five years, he asserted.

"When I was first approached on the idea about three years ago," said Dr. Reifler, "I was highly skeptical and pessimistic about the idea. I didn't believe it could be done. Later, I came to believe that a machine might be able to perform the job if the foreign language text was edited by a human pre-editor."

While working under a Rockefeller grant last summer, however, he came to realize that it was entirely possible to construct a machine that will process the manuscripts automatically, without any human intervention.

"Another very important result of my work last summer," stated Dr. Reifler, "was my discovery of how to program a computer to handle the problem of compound words in foreign languages. Others who were working on the project believed the problem was insurmountable. I managed, however, to completely solve this problem."

Reifler said he differs from other workers in mechanical translation in two respects. He believes, first of all, they should not limit their thinking to the capabilities of the existing electronic computers built for entirely different aims.

"Second," he said, "we should try to push the mechanization of translation process as far as possible, although the buyers of mechanical translation products may very well be satisfied with poorer and also cheaper translation results."

Air Raid Warning Signals Changed

The alert for the air raid drill today will be a continuous three-minute blast and not three blasts as reported in The DAILY yesterday. Students are expected to go to the shelters and instructors are remined they will be in charge of classes in the shelter. The all clear will be three ong-minute blasts with two minutes silence between blasts.

Drive For Blood Starts Monday, 4500 Pints Goal

Students and faculty will roll up their sleeves again Monday, when the Red Cross-King county central blood bank bloodmobile visits the campus.

A goal of 4500 pints has been set for the drive which will last until May 15. The bloodmobile will be in the HUB for the first week of donations and Clark hall for the second week.

Chairman Jim Gillanders promises less waiting this time because of increased staff and better facilities.

He pointed out that donors in the last drive should not hesitate to donate in this one. It takes only two weeks to replace the blood and it has been more than three months since the last drive.

Schunk said, "Shock is the main killer on the battlefield. Whole blood administerged immediately to a wounded man will combat this shock and build up his strength. Blood plasma, a fluid, relieves a wounded man's immediate condition of shock but cannot give the man strength because it does not contain the cell-building ingredients contained in whole blood."

Parking Ticket 'Excuses' Fail, Judge Says No

By BOB OLESON

No "excuses" were offered in traffic court yesterday by Eugene Brady for the five tickets he had accumulated and ignored since last November.

Although he said he had no excuses, Brady offered in explanation:

For the two tickets he was issued for parking on campus at night he said he "didn't know you couldn't park anywhere at night."

The two tickets acquired for parking out of his assigned area he blamed on a bad leg, "which was banged up most of the winter," necessitating his parking closer to his classroom buildings than his assigned lot.

When he had to park "out of area" on another occasion, he just "ran out of gas."

Judge Roy Moceri listened to the explanations for the separate tickets and then inquired why Brady had ignored the tickets up until yesterday. The judge said he had plenty of opportunity to take care of them and to get special parking rights because of his bad leg.

"I should have and I knew it would have been all right, but I just didn't get around to it," Brady said.

"Here's the thing," Moceri told him. "Students get tickets, ignore them and then come in and give us excuses. I can understand how a student can get a ticket once in a while, but there's no excuse for completely ignoring a traffic summons."

Brady was then fined $15, of which $7 was suspended.

The hearing of Ronald E. Bloom, charged with negligent operation and excessive speed, was continued to next Thursday because the officer who issued the ticket was not present.

Clown Contest Committee Close-Mouthed On Prize

Sophomore Carnival Clown contest committeemen can be close-mouthed—especially concerning the prize for the winner of the Clown contest Monday night.

The only hints they'll drop on the subject is that "it" will be "the most unusual prize ever to be given at the University" and "it" will be "Exceedingly George." Then they laugh mysteriously.

"It" will be given to one of the 13 entries competing in the first Clown contest at the intersection of the 17th and 47th at 7 p.m. Monday evening.

The contest will follow the annual Carnival parade through the Greek Row district. Twenty-six characters, 17 boys and 9 girls, have entered competition in groups of from one to six.

Dr. Das To Talk On Role Of India

Dr. Taraknath Das, recently returned from India, will deliver the first of the J. Allen Smith lectures, entitled "Free India's Role in World Affairs," 8 p.m. Monday in the music building auditorium.

Doctor Das is a visiting professor at the University of Hawaii and a member of the faculties of Columbia and New York universities.

Das took his master's degree here in 1911 under Doctor Smith. Doctor Smith was for many years chairman of the social science and political science departments and was, for a time, dean of the graduate school.

The fund for these memorial lectureships has been started by Das to honor the memory of Dr. J. Allen Smith.

$300,000 Excess In Quick-Cash May Be Tapped

Football Ticket Sales Should Be Estimated Higher, Says Wollett

The ASUW's budget for the 1953-54 fiscal year will have a deficit of "at least $25,000," Spud Bunker, student body president said yesterday.

Bunker said the deficit would probably be made up from the ASUW's surplus of quick-cash assets, which he estimated at about $300,000.

Work Started

"We have just started work on the budget and we don't know what any of the final figures will be," Bunker said. "But next year's budget should be about the same as this year's."

The board of control authorized $1,121,866 for use by the athletic department and student activities during the year ending June 30. It expected a total income of $1,085,553, leaving a deficit of $36,313 for this year.

To cover the deficit, the board of regents was asked to raise the ASUW fee from $25.50 to $29. The regents refused, however, saying they would underwrite any difference between expenditure and income.

Estimates Exceeded

As it turned out, football receipts for the year far exceeded the estimates of the finance and budget committee when it prepared the budget last spring.

The ASUW will not only finish this year without a deficit, but will have a considerable surplus in "quick assets," Bunker said yesterday.

Don Wollett, chairman of the finance and budget committee, told the board of control Wednesday his committee had decided to make two changes in the budget.

"In years past, the committee has made very conservative estimates of football receipts," Wollett said. "We've had good years, however, and football has brought in much more money than estimated."

Wollett said the committee planned to present a "realistic" budget by estimating football income more accurately.

Includes HUB

The cost of maintaining the HUB and the athletic buildings and other facilities will also be included in this year's budget. In the past, upkeep costs have been left out of the budget, and paid out of the surplus from football receipts.

"We can't escape the cost of maintaining our physical plant no matter how we try," he declared. "It should be in the budget so we can see just where we stand."

Wollett also said he did not favor asking the regents to underwrite any deficit.

"I think the ASUW should remain as self-reliant and independent as it possibly can," he declared. "Once you start asking the regents for money they are going to want to know how and why it is spent. And then they may want to give some advice about how to spend it."

"ARE WE FOR REAL?" Find out tonight at the all-University mixer held in the Women's Residence halls. The mixer will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in the Blaine-McKee lounge, announced Mickey Cunningham, general chairman. All students are invited to this Mayday Mirage mixer.

Special Awards Given At Dinner

Forty-seven students were honored last night for outstanding service to the University at the third annual ASUW recognition banquet. President Henry Schmitz awarded the certificates of honor.

Bill Wilson was master of ceremonies and Prof. Win Bird of the speech department gave the keynote address. Entertainment was by the Varsitones quartet.

Architecture Head Given Top Award

Prof. A. P Herrman, director of the school of architecture, has been elected to the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects, it was announced recently.

Professor Herrman is the only person in the state to receive the fellowship, highest professional award given by the institute. Formal presentation of the award will be made at the institute's national convention to be held in Seattle during June.

A CHILDREN'S toy fair is being sponsored this week at Frederick and Nelson by the American Association of University Women.

The Delta Upsilon band will provide "marching" music.

Carol Batchelder, contest chairman, asked if the various living groups could arrange their dinners and chapter meetings so members could be out in time to participate in the parade and see the clown competition.

The parade will form on campus at 6:30 p.m. on the one way street adjacent to the Women's dorms. Positions will be on a first come, first served basis. Cars will then serpentine through the district, ending up at 17th and 47th for the contest.

Alpha Kappa Psi Elects New Officers

New officers of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, were elected Wednesday night. They are John Fortier, president; Jim McGuiness, vice president; George Janders, secretary; Bill Johnson, treasurer; Gordon Barnes, master of ritual; Bob Dixon, OA delegate, Ralph Sackman, program chairman.

The new officers will be installed at a dinner-meeting with the alumni May 20, commemorating the founding of the fraternity in 1905.

The professor said this unusual company, whose business is the chemical modification of wood, soon hopes to develop a relatively inexpensive densified table-top.

f. m. "spud" bunker

ASUW president, Forrest "Spud" Bunker, often referred to as the "common man," has put into practice during his term of office his campaign motto, "Be kind." In accordance with this, Spud is easy-going with the result that fellow students describe him as a "good Joe."

ASUW's first vice president, Art Martin, practices efficiency in everything he does, particularly in his ASUW activities. According to his fellow officers, Art is a real go-getter, and has found time to be active in many interests, including serving as a scout master.

Diane Cummins used her unlimited amount of pep and energy in performing ASUW vice-president's duties this year. Being extremely interested in all types of activities, Diane supposedly knows everything that goes on around the activities center.

Liz Lovsted, whose duty as ASUW secretary was to record all events which took place at the Hub, is also a ski enthusiast. Liz is friendly, becomes easily excited about things and performed her duties seriously and conscientiously.

aws officers

Opportunities for all university women interested in activities are offered by the Associated Women Students through committees such as orientation, house announcements, and freshman council. Coordinating the work of these committees was the job of AWS president, Lou Clarke; vice-president, Beverly Behar; corresponding secretary, Elizabeth "Pudd" Johnson; recording secretary, Jean Ross; and treasurer, Kay Miller.

Worthy of the top honor in AWS, the presidency, is capable LOU CLARKE.

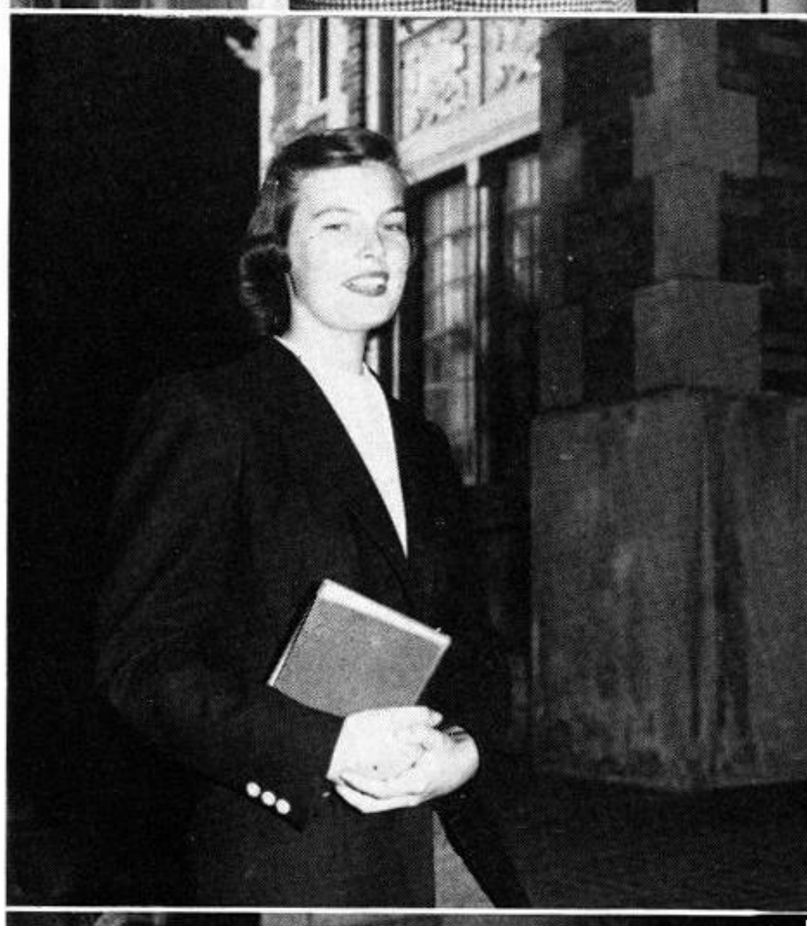

Aside from occasionally taking over the duties of the president vice-president, BEV BEHAR, presided over AWS Cabinet.

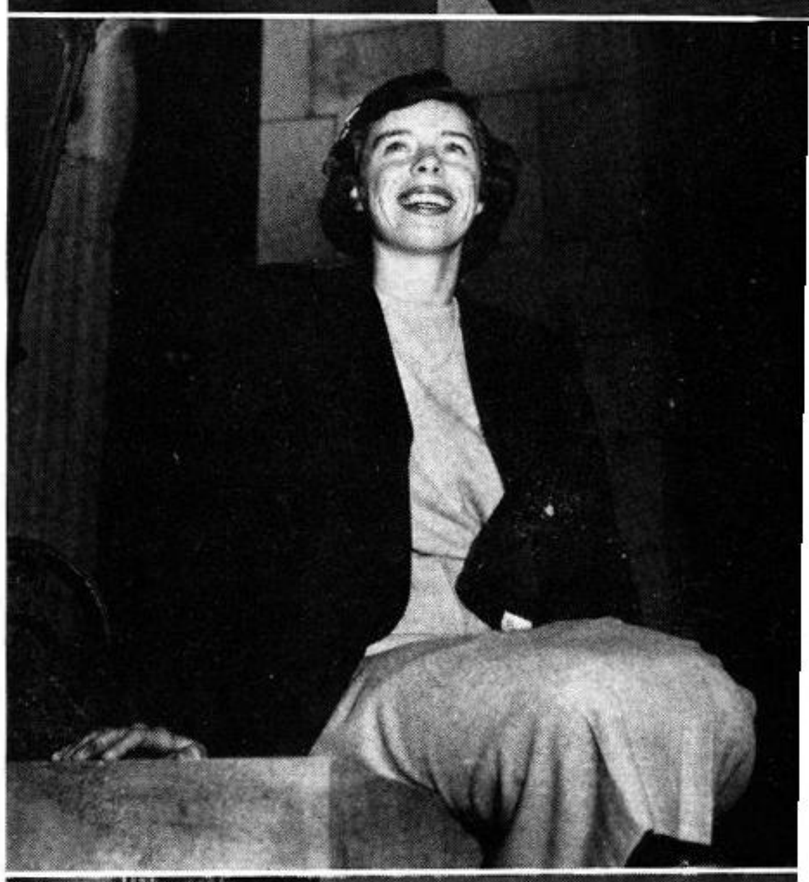

Keeping accurate records of the Executive Board, Cabinet, and Council meetings was the main duty of recording secretary, JEAN ROSS.

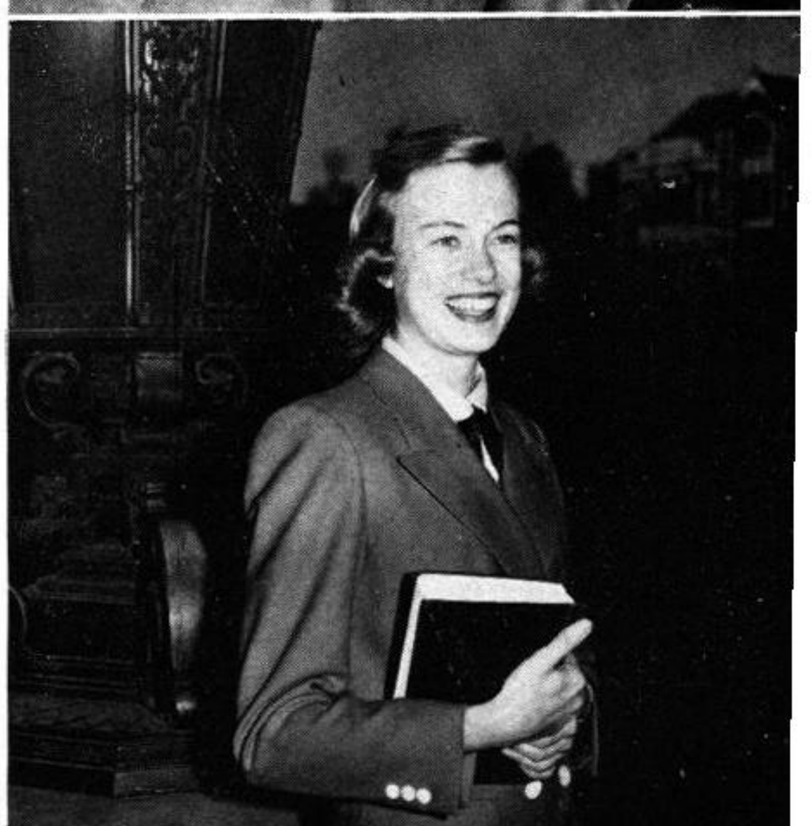

ELIZABETH "PUDD" JOHNSON was kept busy during the year handling the AWS correspondence.

Not only did treasurer, KAY MILLER, keep an accurate account of AWS expenses —she served as financial counselor for all AWS committees.

AWS Council composes one of the three executive bodies of the AWS. It is formed by the chairmen and assistant chairmen of the standing AWS committees. President Lou Clarke presides over the council and is assisted by vice-president Bev Behar and the other AWS officers.

Committee chairmen report their functions and ask for suggestions from other members of the Council at the bi-weekly meetings. This group determines the program and policy of the AWS.

Composed of all men students at the University of Washington, AMS functions primarily for the purpose of providing activities for men. One of the most important of these activities is the intramural sports program which is sponsored by AMS for students who do not take part in inter-collegiate athletics.

ams officers

Proficient at poetry is Vice-President Jack Hupp, who acts as chairman of the AMS advisory board.

Secretary Brian Comstock maintains a high-grade point in addition to performing his AMS duties efficiently.

Treasurer Jerry Greenway took over the duties of AMS money-keeper when his predecessor got married.

Jack Warnock, board member-at-large, when not casting a deciding ballot catches up on sleep.

President John "Sleepless" Kurtz performs his AMS duties as if he had eight hours sleep every night.

Shown relaxing from his duties as AMS Advisory Board secretary is JIM WYNN. This was Jim's second year of recording the activities of the board.

ams advisory board

Under the direction of AMS vice-president, Jack Hupp, the Advisory Board exists for the purpose of creating more interest and participation in AMS activities. The board discusses new ideas for activities which they present to the AMS officers.

All AMS committee chairmen and representatives are members of the Advisory Board. They include: Hupp; Walt Brewer, Sports Movies chairman; John Fery, Parent's Weekend chairman; Frank Graham, Style Show chairman; Jerry Greenway, AMS treasurer; Jack Hennes, Art committee chairman; Woody Hogan, Elections committee chairman; Mike Jared, representative to AWS Standards; Gary MacLeod, Elections Banquet chairman; Herb Mead, Vocational Conference chairman; Graham Moliter, Speakers Bureau chairman; Charles Moore, Athletic committee chairman; Al Nelson, First Fest chairman; William Reed, representative to Social Events; Eugene Smith, Construction and By-laws; Ed Schwartz, Social Education chairman; Richard Saunders, Scholarship Banquet chairman, and Richard York, Student-Faculty Program.

Directions

A stern and mature hand came to the helm of the editorial office when VIC OLASON took over the EDITOR'S position in early 1953.

Dividing his time between stock-car racing and handling the Daily during fall quarter was JACK SORGENFREI. He obviously couldn't read signs or he would have put that cigarette out.

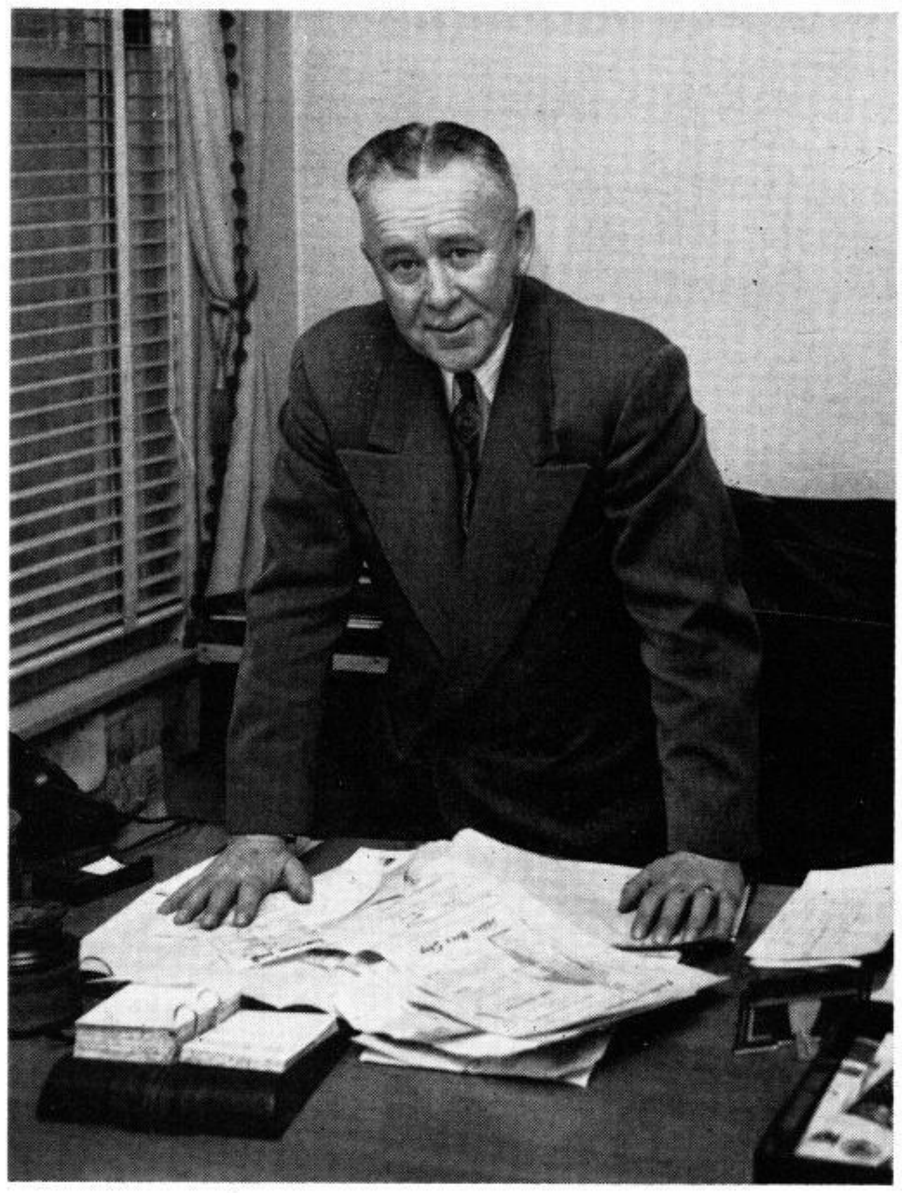

Few girls are honored with one of the four top editorial jobs on the Daily. NANCY DELZER can well be proud of her position as ASSOCIATE EDITOR to Vic Olason.

While Editor Sorgenfrei was out racing cars ASSOCIATE EDITOR WARREN BRIER proved himself a capable right hand.

daily editorial

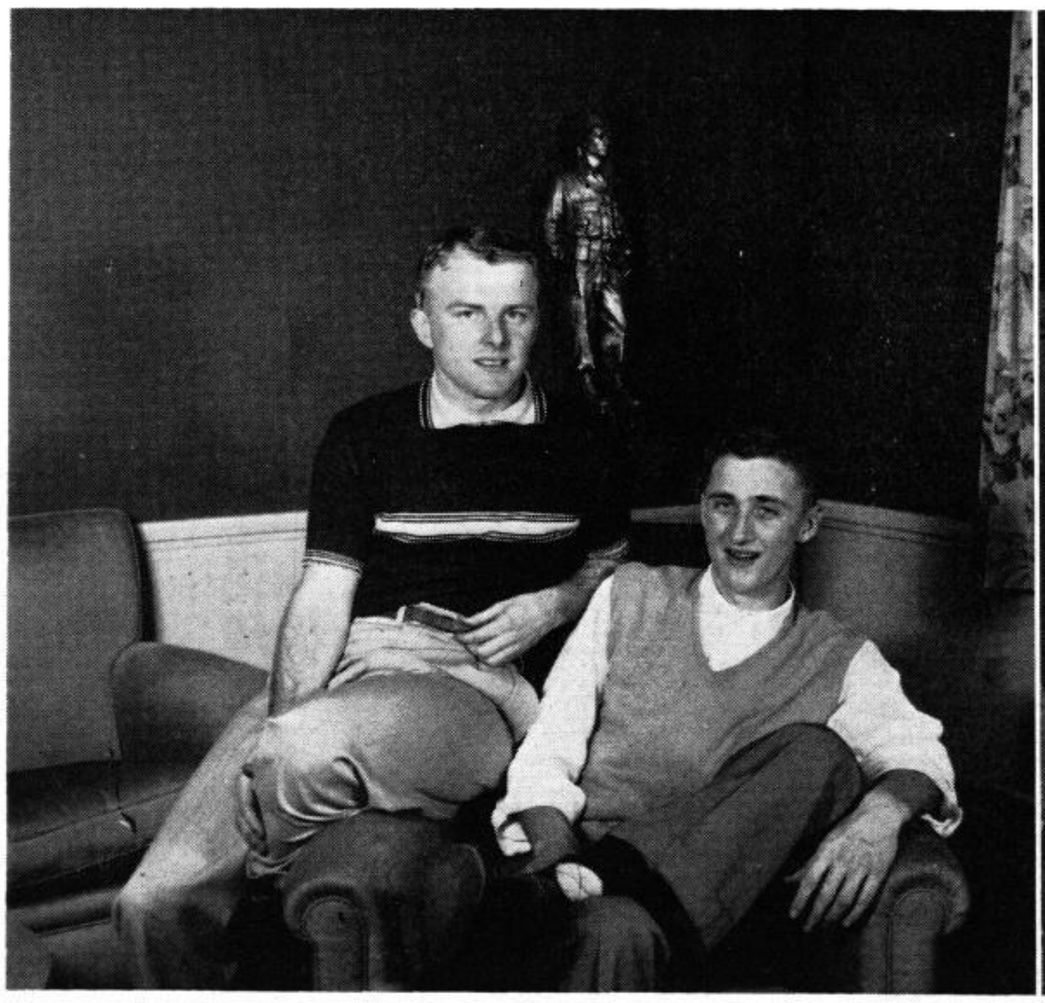

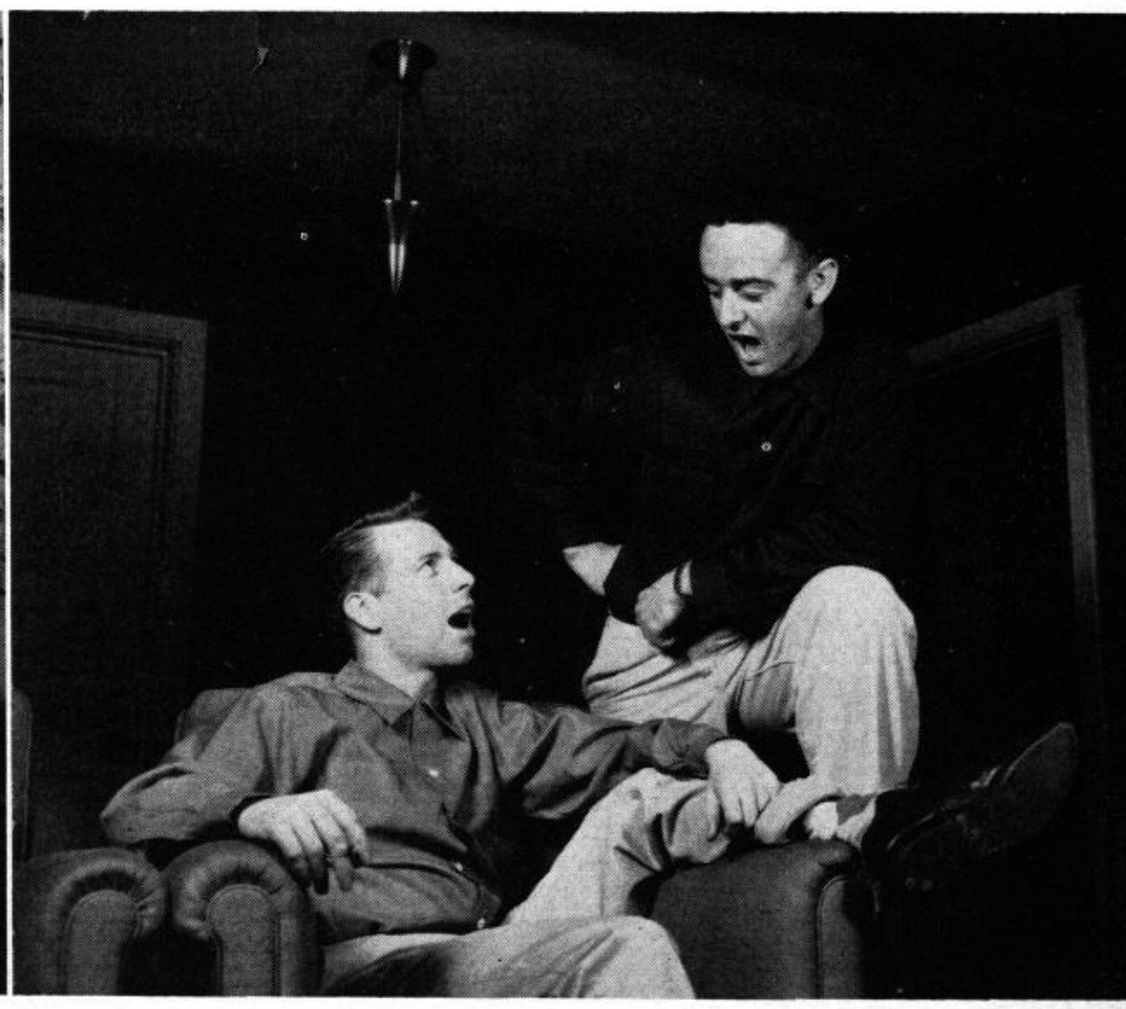

Ever-present is MR. ASTEL, the Daily adviser, who haunts the Daily "shack" as much as the editors do.

daily staff

Sticking their necks out with prognostications and such for the fall quarter as SPORTS EDITORS were BOB LEWIS and PAT GALLAGHER.

As Winter SPORTS EDITOR CHUCK DUNSIRE and DICK SAUNDERS did something more than inspect tonsils as it appears they are doing here.

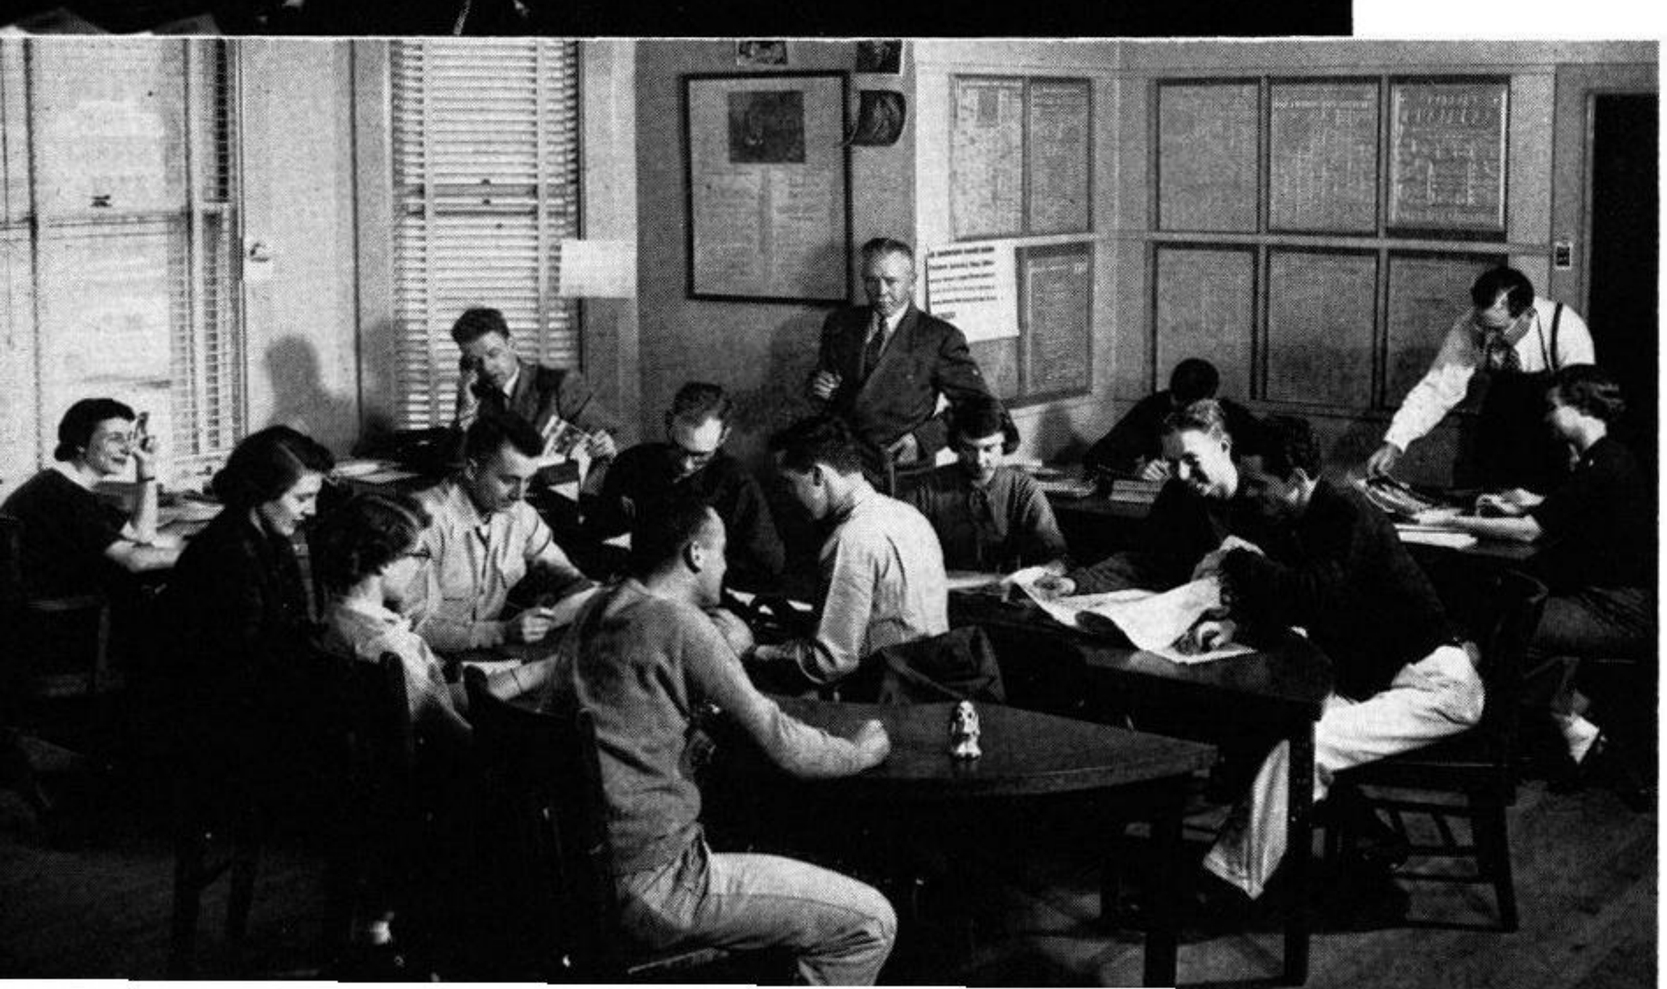

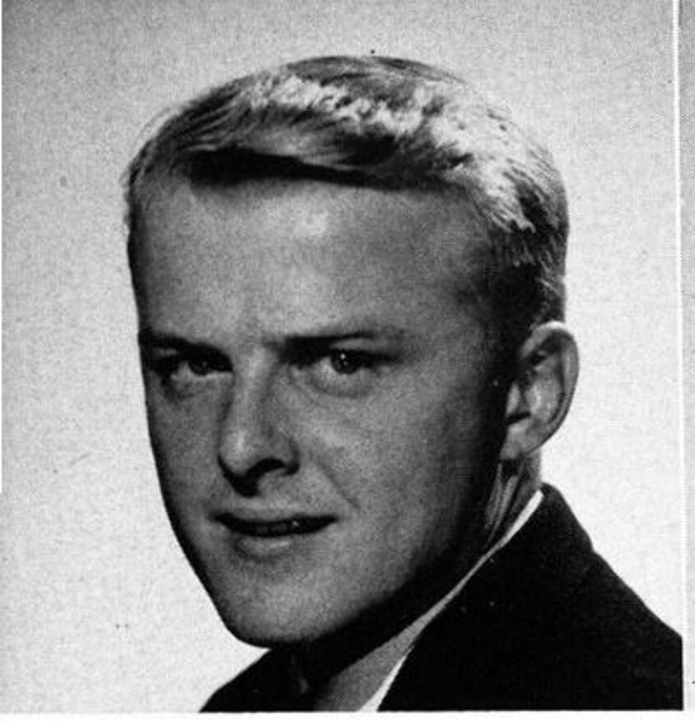

ROBIN CHITTENDEN kept things going at a lively pace in the Business office during her term as MANAGER.

The Daily staff for spring quarter got a little experience in page make-up in this picture. First row: Dorothy Costonia, Carlos Lenis, Margie Darland, Humphrey Martin, Bob McBride; second row: Richard Johnson, Doris Hamilton, John Voorhees, Geoffrey Brouillette, Jean Olson, Jon Stewart, Tom Riedinger and Morland Baker.

Hard at work in the Daily room is the winter quarter staff. In the editor's chairs are Nancy Delzer and Vic Olason. Seated clockwise around the copy table are Dick Saunders, Betty Hedin, Shirley Campbell, Chuck Eck, George Comstock, Pat Loundes, Chuck Dunsire and Leo Handley. Tom Koenninger is in the center. In the rear in an overseeing capacity is Mr. Astel with Dick Koefod, Cornelius Root, photography professor, and Marianne Merritt.

Selling ads for the Daily and serving as Sports Editor of the Daily Staff in 1952 gave BOB LEWIS the necessary experience to serve as BUSINESS MANAGER of the Daily. Bob is also a member of Alpha Delta Sigma.

DAILY ADVERTISING MANAGER, JOANNE SUSSMAN, sold ads for the Daily and worked on the Daily Staff during her junior year. Joanne was also treasurer of Pi Alpha Sigma and a member of Theta Sigma Phi.

Also serving as DAILY AD MANAGER during winter and spring quarter was LOYE ZUNDEL, who served as a Daily ad salesman for two years. Loye is also a member of Pi Alpha Sigma.

daily business

Due to its size, the Daily Business Staff operated completely apart from the Editorial Staff under the direction of the A.S.U.W. Publications Committee. Its activities include selling advertising, making up ads, and placing national advertising. The business office offers an opportunity for journalism majors in the advertising sequence to gain training.

Classified Advertising Staff: LuVerna Hammell, Amy Novakovich, and Jeanne Caron. Not pictured: Thalia Denon and Janice Broksner.

Hard working? "You bet," says Tyee editor, MARILYN MacDONALD.

With a firm hand and nonchalant attitude, editor Marilyn MacDonald guided the 1952 Tyee to an early deadline. Lending a helping hand when they could be found were section editors Ann Davis, academic; Rayda Pomroy, activities; Jim Hennes, sports, and Betsy DeCan, organizations.

Into the depths descends academic editor, ANN DAVIS.

Just a work-a-day girls is activities editor, RAYDA POMROY.

Ready to throw in the towel is sports editor, JIM HENNES.

"Heads will roll," declares organizations editor, BETSY DECAN, contemplating a deadline.

Last year's Tyee Office Manager, Marallyn Frame, served this year as Business Manager. Her main duties were promoting the sale of Tyee pages to organized houses and campus organizations and managing the advertising staff.

tyee business staff

Sophomore Diane Link this year added the job of Tyee Office Manager to her long list of campus activities. The organization and management of the Office Staff was her chief function.

columns editorial staff

"Gad! What trash they're printing now days," sneers Columns' co-editor Frank Chesley.

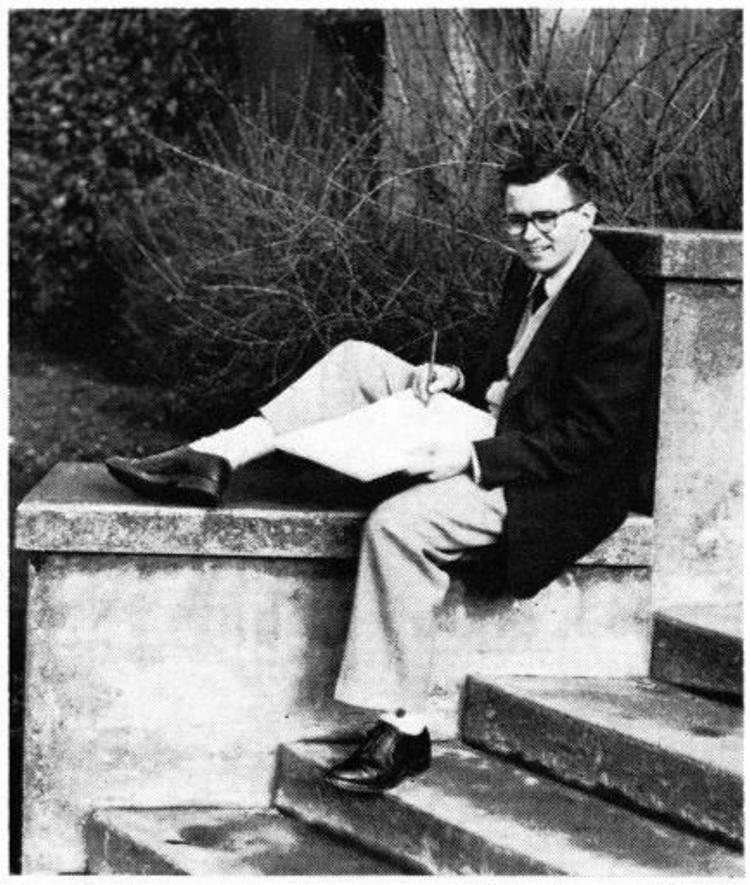

"Ah! This is more like it. The epitome of high writing," beams co-editor Roger Loschen.

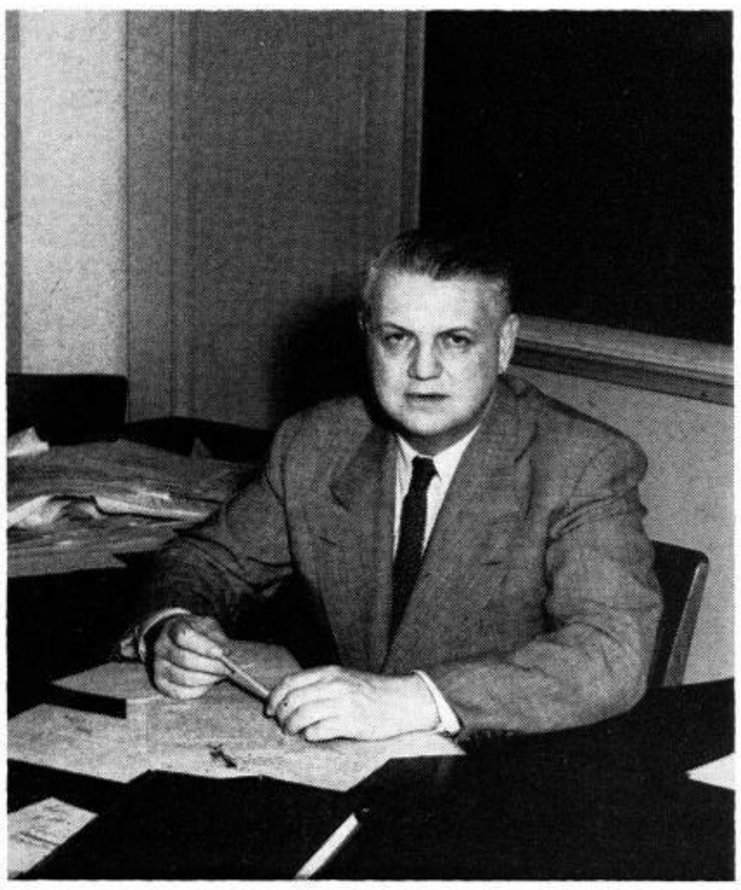

Contributor LEO CARLSON who did not want to be numbered among the throng so had his picture taken separately, just like an "editor."

RAY JENSEN one of the artists responsible for the COLUMNS' covers and cartoon strips.

Assisting the staff in an advisory capacity is the job of Professor HOWARD BRIER.

COLUMNS' writers MIKE DEDERER, NANCY DELZER, AND LEO HANDLEY get down to business with some copy.

Looking the situation over from an artist's standpoint are DON CALDWELL, TOM CHAPMAN, ROSS SWIFT, and another gentleman who would not show enough of his face so we could identify him.

business staff

DICK HARRIS, who qualified for BUSINESS MANAGER of Columns by selling ads in 1952. Dick is also president of Alpha Delta Sigma and a member of Sigma Delta Chi.

CIRCULATION MANAGER, BEVERLY BRUS, spent many hours pasting labels on Columns and was also in charge of the circulation staff.

An EXCHANGE EDITOR is essential to the business staff of any magazine. PATRICIA CHABOT handled the job for this year's Columns.

Selling ads and helping out the circulation staff were Pat Chabot, Carol Giedt, Dick Luther and Carol Semmern.

Blithely ignoring such details as emulsions, f-numbers and lighting the ASUW photographers of 314 Lewis tripped gaily through the year. Their photographs such as they are, are used in the Daily, Tyee, and Columns. Left to right around the circle are: Cornelius "Corny" Root, the tender hearted, cigar loving lab director; Paul Thomas, who is to blame for many of the Columns' shots; Tom Cohen, chief photographer, who tried unsuccessfully to maintain some semblance of sanity in the photo lab; Don Shaefer, who takes his best pictures while mountain climbing; Dick Feaster, a newcomer still trying to master the lab's "standard operating procedure"; and Jim McLees, a maladjusted GI who for some reason still thinks taking pics of Columns' pin-ups is fun. The terrified girl in the center, Barbara Lewis, wandered in one day while selling Columns, and has yet to find her way out of the dark room.

cultural events

The Madrigal Singers are a group of ten students who sing music beginning with the fourteenth century. In the traditional manner, they sit around a table. This year's student director was Jim Paul, a graduate student in music.

choral groups

The University Singers, the largest choral group on campus, this year boasts of over one hundred and forty members. The major work of the year was Bach's "Saint Mathew's Passion," performed with the Bach Choral Society in the Spring. The University Singers are ably conducted by Dr. Chapple.

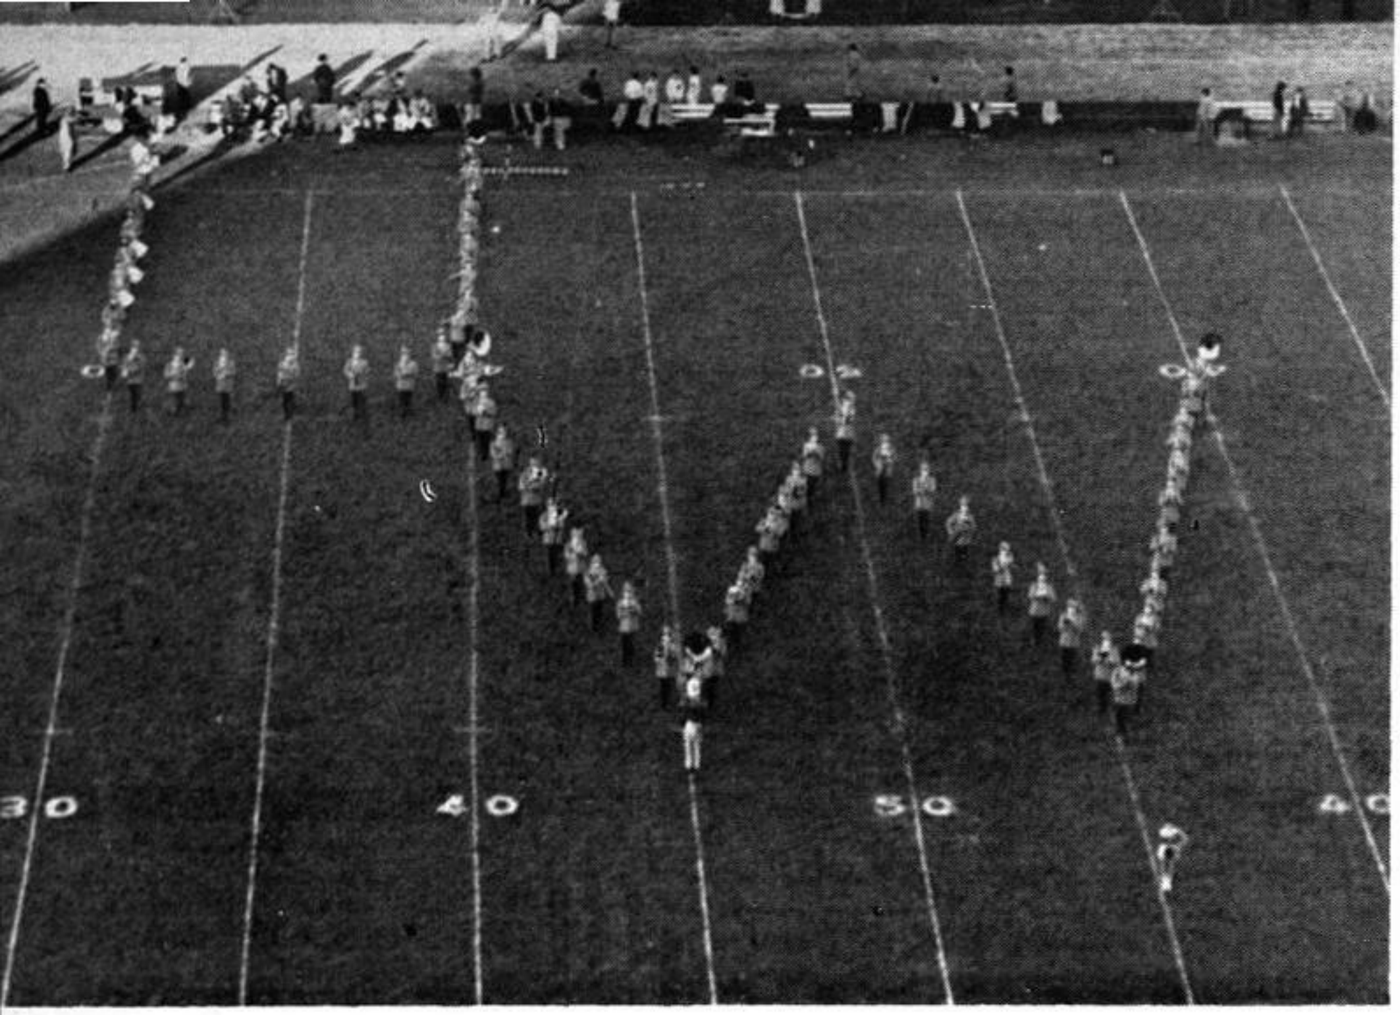

The A Capella Choir and the Men's Glee Clob performed at many clubs, civic groups, and on the radio during the year. They also, took part in the annual Christmas Concert in Meany Hall. Both groups are directed by Professor "Chuck" Laurence.

university bands

Blending the notes into melodious rhythm is the ambition of the Marching Band, which is loyally at hand to cheer on the football team.

Both the Sinfonietta and the University Marching Band, which have been highly appraised for their performance, are directed by Walter C. Welke. The Sinfonietta presented several concerts during the year.

Mary Jane Warner and Dorothy Cole in a scene from "The Wedding Knell" by Verrall, which was presented as part of the Making Opera series.

A scene from "Prima Donna" by Britten featuring Joyce Weeks Morrison and Ralph Rosinbum.

opera season

Scarlatti's "Virtue Triumphant" was presented early in March with James Callahan and Catherine Blanas taking starring roles.

Other important roles were taken by Dorothy Cole and Gary Munn in the music department's version of the Scarlatti opera.

concert season

The AWS Concerts season was very successful this year. The committee which consisted of Marilyn Low, Mary Kay Morrissey, Loraine Peterson, chairman Alice Morse and Marie Svensen presented the baritone, William Warfield and Seattle's own Clarion Chorus.

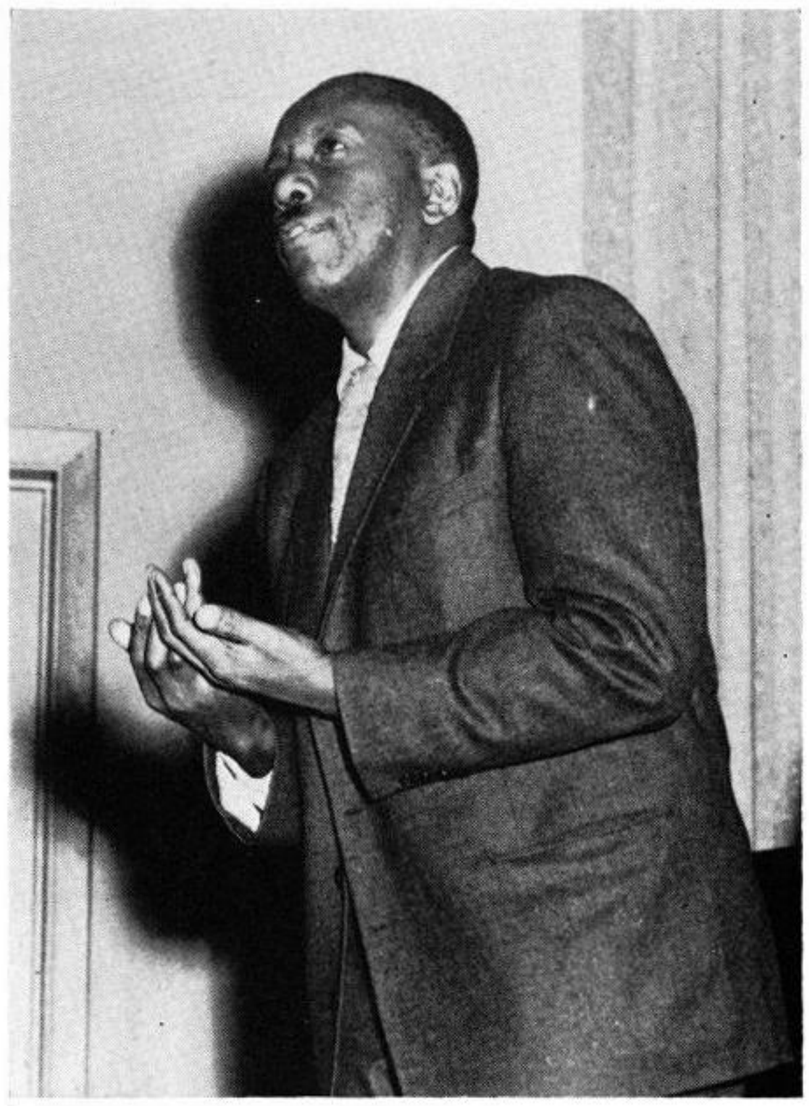

The Friends of Music Concert series presented as one of their main attractions the Budapest String Quartet. Members of this group include Joseph Roisman, Jac Gorodetzky, Mischa Schneider and Boris Kroyt.

concerts and lectures

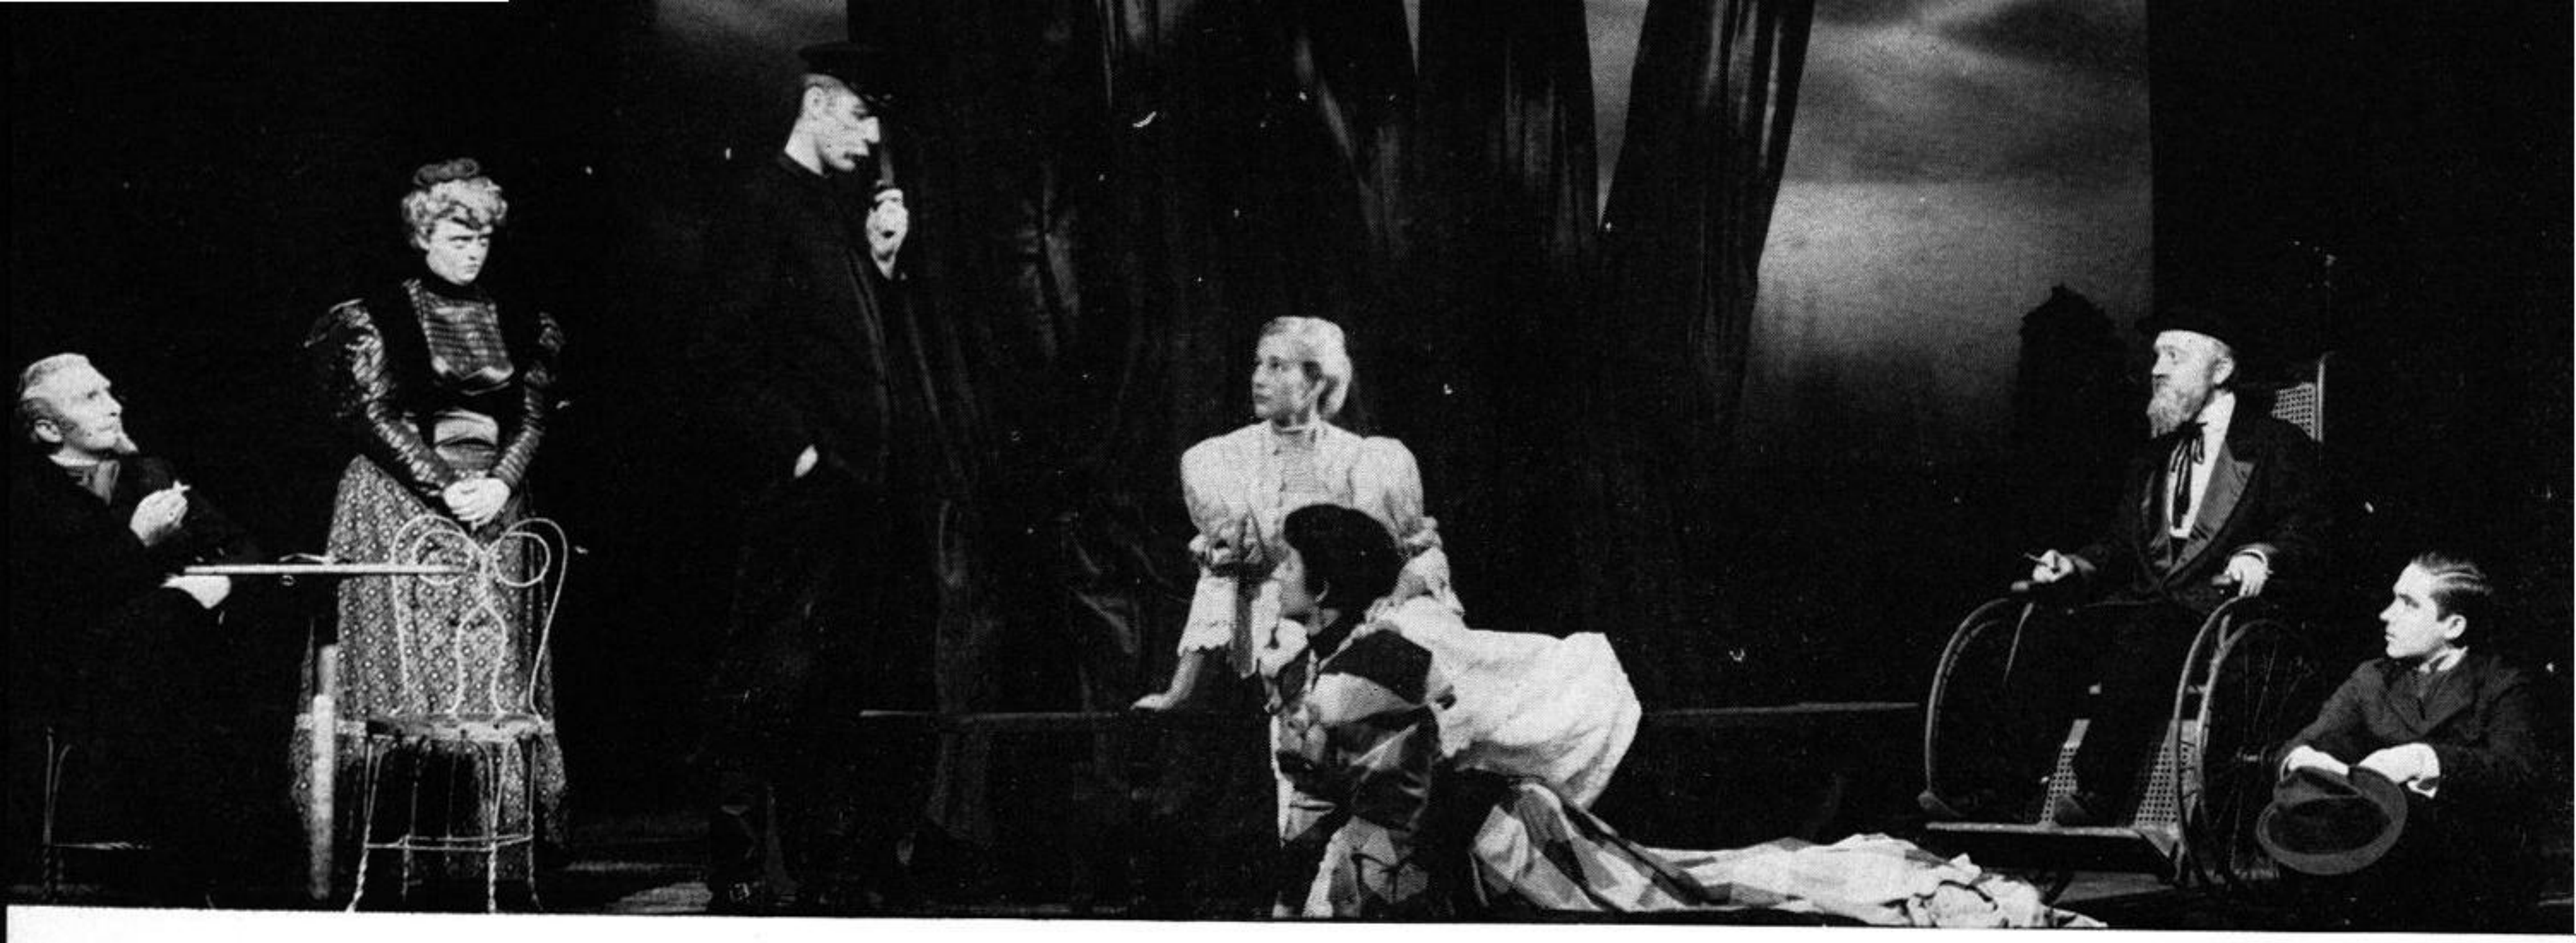

Dr. Chapple this year presented a "Making Opera" series instead of the more familiar "Making Music." Three operas were presented in conjunction with six lectures.

Dr. Thurman headlined the Religious Emphasis Week program by speaking daily on "The Quest for Life."

Vanick Galstaun, Joan Nelson, Michael Quinlivan, Sherry Selfors, Dorlis Steidley, William Dore and Richard Roach in a scene from "The Sea Gull" by Anton Chekhov. Presented at the Showboat Theatre from October 2 through November 8. Directed by Robert Gray.

Dean Melang, Michael Zuinn, George Anastasiow, Cheryle Brown and Theodore LaBarr in "The Play's the Thing" by Ferenc Molnar. Presented at the Showboat Theatre from December 25 through January 31. Directed by Vanick Galstaun.

Joy Dillingham, Kit Koontz, Michael Quinlivan, Alyce Hauser, Rae van Ettisch, William Dore, and Vosco Call in "The Grass Harp" by Truman Capote. Presented at the Showboat Theatre from November 13 through December 20. Directed by Robert Gray.

Sherry Selfors, Dorlis Steidley, Gene Hufeisen, and Pegge Lee Haggard in a scene from "The Innocents" by William Archibald. Presented at the Showboat Theatre from August 20 to September 27. Directed by Donal Harrington.

penthouse

Joegil Krogh as Great Catherine and Hugh Funk as Lt. Edstaston in Shaw's "Great Catherine" presented at the Penthouse Theatre from October 30 through December 6. Directed by Donal Harrington.

Alvin S. Kaufman and Michael English in "On the Side of the Angels" by Glenn Hughes. Presented at the Penthouse Theatre from August 7 through September 13. Revived by popular request from January 22 to February 28. Directed by Robert Gray.

Frederick Rider and Nicholas Zanides in a scene from "The Man of Destiny" by George Bernard Shaw. Presented at the Penthouse Theatre from October 30 to December 6 along with Great Catherine by Shaw. Directed by Donal Harrington.

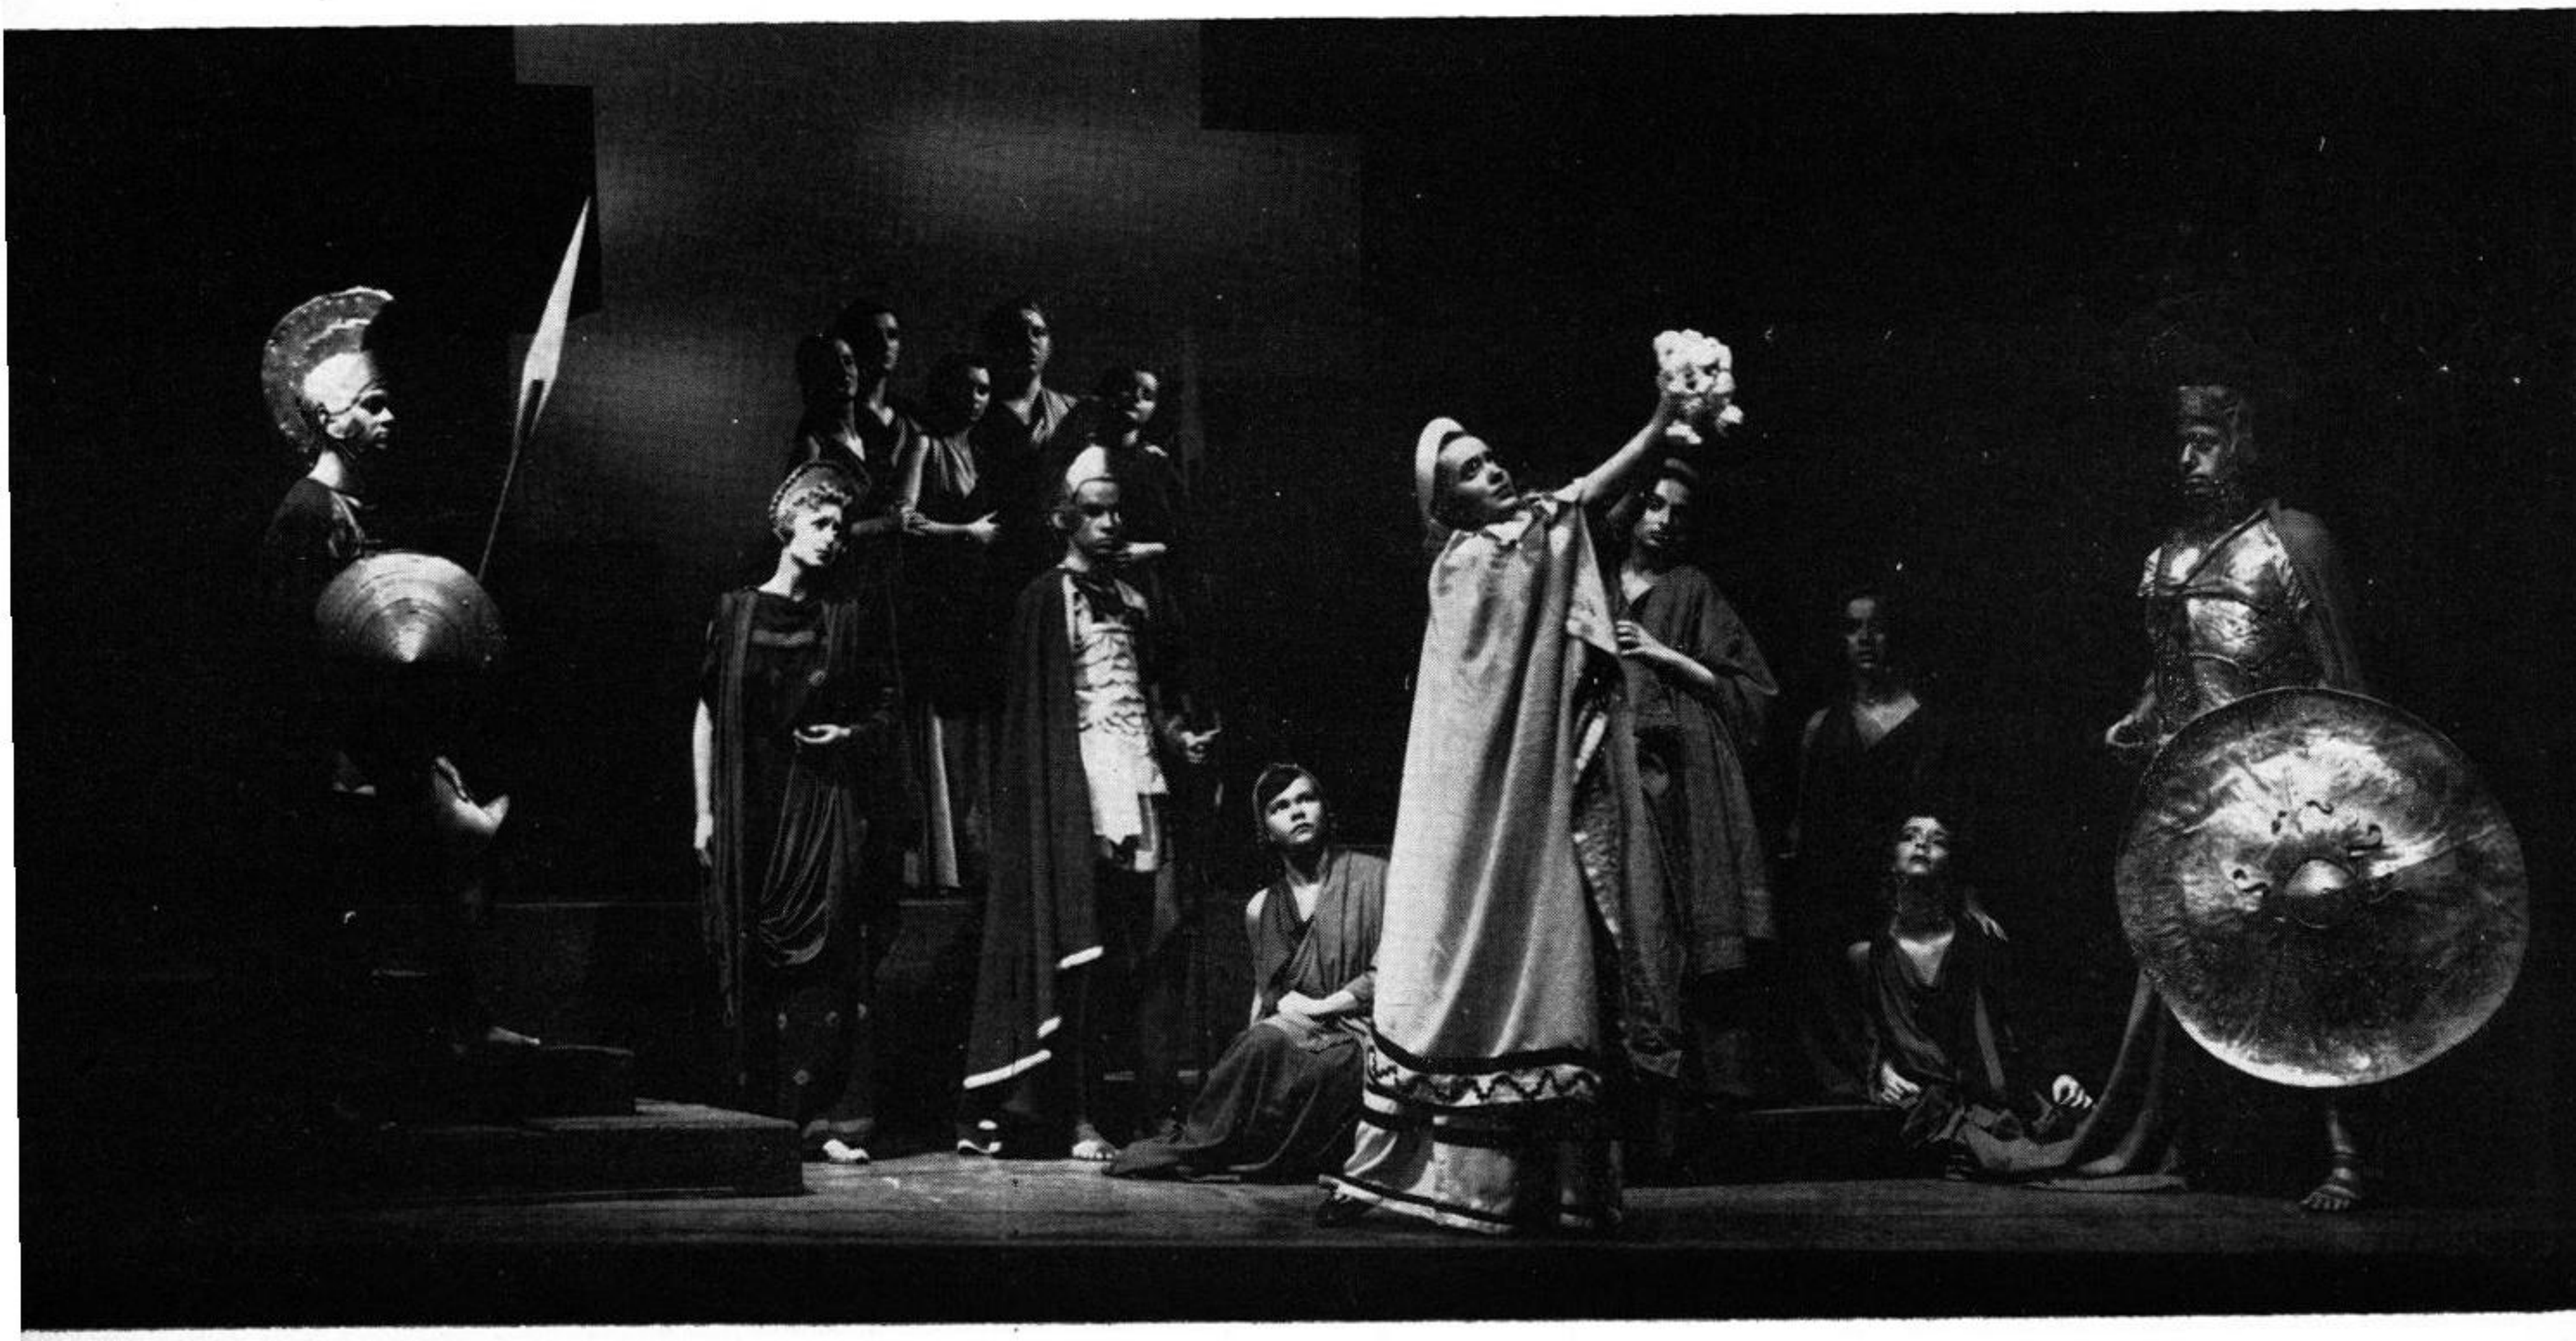

Hugh Funk, Elaine Elliott, and Joan Nelson in a scene from "Bell, Book, and Candle" by John van Druten. Presented at the Penthouse Theatre from December 11 to January 17. Directed by Donal Harrington.

A scene from the great Greek classic "The Trojan Women" by Euripedes. Members of the cast include Virgil Myers, Dorlis Steidley, Letha Metchicas, Edeane Tobias, Marilyn Armstrong, Kathryn Bode, Joie Wyman, Don Adams, Phyllis Anderson, Pamela Printy, Avon Johnstone, Gerta Grunen, Georgia Mai Townsend, Barbara Farrell, and Robert O'Neill-Butler. This play was presented January 15 to February 14. Kenneth Carr directed, the decor was done by John Ashby Conway, and the costumes by James Creder.

Alfred Stenson, Alfred Wheeler, and Jean Jory in "Hedda Gabler" by Henrik Ibsen, a first master thesis production presented by the School of Drama. Joegil Krogh directed the play which was presented September 4, 5, 6, 12 and 13. The production was designed and costumed by Miss Krogh.

Students spend many creative hours in the puppetry workshop in Denny hall.

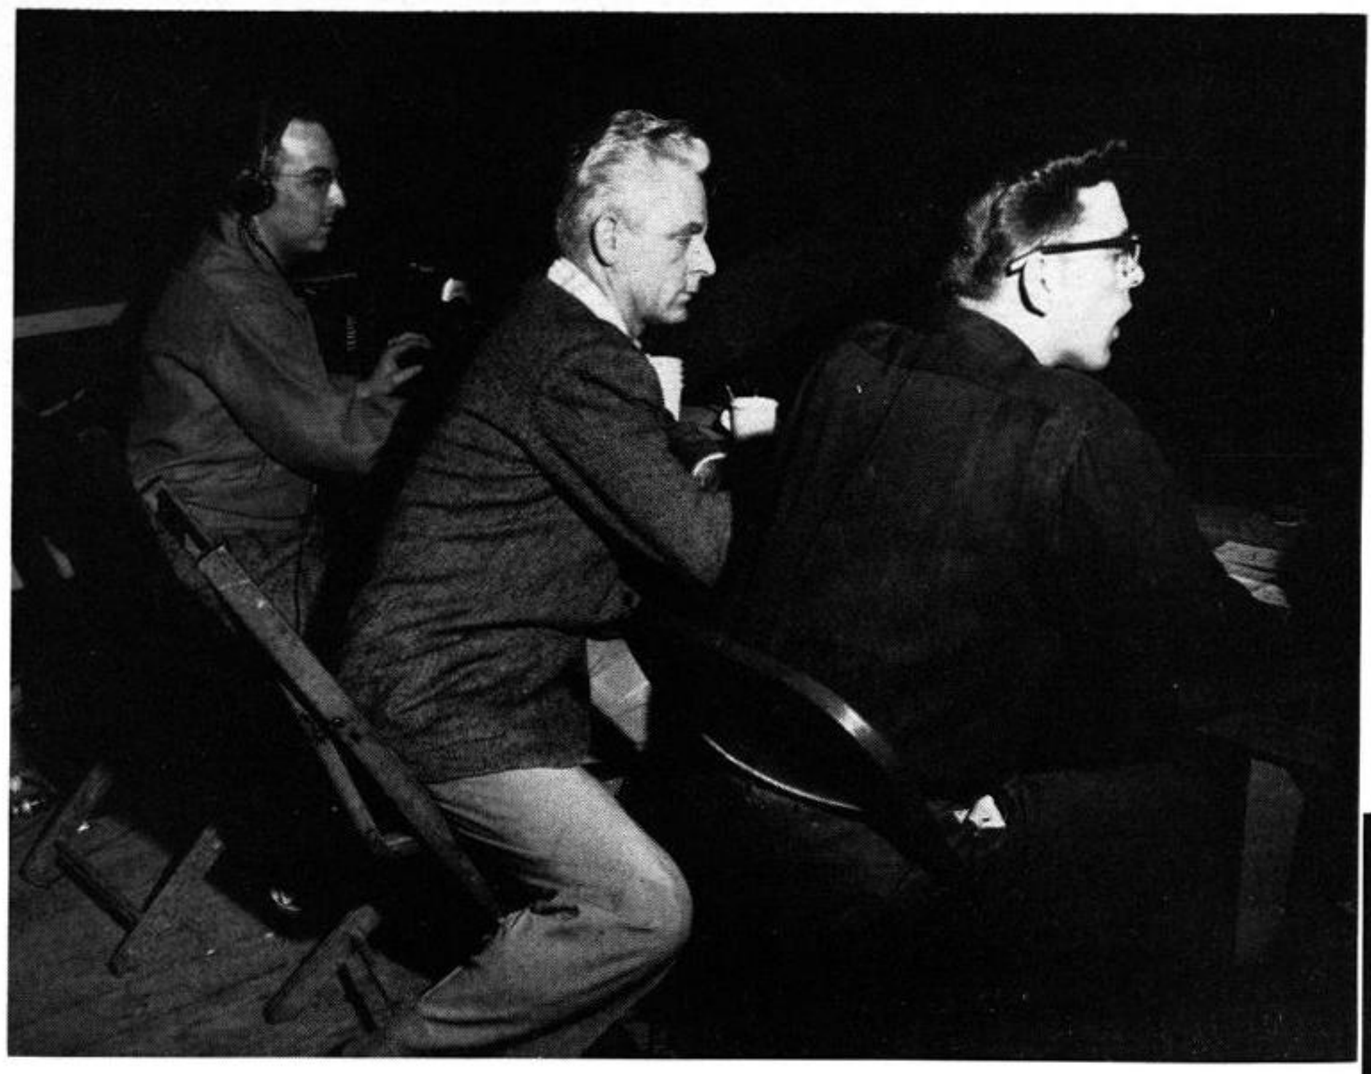

Drama students listen as Dane Clark gives out some "words of wisdom" during his personal appearance while appearing downtown in "Country Girl."

One of the many features of the UW's Drama department is the creative dramatics class for junior high school age students.

The Radio Department at the University has shown much progress in the last few years. Through their own radio station they offer educational discussions, music and many other pleasures to the "outside world." Soon students will enjoy their own television network as well, because of the forsight of the University, Seattle University, Seattle Pacific College, Seattle Public Schools and KING-TV.

jr. panhellenic

Panhellenic is the coordinating body of the sorority system. Beside the regular meetings, this year's Panhellenic program included the rushing program prior to autumn quarter, round robin dinners and the annual training conference held during the first week of spring quarter for incoming and outgoing officers. Washington's Panhellenic is known nation-wide for its efficient, organized and fair methods.

Junior Panhellenic is composed of presidents or representatives of each pledge class. This group meets regularly to discuss problems concerning each incoming class. Joint meetings and parties with Junior Interfraternity council are among their many activities.

The Inter-fraternity council is composed of presidents of the thirty-nine fraternities on the University of Washington campus. One of IFC's biggest tasks is to regulate and control fraternity rushing. This year IFC has had some important changes in the rules which will facilitate rushing in the future. Scholarship and conduct standards are set up and maintained by the IFC, which has the power to discipline offending fraternities.

The IFC seeks to educate fraternity men for citizenship, social competence and successful human relations, as well as to support the object of the University of Washington—Intellectual development.

Pledge class presidents or freshman class representatives from each of Washington's fraternities form the Junior Inter-fraternity council. Its purpose is to aid IFC in its efforts and to prepare new fraternity men for service to the University.

Junior IFC takes part in such community projects as the porch light drive for the March of Dimes and the transportation of shut-ins. Campus projects, inter-fraternity exchange dinners, a dance and other activities keep JIFC members busy and useful throughout their freshman year.

AEPi's relax before going on campus for their Pie Party.

At the close of another year, Alpha Epsilon Pi, as a progressive and spirited fraternity, prides itself on its outstandingly successful program.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the 1952-53 program was the well-balanced social calendar. Among the many and varied social affairs were included the formal pledge dance, the AEPi Den of Iniquity, the New Year's party and many house parties. The year was climaxed by the annual spring formal and spring picnic.

The chapter's athletic program has proven to be as successful as the social, AEPi fielding winning teams in several intramural sports. Individual members participated in the school's major sports.

Alpha Epsilon Pi is known campus-wide for its many unique ideas, perhaps the most famous being the AEPi-throwing contest, used as a fund-raiser for the Campus Chest.

Since 1904 Acacia fraternity has stood for the highest of ideals. Today, despite chlorophyll, Acacia stands stronger than ever—thanks to tradition and a steel beam.

This year the clan advanced like a thundering herd of turtles. In the rubble of their wake, they left a successful social season. After considering many offers for exchanges, the Acacia's accepted one with Nest 124 of the Seattle Blue Birds. In attendance at firesides were several fellows with dates. However, most of the members brought figs.

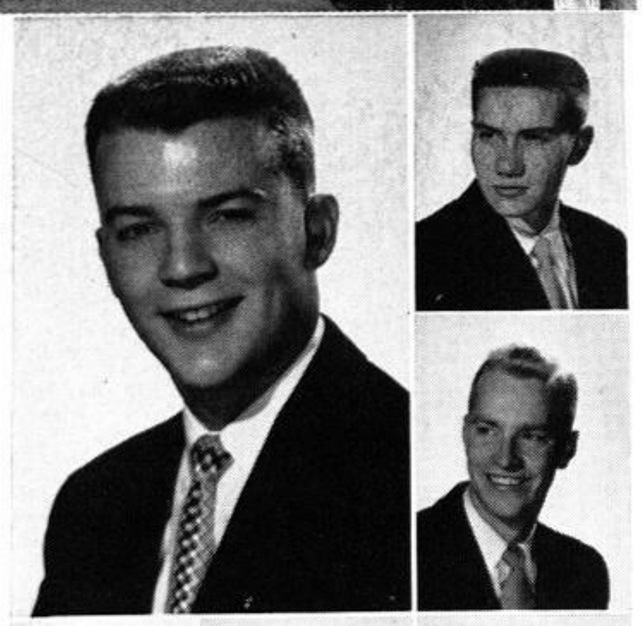

Some of the "kinder" members were outstanding in campus activities. Acacia is quite proud of one prominent member, the one with hair, who occasionally gets it cut at the HUB barber shop.

The field in which Acacia's excell is scholarship. Many men are stoop-shouldered from the weight of their honorary keys. Yes, life in the brick mansion, three miles north of campus, certainly has all that could be desired.

Succeeding generations of Alpha Delts will have to work hard to match the record of the 1952-53 membership. Not only does Alpha Delt claim the president of IFC, the sophomore class and the Husky swim club, it claims the ownership of the Songfest trophy. Also, this is the first year in four that Alpha Delt Phi has not won the scholarship cup.

Besides having the most members on the Board of Control and the Purple shield, Alpha Delt counts more than thirty-five members in Oval club, IFC, Malamutes, Managerial council and Big-W club.

On the social side, the pledges launched a successful season with their "Gay Paree" dance. Following was the annual Christmas sing with Kappa Alpha Theta and the Winter formal. A month before finals the Alpha Delts retreated to the wilderness of the Olympic peninula for a house party.

All in all Alpha Delta Phi had a successful year characterized by fun in working together.

The Alpha Delts turn out in force to give their cooks a hand.

Boasting the largest fraternity pledge class on campus, Mu chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi started off its second 50 years on the Washington campus with a bright outlook.

The "jolly bunch of Alpha Sigs" had the usual exchanges and firesides with special events like a pledge dance and a barn dance; the winter formal, the spring house party and Seven Seas dance on the yacht Fantome to add to their enjoyment and good fellowship.

Crew, football, track and tennis squads all had Alpha Sigs on their rosters. First vice president Art Martin kept the "friendly fraternity" before the HUB politician's eye.

Brother Bob "Hooks" Houbregs, All-American center, was associated with Alpha Sigma Phi throughout the nation.

With a good balance between scholastic achievement and friendliness the Alpha Sigs end another year.

"If we had it all to do over again, we wouldn't change a single thing." This was the general feeling around the house as Gamma Pi of Alpha Tau Omega chalked up another successful year.

After pledging a fine group of men who will carry on the good work of the chapter, the ATO's presented their annual Pledge dance. Then it was on to the Winter formal and the spring house party, pausing briefly to pick up a few all university intramural trophies.

ATO boasts both the past president and active president of Malamutes. The Tau's have placed men on the starting lineups of the football, basketball, baseball and track teams. Scholastically the Taus have done themselves proud.

Athletics, activities, scholarship and friendship; can any fraternity ask for more?

From beginning to end, the 1952-53 school year was abounded in work, spirit and fun for Beta Theta Pi.

Rush week found 24 promising candidates pledging Beta Omega chapter. Homecoming, featured by the house display and visiting grads, was next on the agenda. Completing the fall quarter were the pledge dance, the annual Beta-Phi Delt pajama dance and Christmas carolling with Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

The formal and the fourth annual "Beta Cup" greater-Northwest high school invitational ski meet highlighted winter quarter.

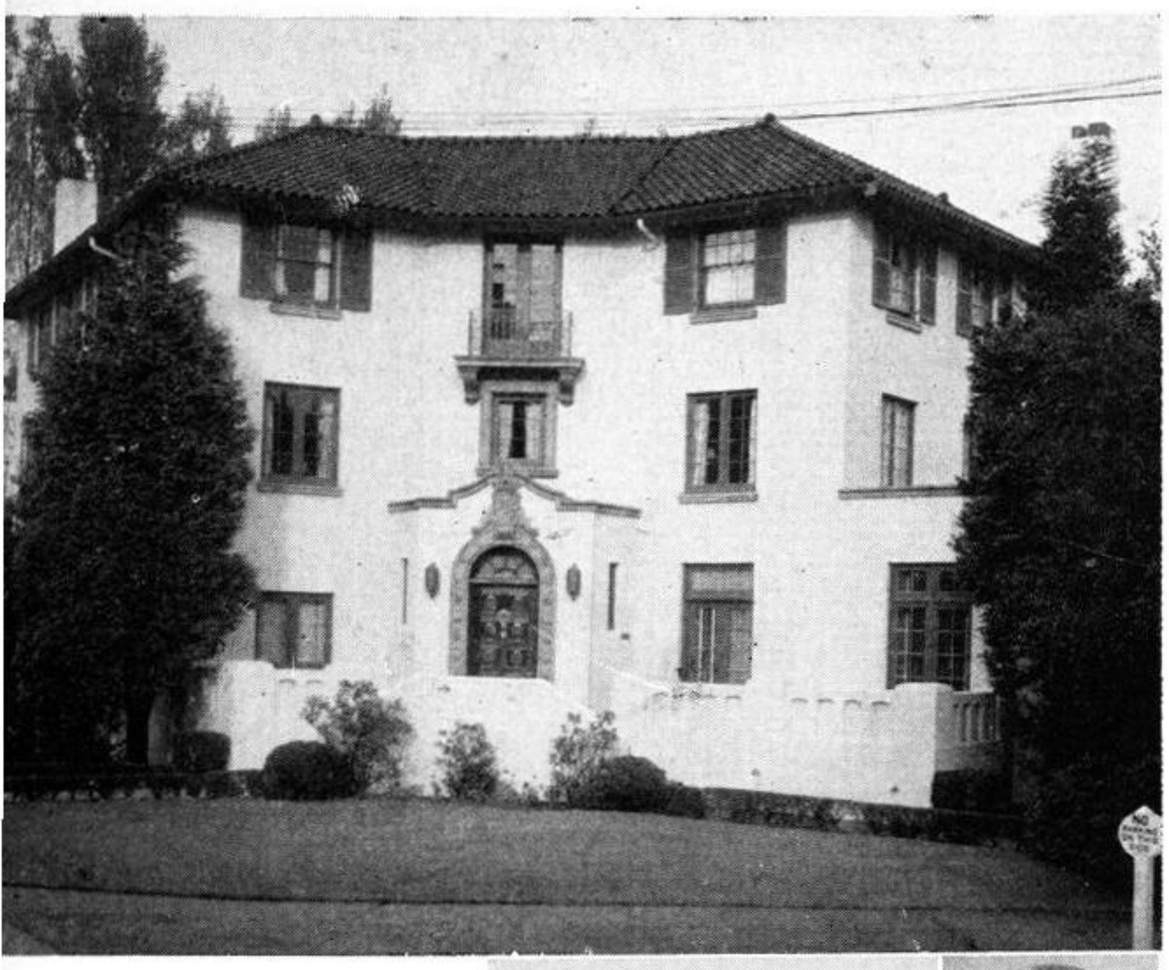

During spring quarter the informal "Thug dance," annual house party, numerous exchanges were found on the Beta calendar.

Realizing the goals of these activities while accentuating a spirit of friendliness and brotherhood, Beta Theta Pi has completed another successful school year in more than a half century on this campus.

The "Lodgemen" from the fraternity on the hill have chalked up another year of achievement in campus activities. This year, as in every year since its founding in 1921, Alpha Theta Delta of Chi Psi has upheld its tradition of leadership.

On the social side of the calendar, the pledge dance, Hunter's Frolic, Roman dance and the fabulous Spring formal were the standouts.

In the field of athletics, Chi Psi was prominent in both varsity and intramural competition winning the annual Broken Bowl game, 13-0.

A study program complete with tutor and text was initiated with huge success. The collective grade point was well above the all men's average, and the new program promises to keep the collective average consistently high in the future.

In campus activities, scholastic endeavor, athletic participation and social life, the men of Chi Psi did it again.

The Chi Psi Quartet sings for the pleasure of the brothers.

Delta Chi's relax with a quick hand of bridge.

1819 E. 47th St.

This disgustingly cheerful array of leering faces is all that remains of a once proud outfit—the Delta Chi fraternity. There once was a time when Delta Chi was the pride of the fraternity world—never went out with sorority women, couldn't get a sorority exchange on a bet, led a revolt against the evils of learning.

Then things began to go down hill. A bunch of pledges started reforms and revolutions. First they started taking out women, then they began having parties that people could walk away from, from there it was no time until Delta Chi started having exchanges—complete degradation.

The crowning blow came when the pledges raised the house grade point from its established position to within the top ten. Now sorority women nod to the Delta Chi's occasionally, no one kicks Clyde and threatening letters from the registrar are no longer delivered.

Deke, as Delta Kappa Epsilon is familiarly known, rose to new heights on the Washington campus during the past year. In addition to maintaining a superior scholastic standing the Dekes could point to participation by their members in a wide variety of activities. These ranged from the presidencies of both the Freshman class and Scabbard and Blade to Varsity and Freshman awards in Husky crew, football, skiing, golf, and tennis. Dekes were prominent on ASUW committees and, at the same time, the fraternity as a group could boast of a strong record in intramural sports competition.

Turning to the lighter side, a diversified social program rounded out the year for the fraternity. The Deke Informal and Christmas Serenade were held in the fall. The winter pledge dance and Sophomore Carnival together with the annual Spring Formal highlighted an eventful and successful social calendar.

Looking back, from the newest initiate to the graduating senior, the men of Delta Kappa Epsilon feel that this was a year filled with spirit and brotherhood not soon to be forgotten.

Delt's efforts to remain first on campus in scholarship seemed not to interfere with a full year of social, campus and group activities.

After the year's initial project—Homecoming—was over, Delt plunged into their fall social schedule, which was highlighted by the Pledge dance. After a series of firesides and exchanges, the quarter closed with the Dollar party, the annual Barn dance and the yearly active-pledge gridiron battle. For Yuletide festivities, Delts joined with the Tri-Delts for a Christmas serenade.

The big event of winter quarter was the Delt Winter Formal. Spring brought the week-end house party and Sophomore Carnival participation with Delta Gamma.

Activity-wise, Delts were prominent in many phases of student activities, providing chairmen for several major campus events, and were well represented in various clubs and honoraries, such as Purple Shield, Oval Club, Malamutes, Varsity Boat club and Phi Beta Kappa.

A successful 1952-53 school year has been chalked-up for all Delta Upsilon active members and pledges who participated in many facets of university life.

Outstanding social events included a pledge dance, Pajama dance, Brawl, Spring formal, Spring house party and pledge-active picnic. Fall quarter saw a third place finish for DU in homecoming sign competition, following last spring's second place trophy in Sophomore carnival.

The chapter maintains close relations with the alumni group, and the Founders' day banquet and year-end senior banquet were highlights of the year.

Not contented with prominence in activities, athletics and social life, the chapter succeeded in raising the house grade point appreciably.

The only fraternity on campus with a policy of non-secrecy, Delta Upsilon maintained a membership of approximately 85 with 44 men living in the house.

Alpha Omega chapter of Delta Sigma Phi, originally founded on the University of Washington campus in 1926, has experienced much growth since its return to the campus in 1947.

Fall quarter was highlighted with a Homecoming dance given by the alums and a Founders' Day banquet in December. Winter brought the annual Sailors' dance which is a national tradition of Delta Sigma Phi.

The spring formal was dubbed with the title "Carnation Ball' and was a big event for the chapter. Spring quarter ended with the annual cruise which was oceans of fun for all the members.

Intramural sports, exchanges, campus activities and scholarship were all a part of another great year for Delta Sigma Phi.

Music makes the world go 'round?

As another school year draws slowly to an end, the members of Gamma Eta chapter of the great Klan of Kappa Alpha Psi look back on many memorable event and occasions. In the community, the Guide Right Program was carried on. This program gives guidance to high school graduates planning to enter college. Health-Week activities, sponsored by the pledges, was another high spot.

Along the social whirl, the unforgetable "Evening Dansants" and the annual spring Black and White Ball, were highlights of a very busy season.

These are but a few of the reasons the men of Kappa Alpha Psi are heard to exclaim time and time again, "We wear the diamond."

Beta Psi chapter of Kappa Sigma is celebrating its fiftieth year on the University of Washington campus during 1953. Most any Kappa Sig will tell you the chapter is having a great year.

To start with, Kappa Sigma began the school year with a pledge class of thirty-four fellows. The house calendar throughout the entire year was crowded with dances and parties such as the pledge dance, Stardust ball and spring informal.

On campus the K-Sigs took part in such organizations as Purple Sheild, Oval club, Malamutes. In intramural sports the house performed most enthusiastically.

It might be well to mention that the fellows did have time to keep the grades up also.

As you can see, Kappa Sigma is celebrating its "golden year" at Washington in real style.

The scene: Lambda Chi house
The year: 1953
Three memorable quarters, the brothers agree.
Three quarters of quizzes, textbooks, term papers.
Not to mention some spirited Lambda Chi capers.

The Prison dance, with its suave, sophisticate air
Making one feel giddy, and reach for a chair.
The wild beat of the jazz band filled everyone's soul
To conquer the Charleston: each Lambda Chi's goal.

Pajama dance, firesides, exchanges, the formal
The following day spent returning to normal.
Singing in Songfest, our voices sublime
Though the sound of rehearsals was always a crime.

Finals week filled with its grind and frustrations,
The arrival of grades, the heart's palpitations,
The house grade point posted, to be read with a rush,
Those above dined on steak, the peons ate mush.

It was a real crazy year, on that we concur.
We'll do it again if the draft boards defer.
Here is the way we Lambda Chi's feel:
About fifty-three they all say, "It was real."

A nugget being entertained during rush week.

Beta Beta chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, one of the more than one hundred chapters located throughout the nation, passed through the 1952-53 school year with its usual social success. Outstanding events enjoyed by the brothers were the Underworld party, Frontier Daze dance, pledge formal, Shipwreck party and the well-known Dream Girl contest and dinner dance.

Exchanges with neighboring sororities helped to further the well-known friendship for which the Pi Kaps are known. Pi Kappa Alpha was active in all intramural sports and displayed sportsmanship and friendliness throughout the school year to place their house high in the rank of the fraternal world at Washington.

Between worrying about draft notices and going to weddings (Phi Kappa Tau's did plenty of both), the Phi Kap's found time for their annual Carnation ball, Founder's day banquet and pledge thug party. At the end of fall quarter finals they put up Christmas decorations in the wards at Firlands. The Phi Kappa Tau's found that community service was not hard to take, especially when the student nurses threw a party afterwards.

Realizing that college life must have something to offer besides social life, some of the members found time for a little school work. Bill Rae came through with memberships on the Engineering council and on Tau Beta Pi, while Bill Stinnette was selected for the Washington Law review.

Another year of not much work and a lot of fun lies in the past, but Phi Kappa Tau is looking forward to its 25th year on the University of Washington campus.

As Washington Alpha's fifty-second year on the campus draws to a close, its record continues to exemplify the high national standing enjoyed by the fraternity. A host of new members in the Purple Shield and Oval club as well as key figures in school athletics enhanced the reputation of Phi Delta Theta.

Twenty-three newcomers to the fraternity played a key part in an eventful year. The Phikieas were honored at the first social function of the year, the pledge dance. Closely following were the Beta-Phi Delt pajama dance, the Orphans' Christmas party and the Winter formal.

The house party marked the close of college days for the Class of 1953. Many thanks for what they've done, and may luck always be with them.

What makes a strong fraternity chapter? Take an association of men selected in their college days because of their adherence to common ideals. Encourage their development intellectually, physically and socially. Dedicate their loyalty, first to their chapter, second to the fraternity and third to the individuals that compose it. Bind its members together with strong internal policies that have kept the house unique and have endured the tests of fifty-three years on the Washington campus.

Blend with these policies an outstanding reputation for leadership in campus affairs. Strengthen its position of dominance with alumni. Augment the chapter with an impressive chapter house located as the cornerstone of Greek row. Back its strength with an equally strong national fraternity. Bear out its reputation with an intramural record of more championships won than any other competitor. The result . . . Sigma Tau chapter of Phi Gamma Delta.

1952-53 has been a great year for Phi Kappa Sigma in all respects. Among the many Phi Kap's in activities is the president of AMS, the president of Alpha Kappa Psi, business honorary, vice president of the sophomore class, an AMS senior award winner and the university yell king.

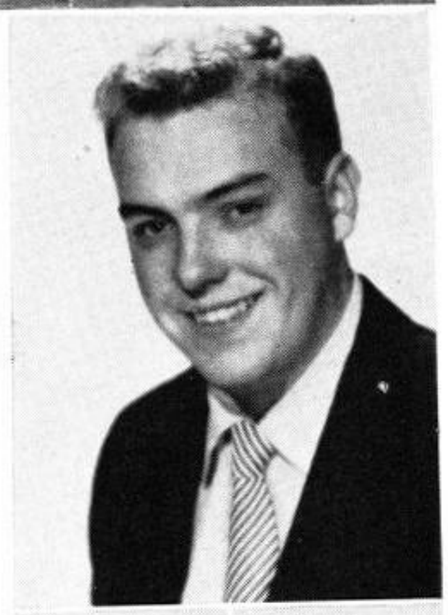

In the field of sports Phi Kap had its usual high number of big "W" winners and in intramural sports the football squad placed third. As always, Phi Kap parties were tops. The pledge "Go-to-Hell" dance, winter formal, spring informal and the house party were the most memorable.

In between the big social events were end of the quarter parties and dollar dances. Also, exchanges and firesides were enjoyed in the beautiful new recreation room used for the first time this year.

Even with all the activities and parties Phi Kappa Sigma didn't forget that the purpose of school is education. A substantial amount of time was devoted to the books.

Nineteen fifty-three marks the forty-eighth year of Phi Psi progress at the University of Washington and the one-hundredth and first year of national leadership.

Washington Alphans pride themselves on the conservatively conducted chapter that stresses internal strength as the basis for prominence. Active alumni associations make it a fraternity useful not only in college, but one that figures prominently in the years after college.

Phi Psi's participate actively in such University organizations as Malamutes, Big-W, Varsity boat club. Two Washington men were competing in the United States Olympic trials, while the mixed division of Songfest was won by Phi Psi.

Phi Psi's socialize in a big way with formals, the annual Fire party, pledge dance and "You Name It" and "You Can Keep It If You'll Feed It" party.

This has been a memorable year for Washington's Phi Sigs. They celebrated the 80th birthday of Phi Sigma Kappa on March 15, 1953, and Lambda Deuteron chapter marked its 30th year on the Washington campus.

Highlight of the year was the traditional Phi Sig Moonlight girl formal in February. Other important events were a burning-of-the-mortgage party and the fall quarter pledge dance—"Bear Hassel." Completing the social calendar was the annual Sunrise dance and breakfast in May.

Though the Phi Sigs had a lot of fun, they never forgot that the university is chiefly for study—they emphasized scholarship. Phi Sigs also participated in campus activities and intramural sports.

Psi Upsilon fraternity has been on the campus of the University of Washington since 1916. Highlights of the year have included the traditional pledge dance, winter formal, "Beachcombers' Brawl" and spring formal. The Christmas season brought another party to the orphans of the Seattle Children's Home from the Psi U fraternity.

The atmosphere at the house of Psi Upsilon is charged with the intensity of philosophical meditation generally associated with Tibetan Monastic Institutions. Naturally, such intellectual rigors preclude the normal, boyish expressions of happiness which characterize the ordinary fraternity. We believe that alcohol is the blood of the devil, cards are satan's instruments and merriment is evil.

So we stand: "A Gibralter of Morality in a Sea of Evil," as reflected in our motto, which translated means: "Eat, think and be miserable."

Pi Kaps will long remember the fun of 1952-53 with Homecoming, a Christmas party, pledge dance and Spring formal. It will be a long time before initiations and the West coast conclave is forgotten by the Pi Kappa Phi's. These things have kept the meaning of "fraternity" fresh in their minds.

Yet brotherhood is a better word, for that is the result of the numerous activities which helped bind the fraternity together. The true significance of brotherhood is often not realized until the year has ended and members have parted.

"College days come and go," is an empty saying. In Pi Kappa Phi, they come and stay. The memories of this year will not soon be forgotten. Pi Kappa Phi wishes success to the graduating brothers. As students of Washington, they wish: Good Luck, Class of '53!

Too bad they're only candleholders.

Some party!

The Sigma Pi's of the snake pit fraternity feel justified in making the following statement: Sigma Pi has the greatest little group of questionable characters, unusual characters and scholars that you will find anywhere. Except for spare ribs, which were outlawed, their kitchen puts out the best grub this side of the HUB.

The Sigma Pi's boast one foreign exchange student who hates women and lives on the third floor, two closet men, one varsity ping-pong player—of whom they are especially proud, one HUB wheel.

At chapter meetings terror reigns and frustration runs rampant. Yet the sterling president manages to keep things on an even keel from one week to the next. In closing the Sigma Pi fraternity reminds you of their strict scholarship rules—quiet hours from 10:00 to 10:30, three nights a week.

To the brothers of Sigma Alpha Mu, living together is one means of fulfilling the purpose of their creed:

. . . to foster and maintain among its sons a spirit of fraternity, a spirit of mutual moral aid and support.

In order to live up to such a strong ideal, it is necessary for each member to deeply feel this need for and purpose of brotherhood.

Sigma Alpha Mu incorporates in its program a central spirit of doing things together. In this way, each active in the fraternity has the opportunity of gaining this true feeling of fellowship, which in turn is grasped by the incoming freshmen.

In the words of our national fraternity song can best be found this continuous feeling of brotherhood passed on from our eight original founders:

Ever lasting, ever faithful,
Ever staunch and true,
Stands the brotherhood we've formed in
Sigma Alpha Mu.

To the utter dismay of the other clubs on Greek row, dear old Sig Alph opened its doors this year.

At the opening of hunting season this fall, the "hotel" interviewed hundreds of candidates who were applying for rooms. Only those who guaranteed advance payment and showed that they were of questionable character and high athletic prowess were considered. In the final analysis the "lion hunters" narrowed the field to some thirty "odd" fellows and initiated them into the caves of old Corregidor.

When Homecoming came around this year the Washington Alpha with its waterfall swept the field—a dedication to Alcoholics Anonymous. The alums who paid a visit to the home of the SAE's found the active members in good spirit and with open hands for contribution to build a new annex.

This year the house was run by a somewhat tormented lad from the latent county below the Delicious-Jonathan line. His companion, a somewhat better dressed fellow, answered to the name of Price, and his duty was to ease the monthly extortion from the members of the fraternity.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has chalked up another whopping year and will be back next year quivering with expectation.

Casual—that's the word for the Sigs. Looking back over the year, Sigma Chi is proud of its record, its high rank among Washington fraternities and most of all the fact that they had such a good time doing things together.

On the social side, the favorite brawl was the annual Sweetheart ball—but the pledge dance, Pajama dance and exchanges went over big too. Anyway, the Sig's always have a good time whever they go. The one big drawback of college life—education—raised its ugly head several times during the year and the boys did a good job keeping up the house grade point.

Down on the campus Sigma Chi's were prominent in all the activities. Several were key men in Howie O'Dell's grid forces, while others made tracks on the baseball diamond and cinder paths.
Casual?—that's what we said!

The '52-'53 college term brought the brothers of Sigma Nu another traditionally successful and remunerative year. Fraternity projects, campus activities, varsity sports, intramurals, parties, bullsessions and—yes, even studying were attacked with true Sigma Nu spirit and unity. Every minute was great!

Ever mindful of the Gamma Chi chapter's proud heritage on the U of W campus, the brothers achieved a bond of friendship within their membership that found expression in winning the Sophomore carnival two years in succession. Gay parties and dances highlighted the unmatcheable Sigma Nu social season. Although the Sigma Nus were always ready for a good time, many hours were also spent in study.

Upon looking back on the '52-'53 term, the brothers find themselves looking forward with undeniable satisfaction to another great year for the men who wear the White Star of Sigma Nu.

A new chapter house—the dream of Sig Eps for 30 years—became a reality this year. This structure is one of the many symbols of the progress of Sigma Phi Epsilon since their reorganization.

Activities have been many and well received. In the field of sports the football team roared to second place among 50 participants, while the swim team took fourth place.

With the opening of the new chapter house, many activities were called for, such as house warmings, parent's open house, Homecoming, Founder's day banquets and a Mothers' club tea.

Our 1952 pledge class is a living example of the advancement of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Their first project, the annual pledge dance, was one of the highlights of the year.

Sig Ep is ever looking forward to newer and brighter horizons. Always a liberal and progressive fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon will be an ever brightening star in the galaxy of campus life.

tau kappa epsilon

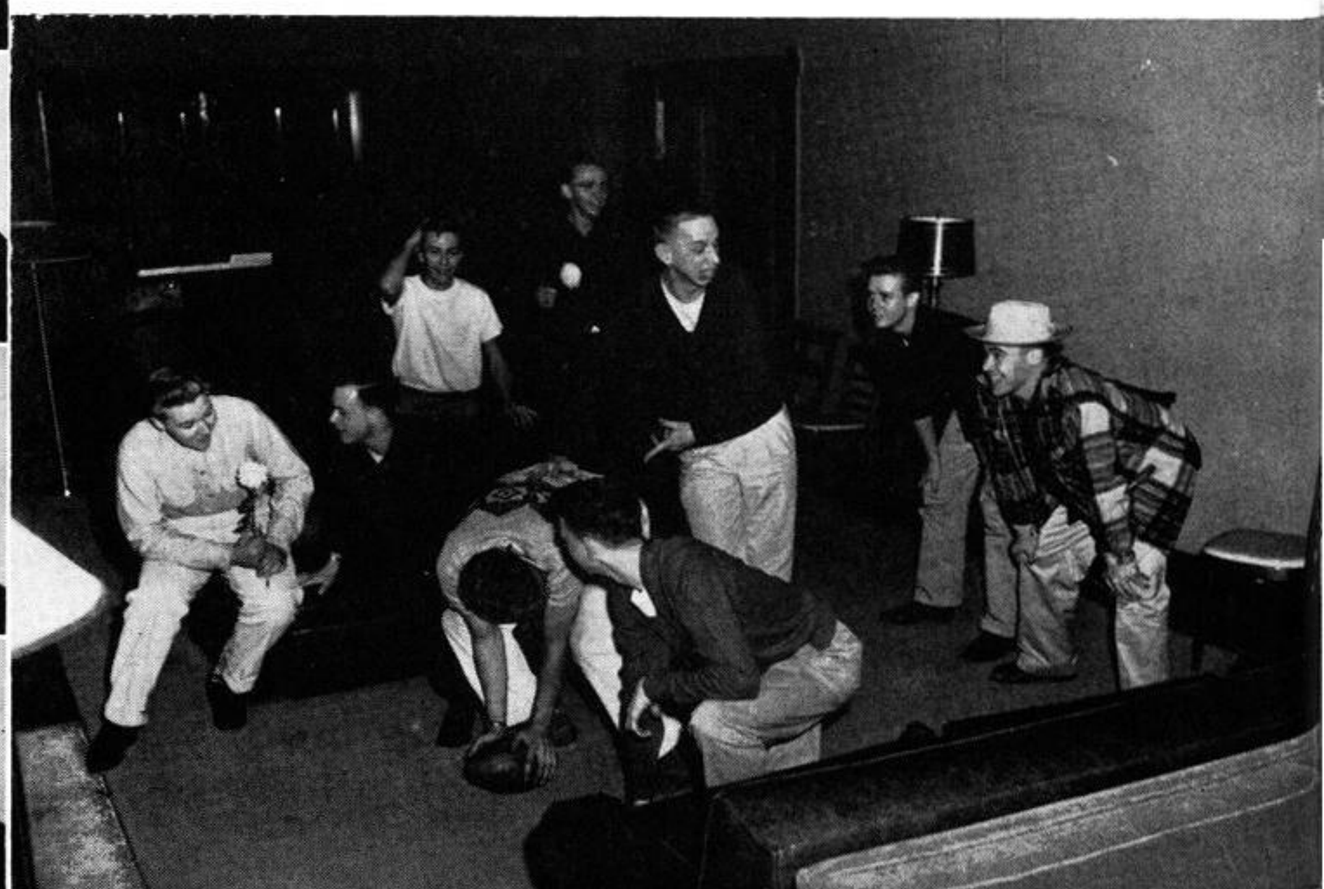

After adding an exceptional pledge class to the ranks in September Chi chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon went on to enjoy a year of scholastic achievement, social and campus activities and intramural sports.

Highlights of the social program were the pledge dance, the Teke "Totaler" and the Spring formal. Exchanges and firesides at the chapter house helped to round out the extra-curricular activities.

All types of campus activities were participated in by Tekes this year, as in previous years. Teke claimed representatives in Oval club, Purple shield, scholastic honoraries and various committees.

With the closing of another great year in Tekedom on the University of Washington campus, Tau Kappa Epsilon looks ahead to even greater years in the future.

tau phi delta

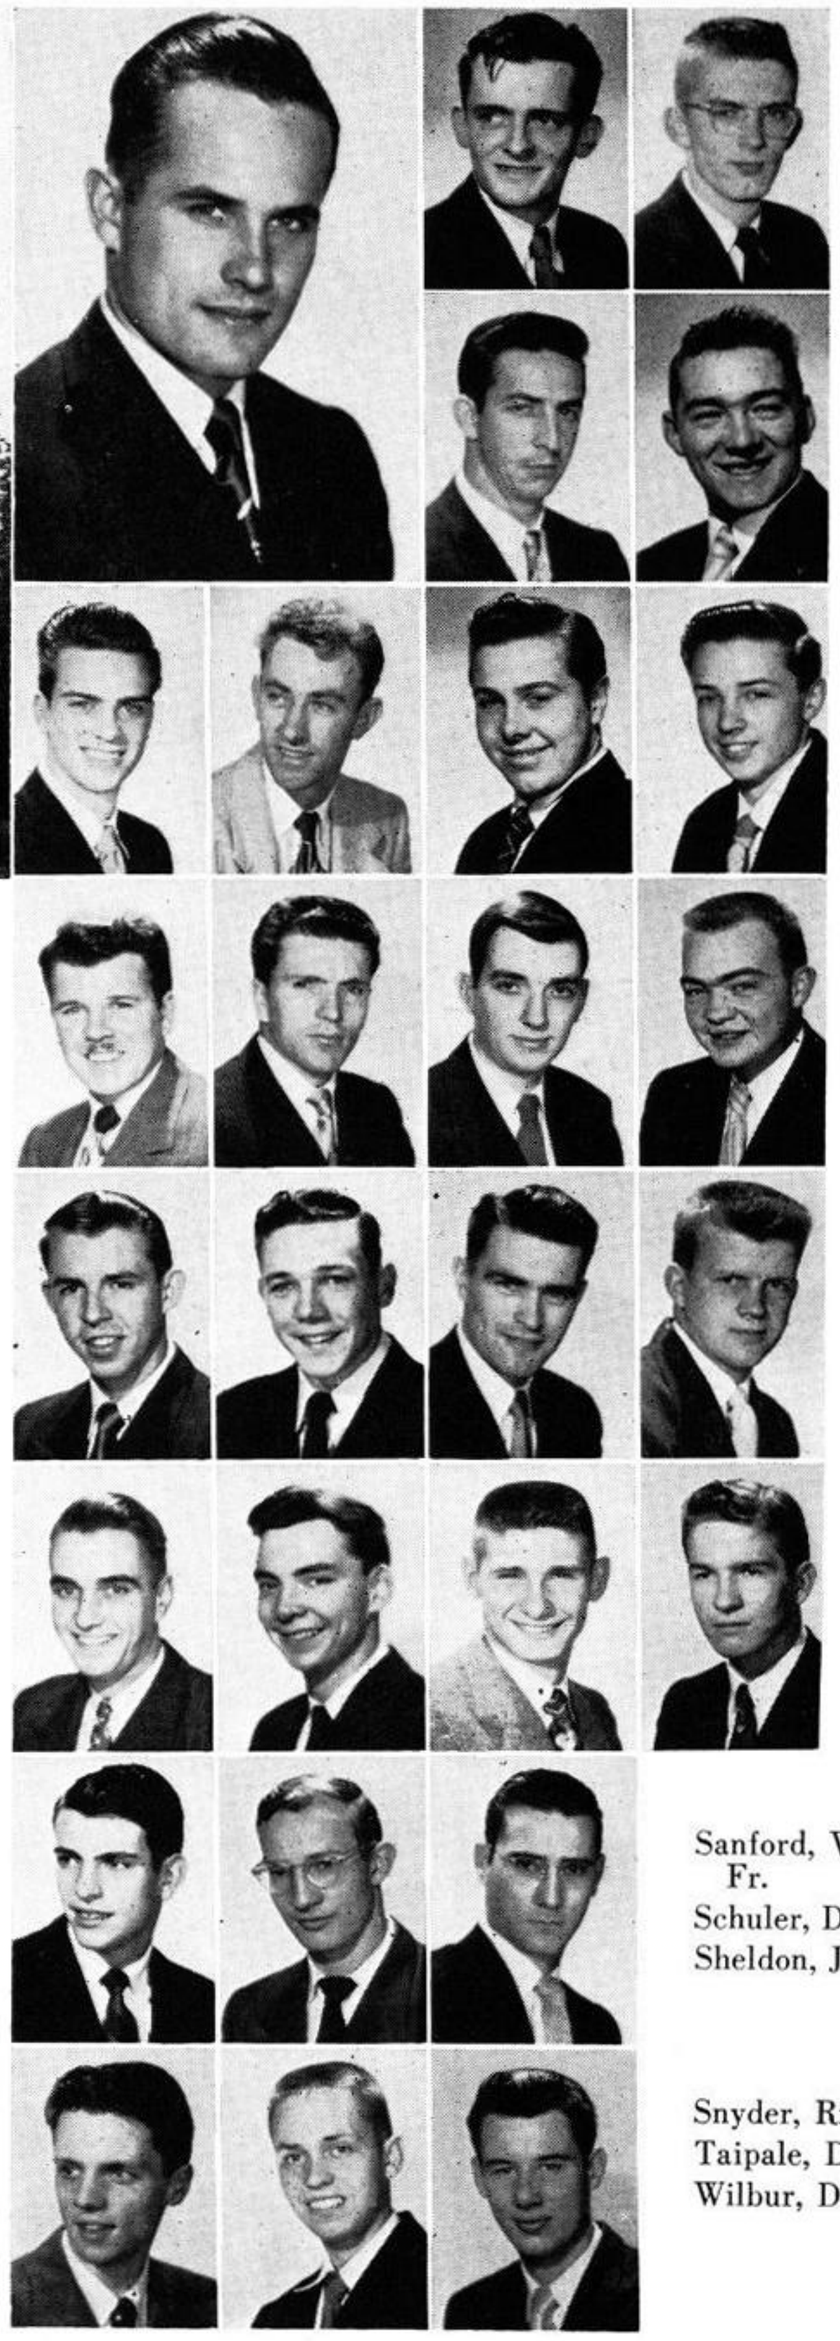

Tau Phi Delta is classed as a social fraternity but its membership is limited to students primarily interested in forestry.

Briefly, our purpose is to further the profession of forestry and allied subjects; to promote high scholarship in the College of Forestry, and interest in all forestry and associated activities by bringing to the undergraduate a more complete understanding of what has been accomplished in the pursuit of these professions; and to further establish the mutual benefits to be derived by cooperation.

Aside from our professional purposes, Tau Phi Delts maintain a well balanced social schedule highlighted by Homecoming activities in the fall. Tau Phi Delts also have a Winter formal, spring picnic, numerous ski parties, exchanges and firesides to round out the social calendar.

Having somehow managed to survive another year on the Washington campus, the jolly brothers of Theta Chi in the little brick house on 17th can look with pride and enjoyment to their past accomplishments and future depravities. It was just 28 years ago, the same year as the death of comrade Lenin, that the local tong was established; and today—still tinged in pink—we continue our gay, mad social whirl. (Mad, I tell you!)

Making a valiant effort to appear in "USA Confidential" our rec room was converted into a pool hall and opium den and our study rooms were equipped with telescopes. The boys also managed to pick up a few trophies this year, but we had to return most of them to their owners. We pay housebills at the point of a gun; we read Mickey Spillane novels; and through sheer determination our social standing among the sororities has been lowered considerably. Our alums are disgusted and our Mothers' Club shocked; we continue to avoid all-University functions, and after last year's parties the sorority girls avoid us.

Theta Delta Chi, founded in 1847 at Union college, this year celebrates its 40th anniversary on the University of Washington campus.

Theta Delt's are well represented in Oval club, Purple shield, Malamutes, Varsity Boat club, ASUW board of control, Big W club and numerous departmental honoraries. The intramural crew trophy resided in the house while several freshmen won their numerals and two of the brothers participated in the 1952 Olympic games at Helsinki, Finland.

The year was highlighted by the traditional pledge dance, "Singapore Sling" costume dance, Spring formal and the annually Theta Delt sponsored pre-election "Street dance" which has become an all university affair.

Theta Delt's caught in the act of pursuing a national pastime.

Another year has slipped by and one or two brothers of Theta Xi fearfully took their sheepskins in hand and ambled into oblivion. Everyone was well satisfied with the year—everyone, except the alums who always find something to moan about.

Theta Xi lads believe in the well-rounded personality so they tossed in an unusual number of blasts to prove it. The Logger's brawl was an unbelievable orgy featuring nothing. A few eagers made a perfunctory pass at politics, others bought their way into honoraries—not many however.

Everyone was shocked when a few pledges made their grades. The one wise-acre who made the 4.0 got bounced out in a hurry. Chapter meetings continue to accomplish nothing throughout the year. The life in the fraternity rambled on just the same.

Zeta Beta Tau of the twenty-first institute has once again finished a supremely ordinary year at the University of Washington.

Frank Parker was junior class prexy, while Jack Warnick served as AMS board-member-at-large. Marty Nudelman was a rousing cheer leader. Gary Shore, a J.V. golf letteman from last spring, was fed much yogert so he would bring home a varsity letter this year. Many of the men participated in various campus activities. Meanwhile, many others made honoraries. Zeta Beta Tau is now in the process of suspending the latter from the fraternity.

The majority of the ZBT's, who hang around the house, make the pledges take out girls and throw wild blasts.

"This then is Fraternity Life!"

The Zetes of the Phi Lambda chapter pride themselves on having a well-rounded membership. Attending college also includes maintaining a scholastic record, for each year the Zeta Psi Educational foundation gives a scholarship and achievement award to the outstanding member of each chapter.

Last year the house average was above the all-university and the all-fraternity average. The Zetes were also active in intramural sports and campus activities. Zeta Psi-Chi Psi football game, in which members vie for the Theta lamp, is one of the outstanding sporting events of the year.

Socially the Zetes, as always, had a varied and full year. Two costume dances, the Winter formal, plus many exchanges and firesides were big events of the year.

With the closing of another terrific year, Zeta Psi will be looking forward to fall and the beginning of another outstanding year.

Inter-Hall council's membership consists of representatives from the four Women's Residence halls. The council functions as a coordinating and governing body, promoting cooperation between campus and hall activities. It sponsors programs which affect all four halls, such as County Fair, the Foreign Students' banquet, Honors banquet, Parents' tea and the Spring formal. The council formulates hall policies in order to gain the best participtaion and enjoyment from group living.

IWA is an association for non-affiliated University women. Any woman student who lives in one of the seven organized houses for independent women is automatically a member of IWA; any non-affiliated woman student may be a member by becoming an associate member of one of the seven houses. IWA's purpose is to represent unaffiliated women in campus government, to coordinate the social and service activities of IWA groups, and to orient new women students in campus life. The IWA Council is the governing body.

Austin hall.

austin hall

Group living is fun at Austin hall where the girls enjoy a full college life consisting of social and academic activities. Democratic ideals are put into practice through a well-developed student government and support of the Honor system.

As a group Austin hall has won the Inter-hall scholarship cup, first place in the women's division of Songfest and the first place women's Bowling trophy.

For their service project, the girls have taken part in the Inter-hall CARE and war orphan program. Austin is well known for its music majors who often make the halls ring with merry notes as they share their talents with fellow residents.

blaine hall

Through cheerful friendly cooperation of all the girls, Blaine hall attains its goals.

Blaine hall is active in a variety of campus activities and holds top honors in such things as sports, music and scholastic standings. Many activities sponsored by the hall itself include mixers, exchanges, firesides, highlighted by the Winter formal. In cooperation with the other halls, Inter-hall spring formal, County fair and the Honors banquet are annual functions which indicate the versatility, outstanding talents, friendliness and intelligence of the girls in Blaine.

leary hall

Leary hall participates in the traditional social events and activities of the Inter-Hall council. They take part in the elaborate Spring formal, the Honor banquet, Foreign student banquet, Parents' tea and other outstanding events. But besides the participation of Leary girls in Inter-Hall functions, they take part in the activities of their own hall. During the year they entertain with mixers, exchanges, date dances, formals, Christmas carolling and compete in the Spring songfest.

Scholastic achievement is encouraged and the award of the Inter-Hall scholarship cup is a goal well worth striving towards. The girls of Leary are very proud of their achievements both as a group and as individuals as they have worked in campus activities and in the class rooms.

mckee hall

Residents of McKee hall live in an atmosphere that is entirely collegiate. What else could you expect when over 100 girls are centralized in the warm and friendly atmosphere that all of the dorms provide? While over 400 girls are housed in all of the dorms, each section has all the comforts and necessities of college life. McKee hall carries on a complete social program of its own, as well as helping to support the high University scholarship average.

eklind hall

So you're going to be a nurse—that's wonderful! Nursing is a career in which any young woman of today can take part with pride. Her days will be brimming over with experience which comes only from close interrelationship with people—and people are interesting. She enjoys the present security and promise of continued learning throughout her life.

While she equips herself with the many tools she will need as a graduate nurse working in her chosen field, public health nursing, general duty nursing, pediatrics, communicable disease and psychiatric nursing are all integral parts of her training. Here at the University of Washington the student nurse affiliates with Tacoma Indian hospital, Firlands and Northern State hospital to gain added experience in these specialized fields. This and two years of campus life fills the four and a half years of a student nurse's education.

All work and no play is no fun at all, so the student takes time out for parties, dances and University activities. Trips to the ocean rank high during the summer months and trips to the mountains are many during the winter months.

Recognizing the importance of health in the world today, the student will graduate and become a part of one of the professions which will be foremost in paving the way to a happier world in which to live by making it a healthier world in which to live.

The nursing goal is a serious one with a lot of hard work, but student nurses take advantage of the recreational opportunities and prove that diversion is important too.

Harborview hall.

Final plans made with Dean Patterson before leaving the campus for study in the clinical division.

school of nursing

Upon the completion of two and one-half years of study on campus where she gains "background," the pre-nursing student then enters the clinical division for her nursing experience at Swedish, King county and Doctor's hospitals.

During her last quarter on campus she commutes to the hospital two days a week for pre-clinical experience. This period offers her a chance to become acquainted with the hospital routine and decide if she and nursing are compatable. At the end of these three months she is presented with a white cap, the badge of a full-fledged student nurse, at a very impressive ceremony. She may then join the other students in residence at Harboview hall across the street from King county hospital.

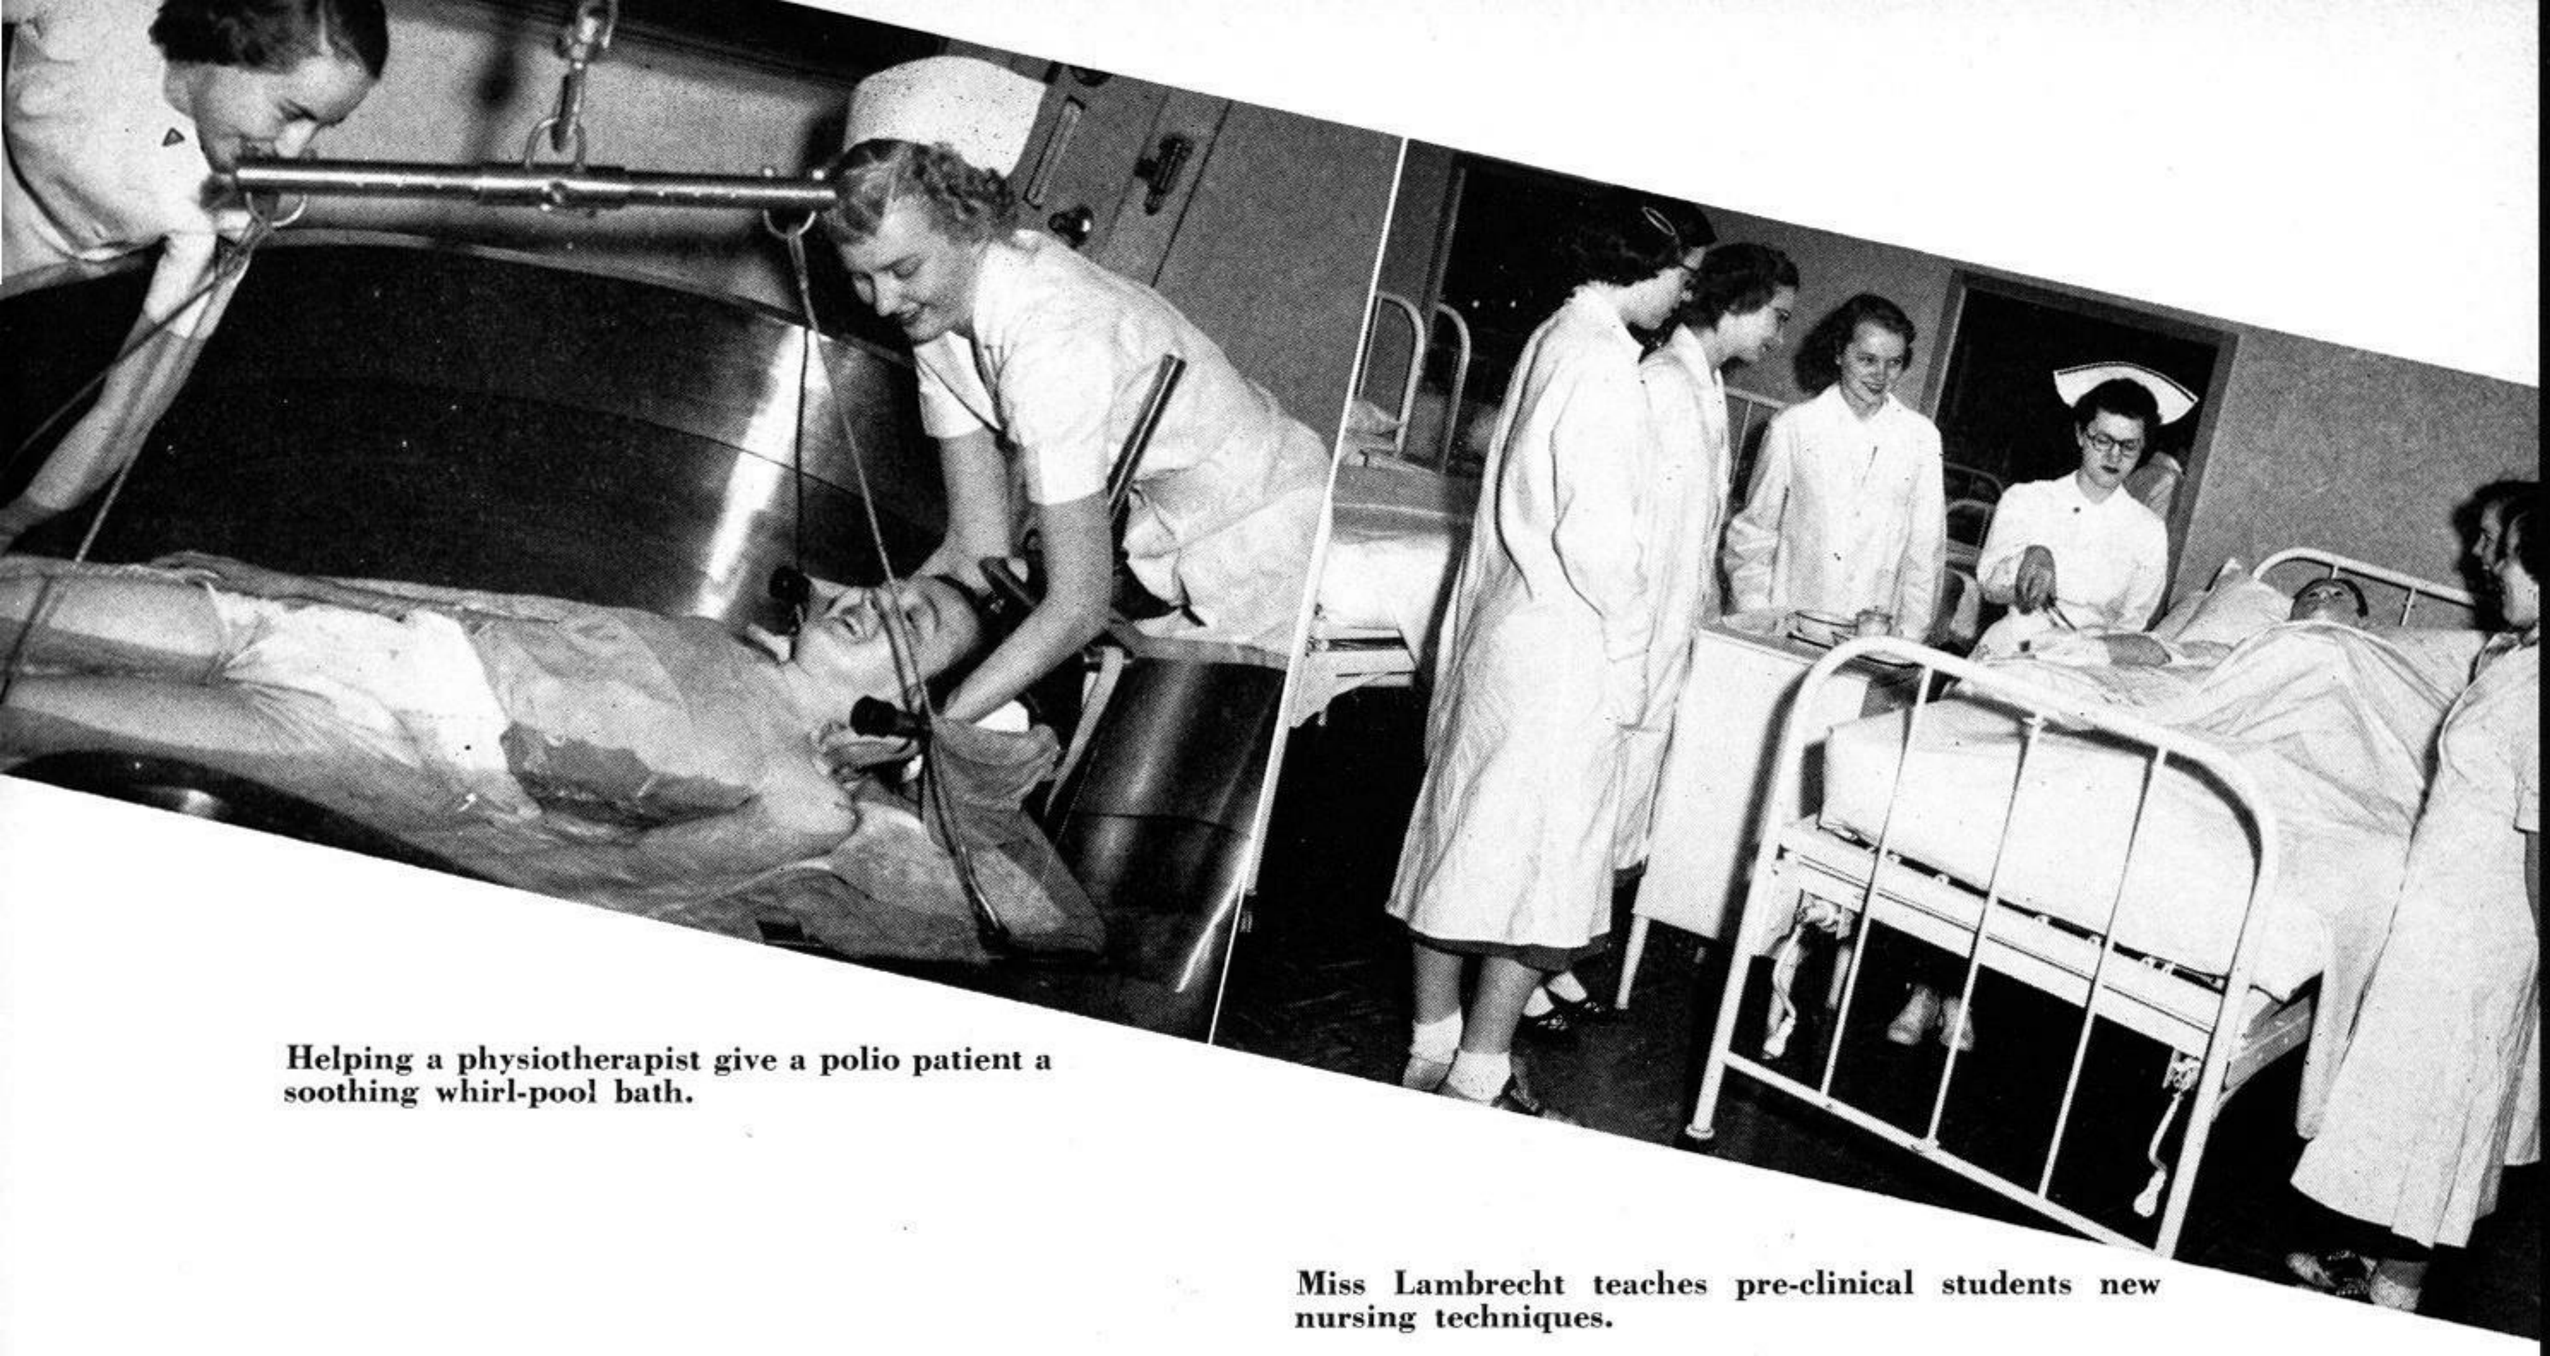

Two and one-half years in the professional curriculum are ahead of her. During this time she receives experience in the various fields of nursing. Experience in the special fields of nursing are provided in the other University teaching units—Tuberculosis nursing at Firland sanatorium, Psychiatric nursing at Northern State hospital and Public Health nursing at Seattle-King county Health department.

Miss Lambrecht teaches pre-clinical students new nursing techniques.

harborview division

Many off-hour activities are available to Harborview students. Classes take turns publishing the "Chronic Complainer," a bi-monthly paper featuring news of hospital and residence happenings. The students present an annual spring Variety show utilizing student talent. The student chorus brightens the Christmas holidays for patients by caroling in the hospital corridors. Religious fellowship and study is offered by the Harborview Christian fellowship which meets each week. Spontaneous gatherings and surprise showers and birthday parties are an almost nightly occurance. To relieve the strain of Wednesday afternoon classes, Miss Hoffine, the residence director, serves tea in the large, attractive lounge.

The governing body of Harborview hall, under ASUW jurisdiction, is the Student Council composed of officers elected every six months and representatives from each class. The meetings of the council are open to any student who wishes to attend.

At the end of her four-year program the student nurse is granted the Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing and is prepared to accept first level positions in both Institutional and Public Health nursing. She receives the pin of her school and the "W" on her nurse's cap which identifies her as a professional nurse.

macgregor house

Macgregor house, founded in 1933, is the largest of the Student Cooperative houses and one of the most active. Intramural sports, dinner exchanges, mixers and the traditional Macgregor Barn dance helped set a fast social pace.

House presidents Lyle Laughead and Russell Sherman have worked hard this year in organizing house activities and in emphasizing the principles of democratic living. Macgregor house has an excellent educational program and ranks among the top houses in scholarship.

Democracy in action and the cooperative spirit are bywords in life at Rofcre. Today it is one of the largest of men's co-op houses on the campus and one of the most active of the men's independent houses. Participation in intramural sports and campus activities are enthusiastically followed by the members.

One of the big social functions of the year is the annual "French Dance," which is held each winter quarter. In the spring many outings and picnics are planned to give the group a full social calendar for the school year. All is not play, however, as in the past Rofcre has ranked high scholastically among men's organized houses on campus.

The co-educational system at Synadelphic has completed its second successful year. Synadelphic consists of two houses: house "A" for girls and house "B" for boys. The main floor of house "A" is shared by both groups for meals, study times, coffee snacks and social hours. The objective of this type of living is to provide the closest possible environment to that of home life, yet furnishing the social activities and experiences of a college group.

The Synadelphic goal is achieved through the sharing of house government, responsibilities and fun. Joint house meetings are held to discuss mutual plans for such events as dances, firesides and theatre parties. In addition each house has its own officers who are responsible for their individual house. Together the two groups serve meals, take hostess duties, wash dishes and enjoy recreation together.

Based on the idea of cooperative living, McLean house is proud of its progress and achievement.

McLean is noted for its hospitality and friendliness. Interests vary from athletics to the fine arts and scholarship. The social program exemplifies this spirit with dinner parties, mixers, taffy pulls, square dances and informal gatherings of other Coop members and their friends.

Traditional to McLean is the "Pink Garter" dance, set in a Gay Nineties mood with every house member becoming an entertainer for the occasion. Christmas tradition includes "Schmoo Week."

dotson house

Dotson house is the latest addition of the Student Cooperative association to the men's organized house at Washington. The house was organized in the fall of 1952 in the former Chi Phi fraternity house, 4521 19th Ave. N.E.

Charter members include eight international representatives from Japan, India, Norway and Hawaii and eighteen members from the state of Washington. The group was first designated at X-house, but was soon named in honor of Verner Dotson, an original member of the U of W SCA advisery board.

The men of Dotson participated in various campus activities including athletics, music, drama and journalism, and had a league champion bowling team. Dotson also scheduled a number of social functions with organized women's social groups.

cascade hall

Looking forward to the opening of the new men's dorms next fall, Cascade hall undertook this year's activities with new vigor and expectation. Members spent the year in an improvement program, which included the "shaping up" of Cascade's physical assets, which are too few.

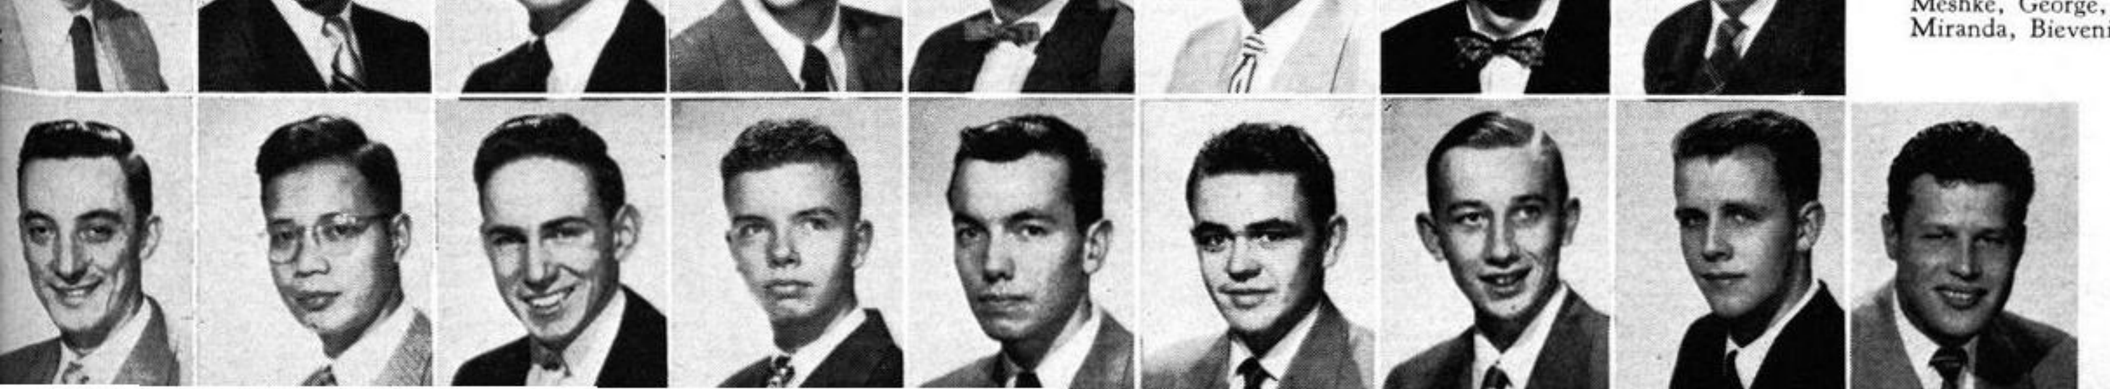

On an individual basis, house members, a large percentage of which are foreign students, took an active part in such organizations as Organizations Assembly, Interhall council, Malamutes and MOHC, as well as many ASUW committees and scholastic honoraries and intramural sports. All phases of campus academic life are represented by the over 150 Cascadians now but not for long, able to rise in the morning and gaze thoughtfully over lovely Frosh Pond in the middle of the University campus.

chelan hall

Chelan hall is the finest example of the Rabbit-Hutch school of architectural thinking to be found anywhere in the country. This hutch was desperately needed to house the flood of returning World War II veterans. At the time, the Bell Telephone company found itself, due to the tragic oversight of an apprentice booth-designer, with several hundred booths on hand that were too small to accommodate the telephone. The company generously donated the booths, which were stacked side by side under a common roof and numbered —and we now have Chelan hall.

Some 200 students exist in the cubicles, furnishing sociology majors with a prime study of human compressability. Not since the Black Hole of Calcutta have so many lived in so little.

rainier hall

Rainier hall is one of the largest and most active independent men's group at the University of Washington. During the past year, the hall has been very active in intramural sports, but these have not monopolized Rainier's time. Members have participated in a full schedule of social activities, which included exchanges with several women's organizations. Rainier hall again upheld its scholastic honors by being ranked near the top of the men's living groups. The hall is looking forward to more successful years.

Synkoa is an organization of friendship among its members and with other students on campus. The clubhouse, established in 1920, affords a comfortable and convenient living quarters as well as a popular activity center for the members and their friends during their float hours. The club enters basketball, bowling and softball teams in intramural league play.

The club's principal activities include the annual Homecoming banquet and dance; bowling, golf, and basketball tournaments; pledging; a banquet honoring the graduating seniors; annual spring picnic, and a variety of other functions.

Synkoa was named in memory of former club members who gave their lives while serving with the armed forces during World War II.

Under construction on the border of the University of Washington campus is the luxurious and much needed men's dormitory. A masterpiece in modern architecture, the new resident hall strikes its impressive pose just west of 15th Avenue and the academic buildings. The building is designed with 575 double-units and it is the hope of everyone concerned that it will be ready to house men students in all fields by the fall of '53. At present the cost of board and room per quarter is estimated at $190. Such modern living facilities as these will be a big step forward in growth and development for the University of Washington.

"Famous for Friendliness" is the motto which the Phratereans have no trouble at all living up to. It comes almost automatically—at barn dances, slumber parties, ski week ends and well, you name it.

Open to all women on the campus, Phrateres-participation in sport, social and service affairs means an added "something." Phrateres is an international social and service organization, and adelphi

Adelphi clubs are groups of independent men, banded together to further some common purpose. These clubs are kept small so as to maintain close relations between the members. Each club elects its own officers and carries on its own social program in cooperation with the other Adelphi clubs.

Adelphi signifies brotherhood and fraternal fellowship. This name was suggested as a fitting symbol for the organization by the late Professor Edmund Meany. Its aim is to give its members training in leadership, and through social activities, make their careers more fruitful and enjoyable.

Sororia was organized at the University of Washington in 1910 to bring together mature women students, both married and unmarried, enrolled for either graduate or undergaduate studies Its purpose is to promote friendship and mutual interests, both academic and social. The group is fostered by a strong alumnae who aid in the social program with interesting functions for the campus group such as the annual get-acquainted tea, a Christmas party for members in the city during the holidays, a summer picnic and a graduate breakfast honoring the current year's graduates.

A new organization on campus is the Filunist club which is composed of Filipino students. The purpose of the Filunist's is to get better acquainted with foreign students on campus, to draw the individual group of Filipino students on the campus closer together and to encourage other Filipino students to study at the University of Washington. One of the highlights on the social calendar for the group is their participation in the annual International banquet. They take part in the foreign student tour and this year have sponsored a dance in cooperation with Filipino students attending Seattle University. Though the group is a small one, it is active in many areas of campus activity.

estonian club

Founded in November of 1952, the Estonian club participates in most student activities, especially in those offered by the Foreign Students' office and the Cosmopolitan club. In connection with the 35th anniversary of the Estonian Republic, an Independence Day program was presented March 1, including folksongs and dances in national costumes, speeches and a display of Estonian handicraft. National food was served and records played. During International Festival week, March 1-6, Estonian handicraft was displayed and records played in the HUB. The club's folk dance group of eight participated in the foreign students' show, "Vagabond Road."

The YMCA-YWCA of the University of Washington has completed an active and meaningful year having carried out its objectives: social responsibility, religious understanding, personal development and effective organization.

A fun-filled weekend at Frosh Camp in September acquainted new students with fellow students and with the University. Election year brought a crowded, non-partisan forum program in which candidates presented their views for interested students. International Banquet was a gala Thanksgiving dinner for 480 American and foreign students. The Nickel Hop, which is fast becoming a school tradition, brought a return of $225 for Campus Chest. The "Y" community service program placed nearly ninety students as volunteer workers in social agencies throughout the community. Faculty firesides, religious discussion groups, parties and special projects helped complete an enjoyable and worthwhile program.

baptist disciple student fellowship

The Baptist-Disciple Student Center located at the corner of 45th and 15th Ave. N.E. provides an opportunity for social awareness, Christian growth and personal development. One aspect of the program is the forum held each Sunday evening at the center. A varied social program includes banquets, parties and picnics.

The Student Center welcomes not only Baptist and Disciple students but anyone who is interested in studying the areas covered by the four commissions: Christian Faith and Heritage, Social Responsibility, World Relatedness and Personal and Campus Affairs.

The Sunday evening supper meetings, the highlight of the week, are held at the University Lutheran church, including worship, speakers and discussion. A graduate-student and faculty discussion group led by the faculty members on their own field as it relates to Christianity, has aroused enthusiastic responses.

canterbury club

As a supplement to the academic life at the University, Canterbury club, a national association for Episcopal students, was organized on the campus in 1932. Canterbury club provides a center for fellowship and a focal point for spiritual, intellectual and social life. The club covers six main fields of interest: worship, study, evangelism, service, unity and giving.

Sunday suppers followed by Evensong, discussions and various other programs are a club activity. The members teach Sunday school, sing in the choir and help out on a service for patients in the Firlands sanatorium.

The social calendar includes an annual cold turkey feed in December, Shrove Tuesday pancake supper, retreats, a Spring formal, the Hale Hop, as well as picnics, beach parties and informal get-togethers.

Rich experiences in Christian living are gained by members of Kappa Phi, a national organization for Methodist college women. In fulfillment of their purpose, "every Methodist woman in the university world today a leader in the church of tomorrow," individual members participate in a variety of spiritual, cultural and social activities.

Dinner meetings are held twice monthly at Wesley house. At this time programs are presented, centered around the current theme, "Freedom's Holy Light." Student-led chapel services follow.

Kappa Phi recognizes the value of Wesley club activities Sunday morning church, the student pastoral and teaching ministry and encourages participation. Growth and fellowship are a part of this joyous experience of Christian sisterhood.

Westminster club is the focal point of Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church, USA, on the university campus. For Presbyterian students and their friends, it is the center of Christian activities. The organization provides an opportunity for spiritual and mental growth in the areas of Christian faith, fellowship, citizenship, witness and outreach.

Students are always welcome at Westminster house. They are welcome to drop in for personal counselling or a friendly visit with the director, the Reverend James Bell, or for informal chats and discussions with other students, or for study and recreation.

This past year the program of Westminster Fellowship on the campus has included Sunday evening firesides, Tuesday noon Bible study, mid-week dinner programs. Other activities have included deputations, work parties and social events.

wesley club

Wesley club is the official student organization of the Methodist church on state college and University campuses. It promotes Christian fellowship, worship and developing of the Christian life for all students, both men and women. Sunday evening firesides, Thursday noon chapel service, student led, and other activities during the week all lead up to this idea of Christian fellowship, play and learning.

New members are welcomed into Wesley club at an annual fall "retreat." Other special activities include a Christmas banquet for foreign students, alums and members. Gifts collected at this function are sent to the Everett Children's home.

christian science organization

4305 15th Ave. N.E.

A shaded spot on 15th provides a pleasant "campus home" for Christian Science students and faculty members.

Christian Science organization at the University of Washington was formed in 1917 by seven students, guided by the provisions in The Mother Church Manual of Mary Baker Eddy. Then, as today, the students were "consecrating themselves, their thoughts, words and actions to the service of humanity, and to the sacred course of Truth as taught in Christian Science."

The organization's primary activity has always been its weekly religious meeting, which includes testimonies of healing through the applied undesrtanding of Christian Science. These meetings are held in Eagleson hall every Thursday evening of the school year, including examination weeks, at 7:45.

Students, faculty members and friends are also welcomed at the organization's annual lecture, given by a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The organization student house at East 43rd and 15th N.E. was purchased in 1945 with the help of alumni and friends. At the house, students may read or borrow the Bible and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, study their University work, eat their lunches and enjoy satisfying friendships. The present structure is soon to be replaced by a modern building which will provide adequate space for all organization activities, including the Thursday evening meetings.

The second-floor sun porch is a quiet, convenient place for study.

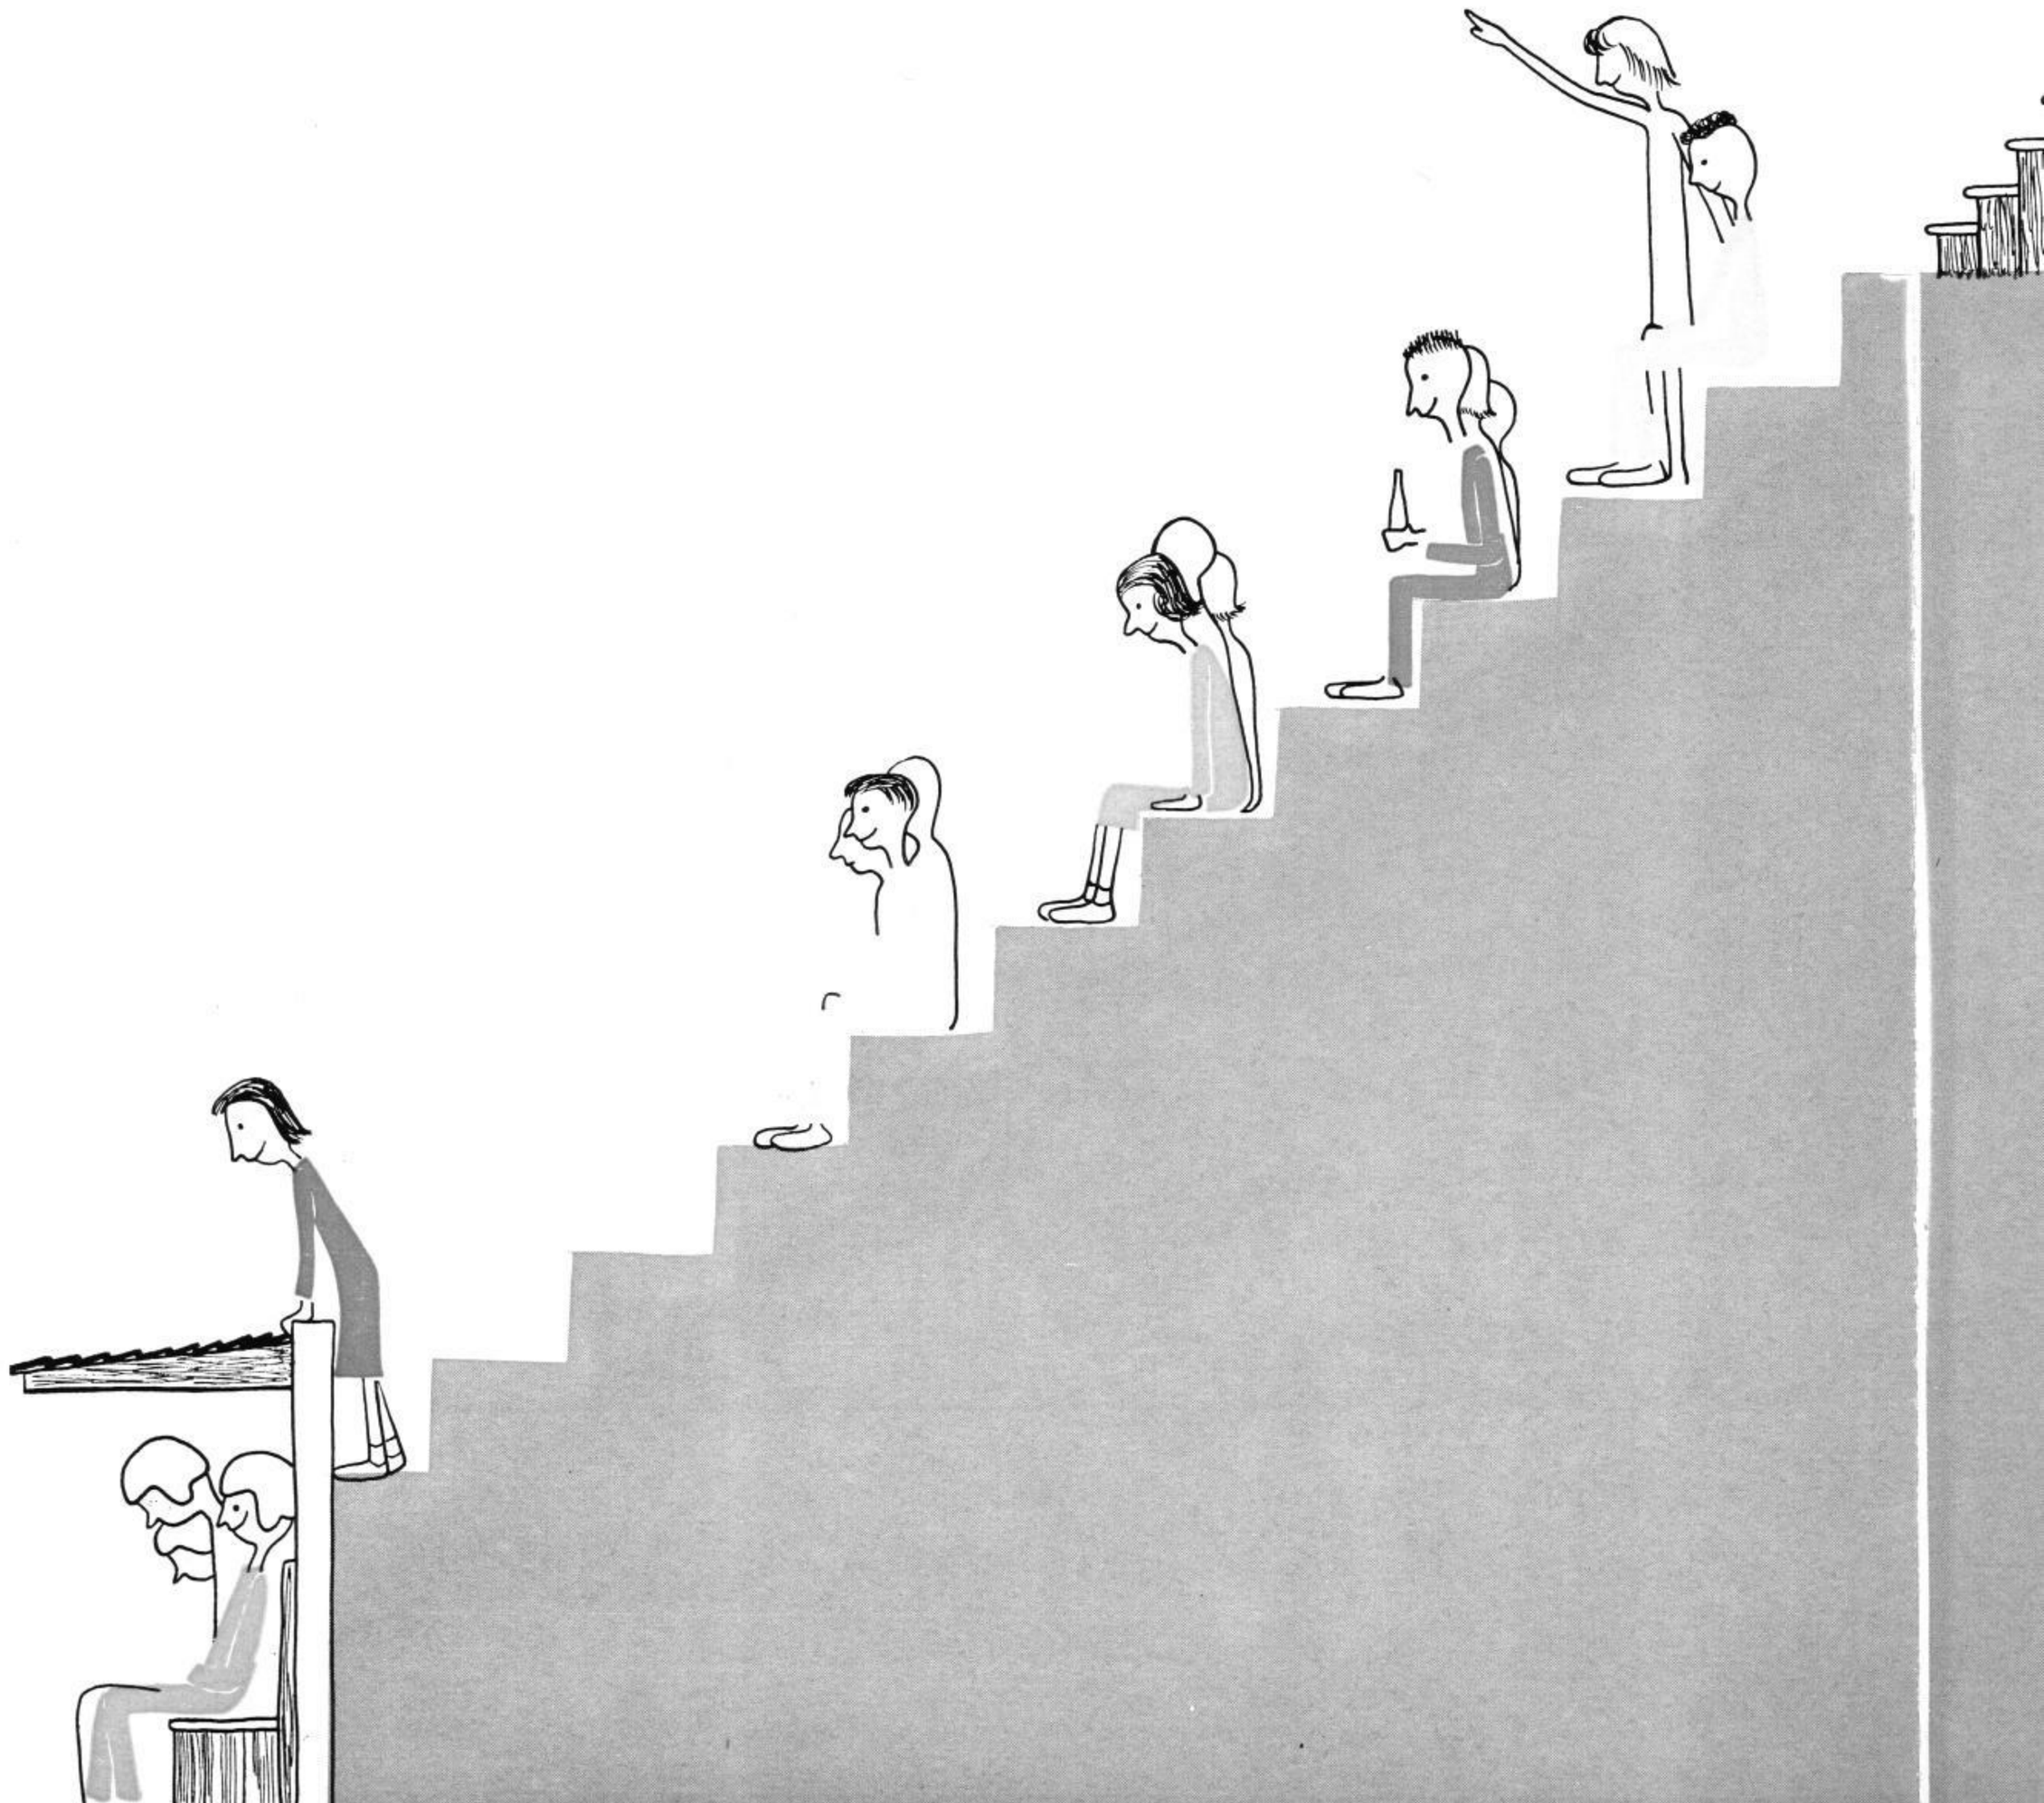

The Christmas spirit reigns at the organization house.

The Big "W" Club has as its objectives the furthering of interest in athletics at Washington and the creating of closer bonds between athletics of the various sports. Membership in the club is open to all men who have won a varsity award in a major sport. It holds meetings twice a month and sponsors an annual picnic and dance.

Membership in Husky Swim Club, which is organized mainly to create enthusiasm for swimming, is open to all boys who attend membership meetings. In recent years the club has gained campus fame by its production of the Aqua Follies, presented in conjunction with the Silver Fish Swim Club. The club also sponsors the yearly State-Wide Coaches' Swim Clinic. Each year an inspirational medal is presented to the club's outstanding freshman and senior members. This medal is presented to further sportsmanship and effort.

Activities of the busy Husky Winter Sports club have been varied and plentiful this year. Chuck Stoy, club president, and adviser Dick Knott successfully led the club in a student ticket drive which entitled them to a season of skiing and also provided improvements of the University ski area at Stevens pass.

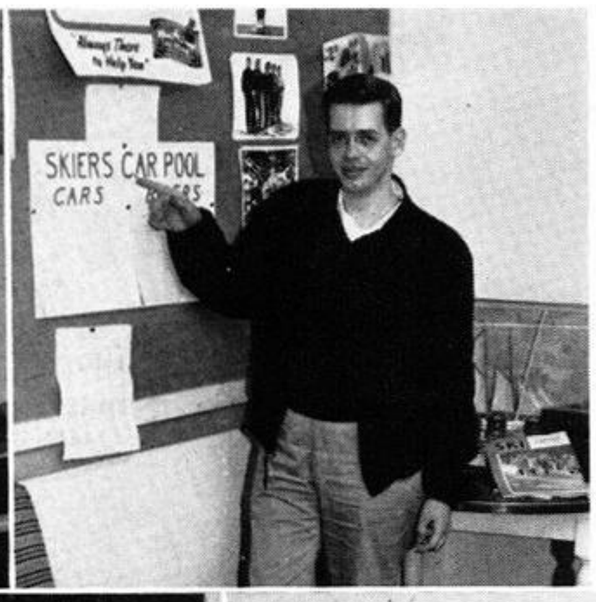

Perhaps the biggest event of the winter season is the Husky Ski Carnival and this year the HWSC engineered one of the best carnivals in history. The 1953 Carnival Queen was Ruthie Schram who presented the trophies for the various races.

The Varsity Boat Club, composed of crew men who have either rowed for six quarters or have earned Varsity or JV letters, provides social activities to supplement the hard work of the oarsmen.

The Commodore and members sponsor dances throughout the year, and a banquet for all crew men in the Spring. Membership in this elite club is by election and enables the oarsman to wear the well-known VBC crew jacket.

baseball 1952

Climaxing a successful season, the Husky diamond squad shared top Northern Division honors with Oregon State. Under the able leadership of coach Warren Tappin and team captain Bob Morrison the Pups romped through the season with a record of ten wins against six defeats. This was the first time since 1932 that a Washington baseball team has won or shared a title. However, Oregon State, because of their three to one edge in the OSC-Washington series, represented the Northern Division in the Coast playoffs.

Right fielder GORDY RODLAND swings—and misses.

Individual standouts in the squad included pitcher and first baseman Bob Houbregs, short stop Bill Earley, third baseman Bill Stuht, catcher Sam Mitchell, and pitcher Bob Bell, all of whom were named to the All-Northern Division team selected by coaches and publicity directors. Sam Mitchell was also named to the All-Coast first team, while Bill Stuht captured honors on the second All-Coast team.

When it came to weilding the war clubs, the Huskies more than proved their worth. From the plate Bill Early led the Northern Division with a batting average of .449, closely followed by teammates Garner (.393), Houbregs (.354), Mitchell (.333) and Stuht (.322).

From the mound, Bell with a record of five out of six was the Husky mainstay. Dick Murchy seemed to be the only Husky pitcher with Oregon State's number, polishing them off 10 to 6, to account for his record of one win and no losses. Other hurlers were Chuck Magnuson, Jim Rothaus and Bob Houbregs.

Four first prizes were awarded at the seventeenth annual All-University Song Fest in May. Blaine Hall won the small ensemble division for the second straight year, while Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Kappa Psi took first in the mixed groups. Alpha Delta Phi copped the Men's division, and Austin Hall received the Women's award.

Sponsored by Malamutes and the Rally Girls, the Song Fest was held in the Quad. Judging was based on interpretation, tone, technique, and organization.

Climaxing the evening was the announcement of the pledges to Fir Tree, Senior men's, activity honorary; and the announcement of Lee Levy as Mr. Formal of 1952.

The Washington netters started the Northern Division tennis season by playing the opening game against the Oregon State Beavers. They subdued the Beavers by a decisive 7 to 0 win. Coach Windy Langlie had every reason to be pleased with his team's performance against the Beavers. His highly-touted freshman doubles team, Bill Quillian and Don Flye, trounced the top OSC pair, Don Megale and George Allison, 6-0, 6-1, in their collegiate debut and both won their singles play while veterans Lou Wick and Jerry Kirk combined to win the other doubles match for the Huskies and Wick added the fifth win in singles play. The Huskies then headed east for an encounter with Idaho. There they again added another victory to their record by a 7 to 0 win over the Vandals. They also took Washington State 7 to 0 at a game in Pullman. The Northern Division title was put on the block when Washington and Oregon met at Seattle. The UW netters pulled through again to win the match 6 to 1, making this meeting the 54th dual meet victory in a row for the Huskies.

olympic games

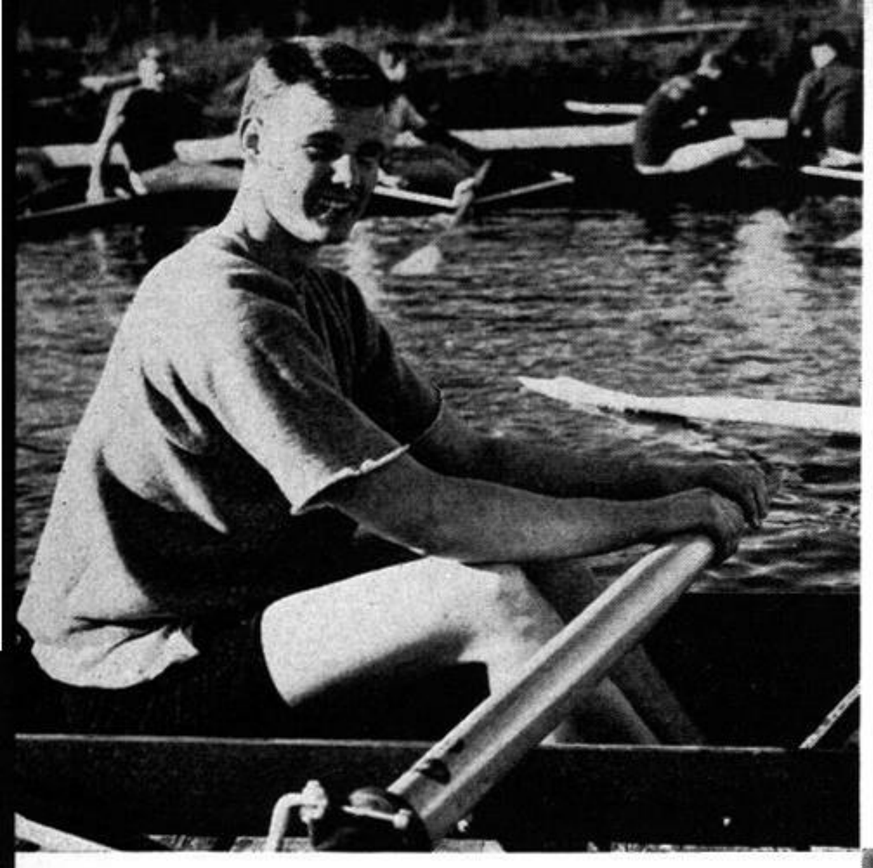

Climaxing the 1952 rowing season, the University of Washington's four-oared shell with cox traveled to the Olympic Games in Helsinki, Finland, where they placed third in their division. Earlier in the U. S. Olympic rowing trials held in Worcester, Massachusetts, the all-sophomore Husky eight-oared boat was eliminated in the finals by the undefeated Navy crew. Also eliminated in the rowing trials were the Seattle Tennis Club double sculls entry of Joe and Charley McIntyre, both Washington graduates, and the Washington Athletic Club's four-oarded with cox entry also composed of ex-Huskies. The WAC entry lost in the finals to the U. W. boat.

In Helsinki the Washington boat won their preliminary heats handily, but had to put on a great finishing sprint in the semifinals against France, Norway, and Argentina. In the finals the Husky boat came in third by a length and a half in the 2000 meter race, losing to Czechoslovakia and Switzerland.

Beset by poor weather and insufficient practice, the Varsity Crew fell far short of the mark established by the famous Washington Eights of the past. Even the seemingly unbeatable combination of Al Ulbrickson as Head Coach and son Al Ulbrickson, Jr., as Team Captain could not turn the tide as the Varsity went down to two resounding defeats.

May 17, Washington met the Golden Bears of California on the Oakland Estuary. The boating for the Huskies included: stroke, Guy Harper; number seven, Keith Riely; number six, Al Ulbrickson, Jr.; number five, Bill John; number four, Ted Frost; number three, Carl Lovsted; number two, Iver Birkeland; bow, Jim Howay; and cox, Dick Boyce. The Washington oarsmen put everything they had into the race, but the lack of high stroke and long distance workouts showed itself as California, never in trouble, cleared the finish line four and a half lengths ahead of a beaten but game Husky Crew. "The Varsity was exhausted when they finished . . . you can't ask for more than that," said Coach Ulbrickson. "You just don't beat a crew like California with only three time trials behind you."

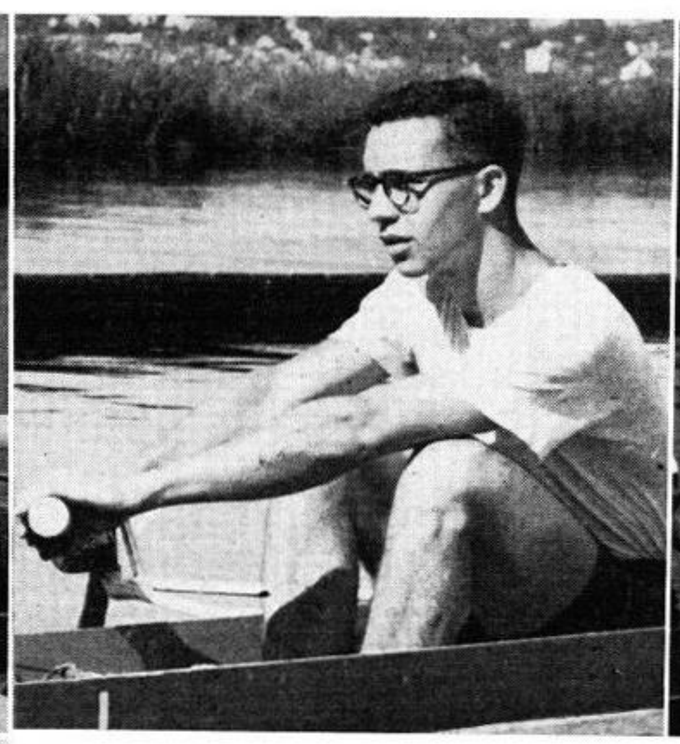

With only this one race behind them the Husky charges left for the Intercollegiate Rowing Association Regatta at Syracuse, New York. Besides their limited experience the Varsity was forced to leave without bowman Jim Howay who pulled a muscle in his side. Eric Fonkalsrud was rushed up from the Junior Varsity to try and fill the loss. It was of no avail as the favored Navy crew made a clean sweep, covering the wind-swept course in 15:8.1. The Huskies placed seventh, which was the poorest Washington effort in their history of IRA participation. Washington rooters, however, found some comfort in that Navy's head coach, Rusty Callow, was a former Husky. There was an added consolation in the fact that every shell in the Syracuse meet was built by the Washington master craftsman, George Pocock. Even without a winning team, the Huskies still are a controlling factor in crew.

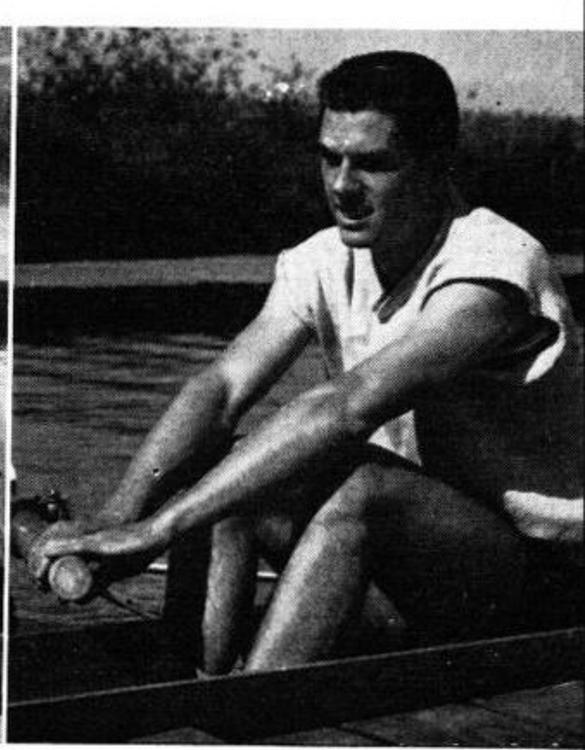

The crew relaxes back east before the Olympic rowing trials.

The big surprise of the crew year was the Junior Varsity's feat of upsetting the experts and taking second place in the Intercollegiate Regatta at Syracuse, New York. The JVs captured the Number Two prize just behind the strong Navy crew. It was a fine effort by a team which, like the Varsity, had been constantly hampered during training by foul weather and insufficient conditioning.

Up to the time of the Nationals, the Husky Juniors rowed only against California. Here they were over-anxious. Knowing they had a long way to go to win, the JVs wanted to do everything they could. Consequently, they tried to row harder than they were physically capable, but nevertheless they did row better than any previous practice session. The JV boating included Fil Leanderson, George Clarke, Roland Camfield, Phil Horrocks, Bill Cameron, Dick Wahlstrom, John Thompson, Eric Fonkalsrud, and Coxswain Al Rossi. If the National Meet is indicative of future performance, it appears that, with these men forming the nucleus of next year's varsity, the future success of Varsity Crew is assured.

Of all three Washington crews, perhaps the most spirited were the Husky Freshmen. Their coach, Stan Pocock, had nothing but praise for the sportsmanship displayed by his charges as they surmounted one obstacle after another to prove their worth. In their first and last race of the season, the Husky Frosh gave the Baby Bears a real run for their money at Oakland, losing by only a half length. Undaunted by this defeat, they set out to show their merit in preparation for the Nationals, only to lose Dick Lacy, valuable Number Six man. To complicate things even more, the Pups' shell was damaged during a turnout. The "Tyee" cracked its keel, losing several outriggers, which hold the oars. This made it necessary to adjust to working out in an entirely different shell. With this, was the announcement that the Freshmen would not go east for the Nationals. By this time, one might think the Freshmen would have pretty good reason to lay down their oars and quit for the season, but on the contrary, by unanimous choice, they still turned out though deprived of the chance of defending the National Husky record. The 1952 Freshman crew showed a spirit and devotion to the sport which will certainly be felt in formation of future Husky eights.

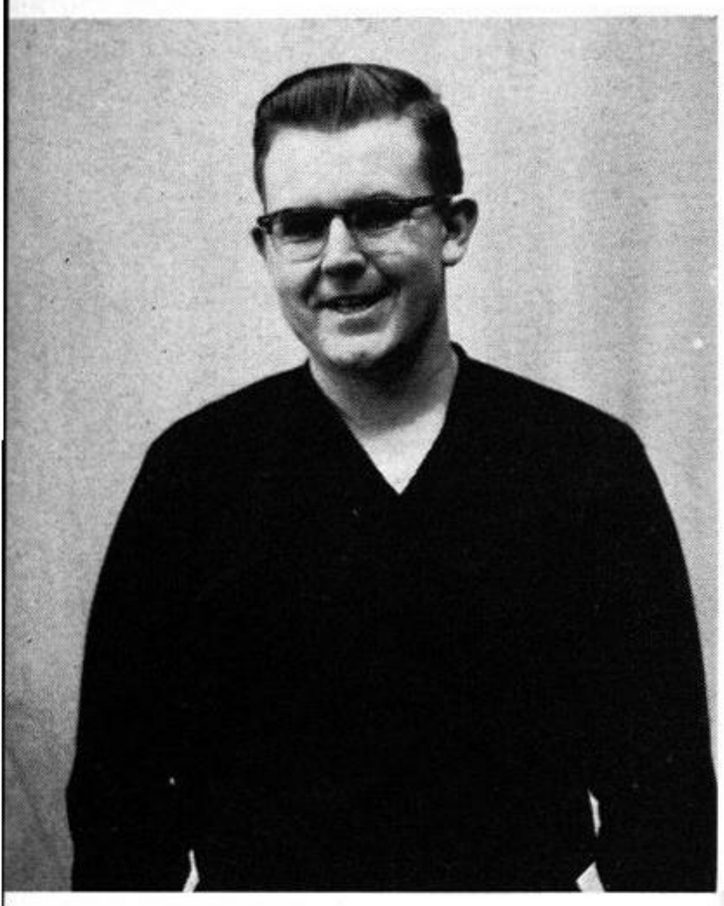

Freshman Coach STAN POCOCK offers a little encouragement to his boys.

Little is known but much should be said for the hard-working fellows who keep things running smoothly down at the shell house. These busy boys are always on their toes to see that all the equipment is ready to go when the shells hit the water and everything is back where it belongs when the crew comes in. Headed by Dean Kallander and Jack Rigsby, these vital men formed the important nucleus without which no successful crew can operate.

Despite the loss of champion hurdler Pete Steward, miserable spring weather and heart-breaking injuries, the 1952 track men of Washington showed remarkable strength in their dual meets and placed second in the Northern Division.

On May 17, the Northern Division meet was held in Seattle. Although the mighty Cougars from Pullman walked off with the honors, no one in the stadium was disappointed with the Washington showing. Hustling Frank Morris won both high and low hurdles and Bob Fornia was first to cross the line in the mile. Ken Morgan was first in the 880-yard dash and Pete Dufour was on top in the 440.

When the Pacific Coast Conference meet was held at Eugene, four Washington entries placed. Denny Meyer was second in the two-mile run, Pete Dufour came in second in the 440, Dale Thornburgh was third in the low hurdles and the relay team of Bob Hutchison, Pete Dufour, Ken Morgan and Ron Schaffer placed third.

Washington and Oregon State teed off to inaugurate the 1952 Northern Division links schedule. With five returning lettermen plus two very promising newcomers, Coach Bill Jefferson's Huskies were favored to win over OSC. They apparently heeded the prediction for they took the match 22-5.

Don Russell won the Huskies qualifying tournament with freshman Kent McLachlan showing good early season form by placing third.

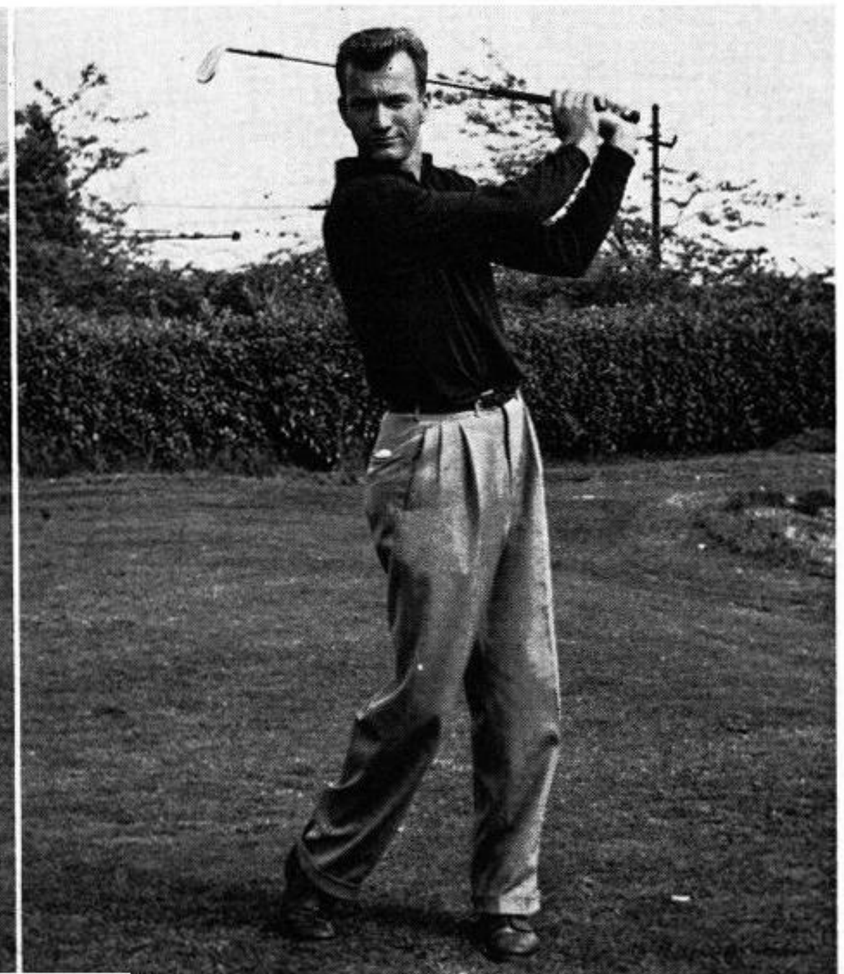

The University of Washington linksmen played Idaho, winning 18-9, and then traveled to Washington State's course where they again won, 19-8.

Undeterred by a 21½ to 5½ defeat at the hands of Oregon, the U. of W. Huskies golf team shot for their second straight Northern Division medal play championship in Moscow. They were again successful and took the Northern Division medal play with a low score of 588. Don Russell tied with Dale Faylor of Idaho for individual honors with a score of 143 (three over par) for the 36-hole course. Russell had rounds of 71-72, Faylor had 74-69. Others were: Jim Bourne, Wash., 72-73 for 145; Ron Clark, Oregon, 72-73 for 145; John Drips, Idaho, 76-69 for 145.

DON RUSSELL ranked among the top golfers in the Northern Division.

HUSKIES 39, VANDALS 14

Blue skies and sunshine keynoted the start of the 1952 season in Seattle as the Huskies met a good Idaho team. With Don Heinrich back in the lineup and a number of capable veteran performers, Coach Howie Odell's team brushed past the visitors with little trouble. The game started slowly and the Vandals did their best, but the Purple and Gold rolled upan easy score. Heinrich threw two touchdown passes and completed 18 out of 27 to start the season right.

JACK NUGENT (31) heads around right end as an unidentified Vandal takes a hand in the game. Coming up are MILT BOHART (66), DUANE WARDLOW (76), and JIM WARSINSKE (2).

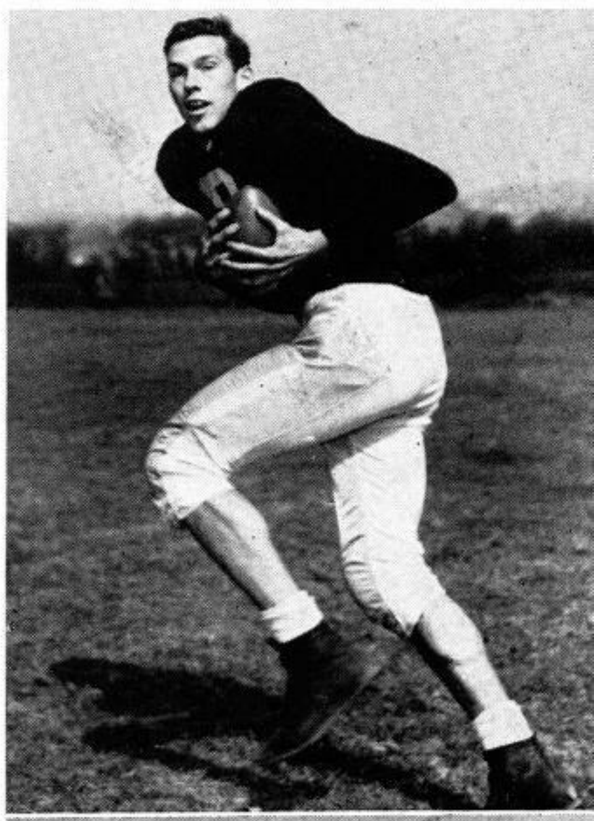

JACK KYLLINGSTAD (45) is on the move against Minnesota as three of the Gophers give chase.

HUSKIES 19, GOPHERS 13

Minnesota traveled out west to provide the first real test of the year in the tenth revival of this popular intersectional game. The Huskies rose to the occasion to outplay the Gophers in all departmnets. Earley, Kyllingstad, and Heinrich did the scoring for Washington while Noe, Bergh and the rest of the defensive team slowed up Giel and Co. Close to 50,000 watched the Huskies show they have what it takes. Bill Earley ran his two-game pass catching total to 11; two for touchdowns.

HUSKIES 7, BRUINS 32

For the past three years the Husky-Bruin clash has been one of the hottest rivalries on the Coast, but the Uclans ended the string of close games in a show of alert defensive strength. For Washington, the game was disappointing as Red Sanders' team intercepted passes and made the most of Husky errors. Cameron, Moomaw and Co. proved too much against a Husky team that just couldn't move in the clutch. Jack Kyllingstad ran over for the lone Husky score.

BILL ALBRECHT (40), DICK SPRAGUE (39), and LARRY SMITH (58) close in on the Bruins ace tailback, Paul Cameron, as he tries a run off-tackle.

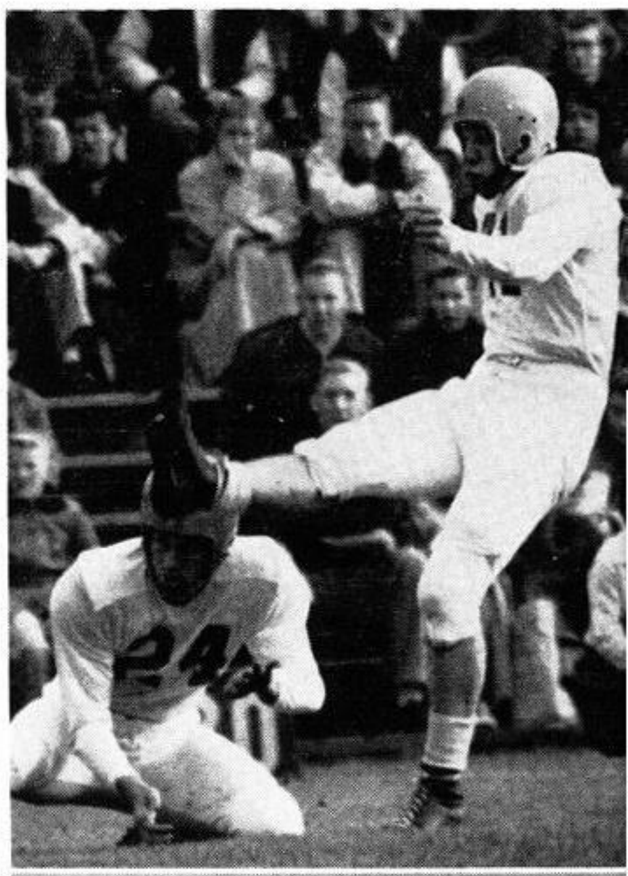

All-American DON HEINRICH shows his kicking form in the UCLA game. Throughout the season Don's sharp punting consistently made it tough for oppnents.

HUSKIES 14, ILLINI 48

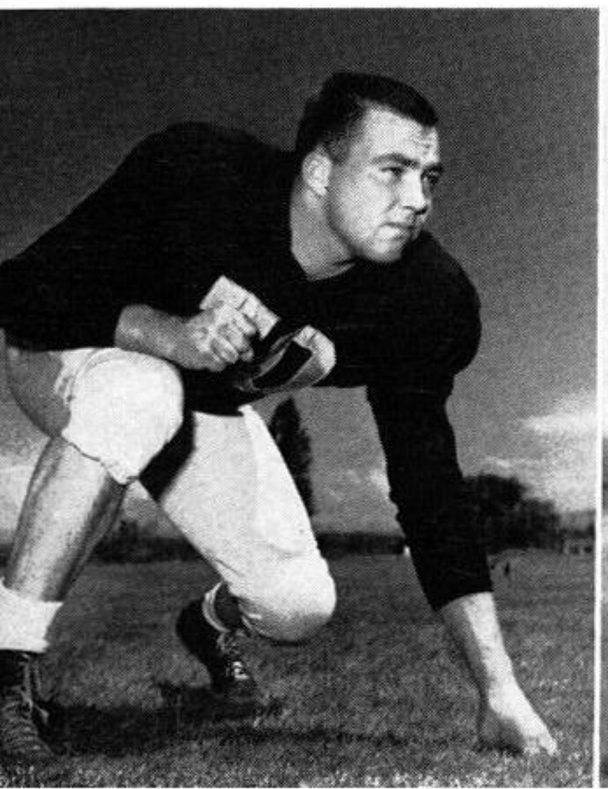

Quarterback Tom O'Connell fired an unbelievable number of pass completions in leading his Illini to a high scoring finish over Washington at Champaign. For the second week the Huskies could not get that spark going as they failed to check the very play that's their best ground-gainer. However, there were some bright spots in the game for the Huskies as Frank Lariza did a commendable job at right half, and Milt Bohart and Larry Smith stood out in the defensive line.

HUSKIES 49, DUCKS 0

Homecoming time again and during the Friday night rally Coach Odell promised a change and a win. The old grads turned out to watch the kind of team we all wanted to see plow the Ducks under in a real display of force. After a two-week drought it was good to see lots of offense and a rock-ribbed defense. End George Black led the scoring with two TDs while Sam Mitchell ran back three pass interceptions for much yardage. Place kicker Niles hit a perfect 7 for 7.

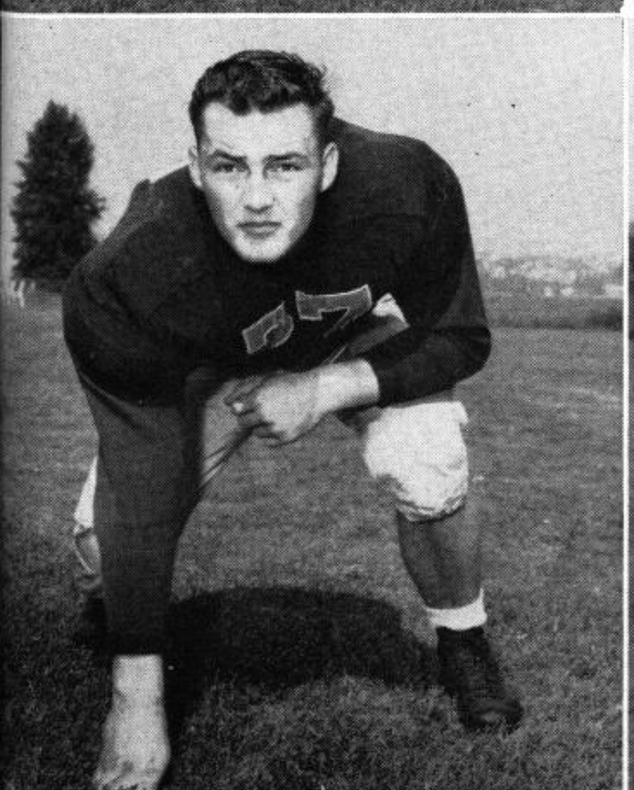

JIM NOE (52), MILT BOHART (66), and LARRY SMITH (58) are all over Oregon fullback Tom Novikoff.

HUSKIES 27, INDIANS 14

Flush from their strong showing against Oregon, the Huskies headed for Palo Alto to meet the keyed-up Stanford Indians. Getting down to business, Howie's boys ran up a good 14-0 halftime lead, and added another touchdown in the third quarter to make it 21-0. Here the Cardinal started a rally that was good for two fast touchdowns with Bob Mathias leading the drive. With Stanford threatening to tie the score, Don Heinrich threw a pass to end George Black in a play that covered 80 yards and iced the game with the final score for a great finish.

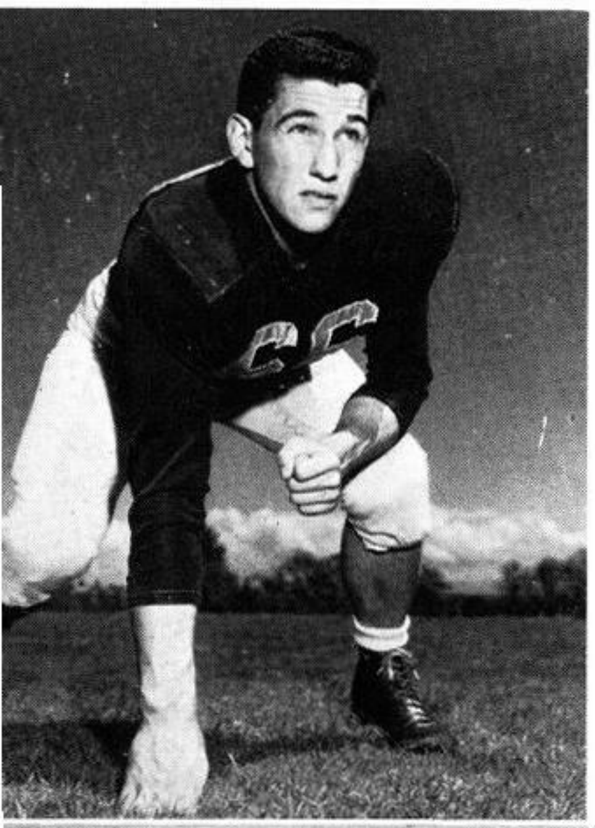

SAM MITCHELL (25) drives through the outstretched arms of an Indian tackler for a good gain. DOUG McCLARY (8) moves up to block.

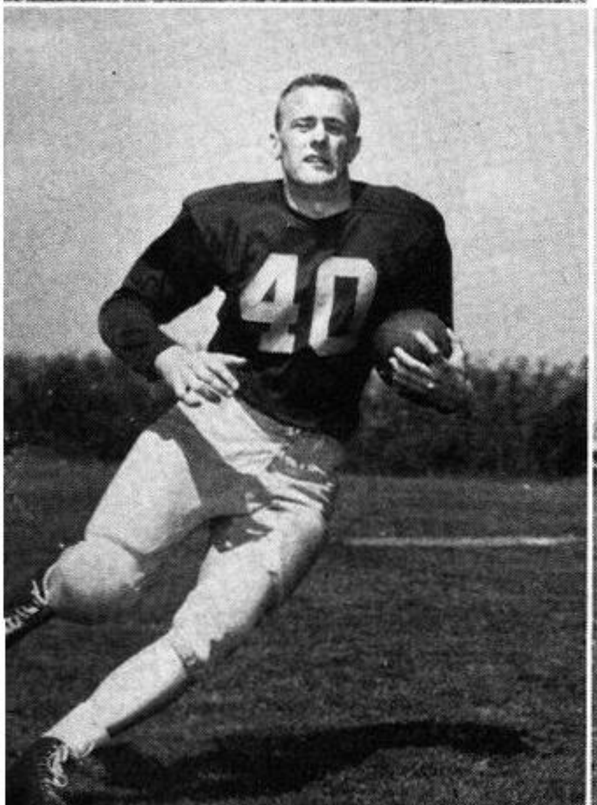

CLYDE SEILER (78), BILL ALBRECHT (40), DUANE WARDLOW (76), MILT BOHART (66), and JIM NOE (52) show why they earned the nickname of the "Stop Dept."

HUSKIES 38, BEAVERS 13

The much improved Huskies kept right on with their winning ways by manhandling OSC impressively in Portland. The game was marked by a tight first quarter in which the Beavers led 13-10 after Washington started the scoring with a touchdown and Niles' first field goal of the season. Husky power, led by Doug McClary's two touchdown catches and Jack Nugent's pair of scoring runs, buried the Beavers in the next three quarters. Defensively, Ward Keller and Duane Wardlow were outstanding for the Huskies.

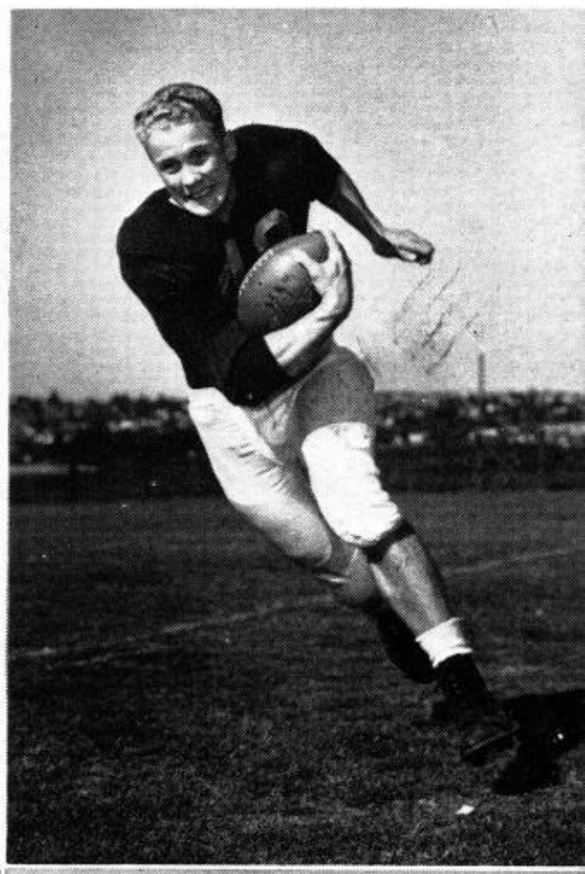

ED SAGE (making the stop) and WARD KELLER (63), two men on the Husky stop department, cover this play in the OSC game.

BILL EARLEY (19) leaves a couple of Beavers behind as he rambles for a good gain with blocking by LOU YOURKOWSKI (73) and TRACY KING (67).

HUSKIES 22, BEARS 7

Six years had passed since a Washington team had beaten Cal, but the big bad Bear, fighting mad after two straight defeats, took loss number three. The hustlin' Huskies controlled the ball most of the afternoon and Bill Earley scored twice. Vaunted Johnny O was held to a net ten yards by the defensive stalwarts. Cal's Bill Powell gave the fans a scare with an electrifying 56-yard TD dash, but that was all the score the Bears could put together as the Huskies rolled up their fourth straight win.

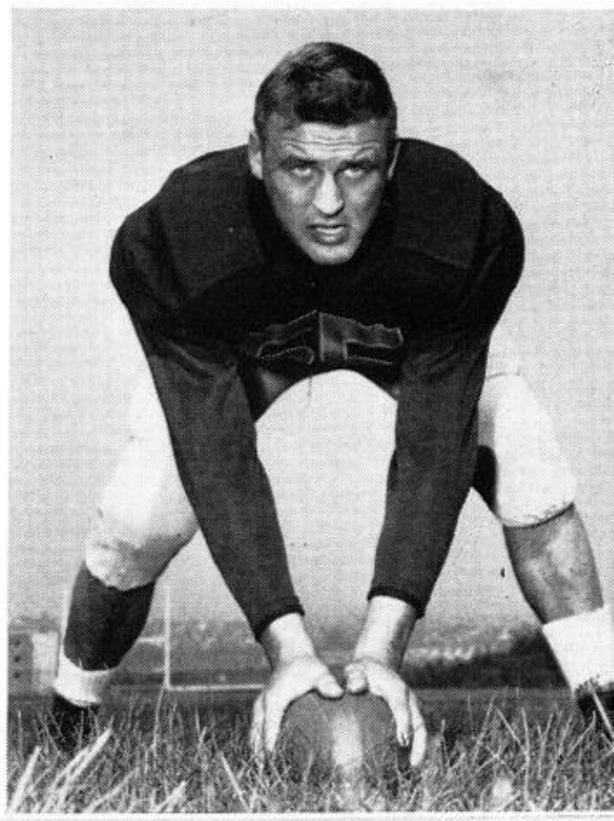

Swinging wide around end is JACK NUGENT (31). VERN LINDSKOG (55) is coming up in the background.

DON HEINRICH (22) hands off the ball on a play up the middle as DOUG McCLARY (8), DEAN CHAMBERS (74), TRACY KING (67), and GEORGE BLACK (9) do the blocking.

FRANK LARIZA bulls his way over the goal line to score in the WSC game. JACK NUGENT (31), DON HEINRICH (22), and JACK KYLLINGSTAD (45) look on. No. 89 for the Cougars is Ed Barker.

HUSKIES 0, TROJANS 33

A combination of rain, mud, Jim Sears, and one of the finest defensive teams in the country beat the Huskies in the L. A. Coliseum. A win for the Purple and Gold would have given the Huskies an outside chance for the Rose Bowl, but Southern Cal had other ideas. Pass interceptions and untimely penalties plagued the Huskies all afternoon while Jesse Hill's crew showed the form that took them to the PCC championship. Sam Mitchell brought the crowd to its feet when he raced 80 yards for a touchdown, but the play was called back.

HUSKIES 33, COUGARS 27

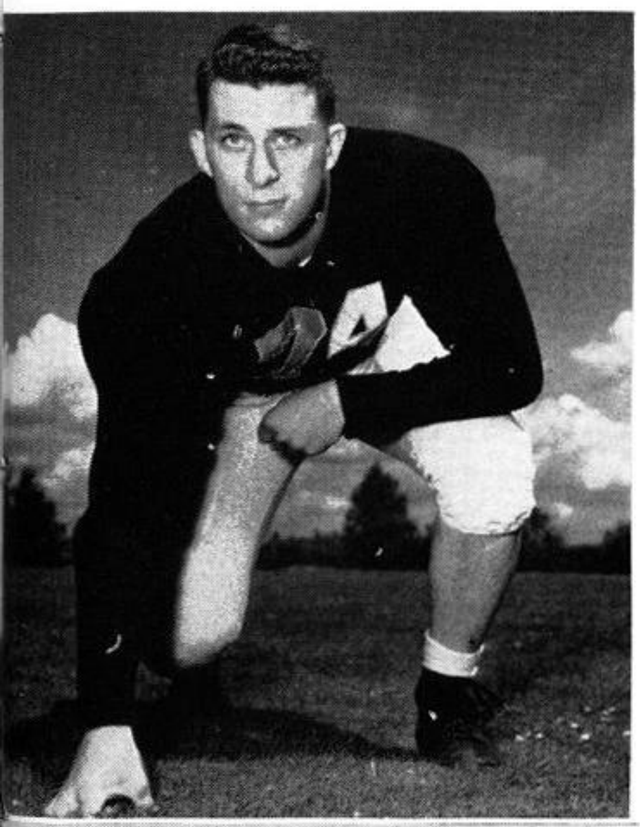

Both teams meant business in this rock-sock season finale on the frozen turf of Spokane's stadium. An upset-minded WSC eleven used every trick in the book at the Huskies in this wide-open offensive game, but the Huskies were never behind in the score. Beckel, Barker, and Svare stood out for the Cougars; but it was Jack Nugent's pair of scoring runs, George Black's pass catch and 60-yard run, and Bill Earley's 41-yard dash that put the Seattle team on top. Don Heinrich rewrote both national and coast record books with his great passing.

Another fine frosh aggregation met Coach Johnny Cherberg at the start of the 1952 campaign. The Cowboy put together a team that added four more victories to the record to make it 22 straight wins for the frosh since he's been at the helm.

Starting against Wenatchee JC the Pups rolled up a 45-0 win. In the next game, the highly rated WSC Coubabes were buried beneath a 29-6 score. Oregon State's Rooks were routed 58-0, and in the season's final game, the Pups blasted Oregon's Ducklings 47-25 in a free-scoring battle.

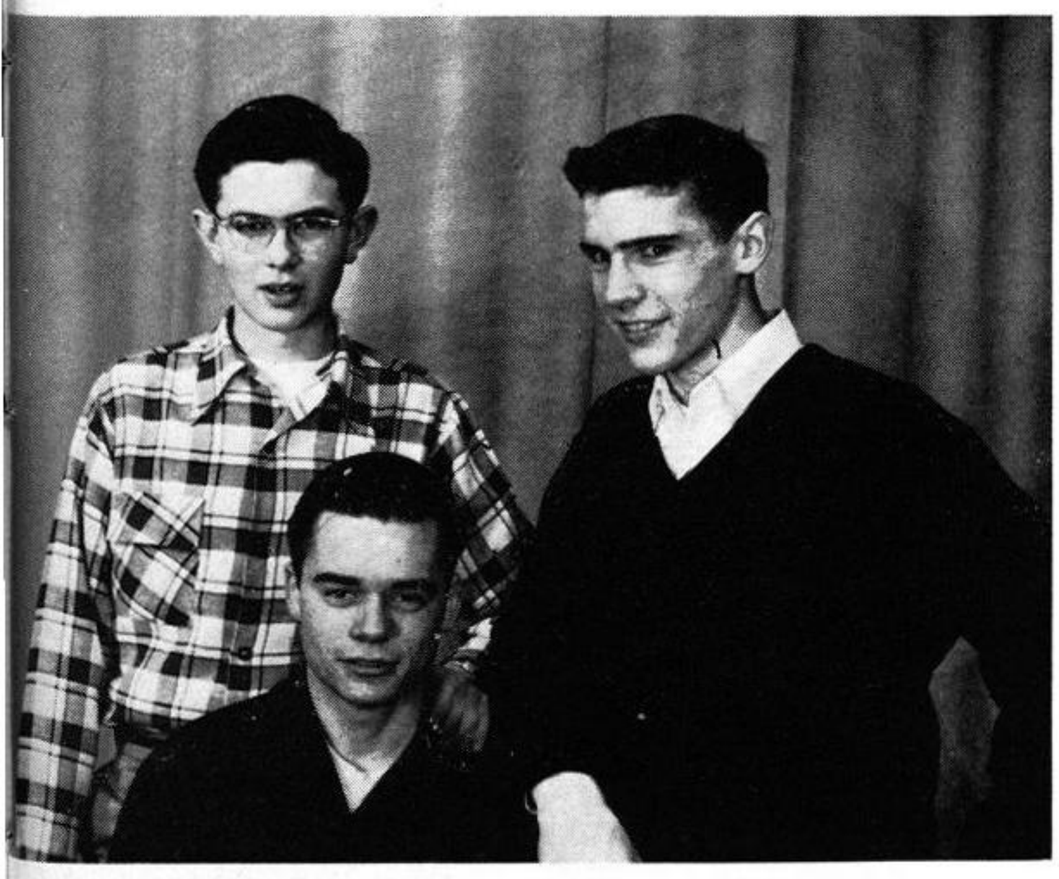

Stars in the frosh backfield this year were Mike Monroe, Sandy Lederman, Clayton Evans, and Bobby Dunn. Tom Fish and Mac Grimes were standout ends while Dean Henry and Earl Monlux looked good in the line. But real credit goes to the whole team for another fine season.

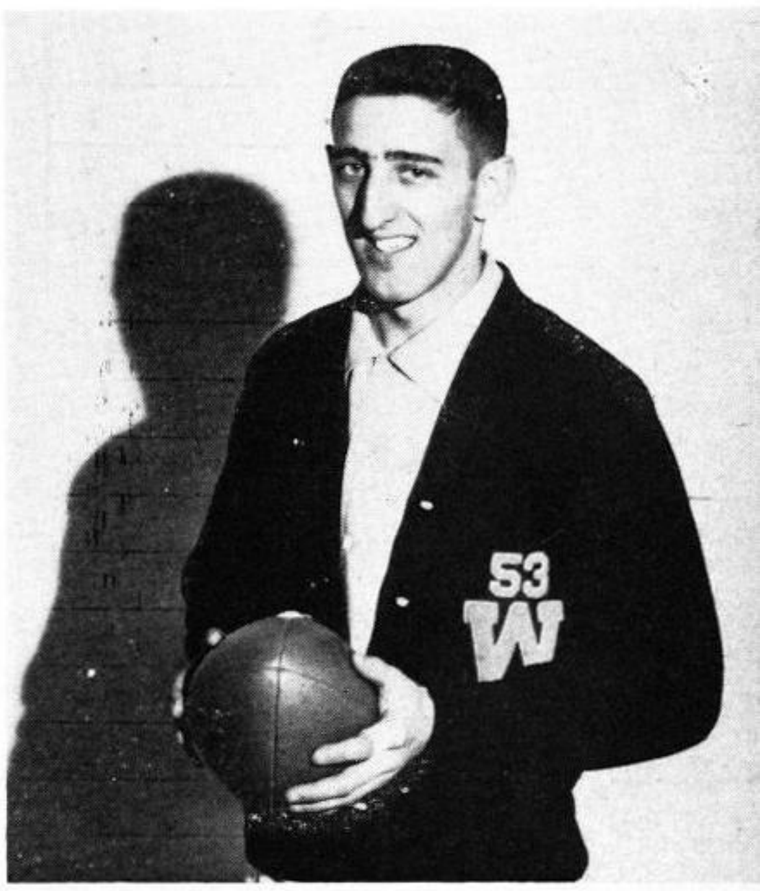

VAL MARTIN was high man on the totem pole as Senior manager and president of the Managerial Council.

Sophomore managers were DICK CRAIN and RUSTY YOUNG. Next year, in the absence of a senior, Dick Crain will be Junior manager in charge.

Low men on the totem pole were DON STOOKEY (l.), DICK SHROLL, and PARKER SELBY (r.) as freshman managers.

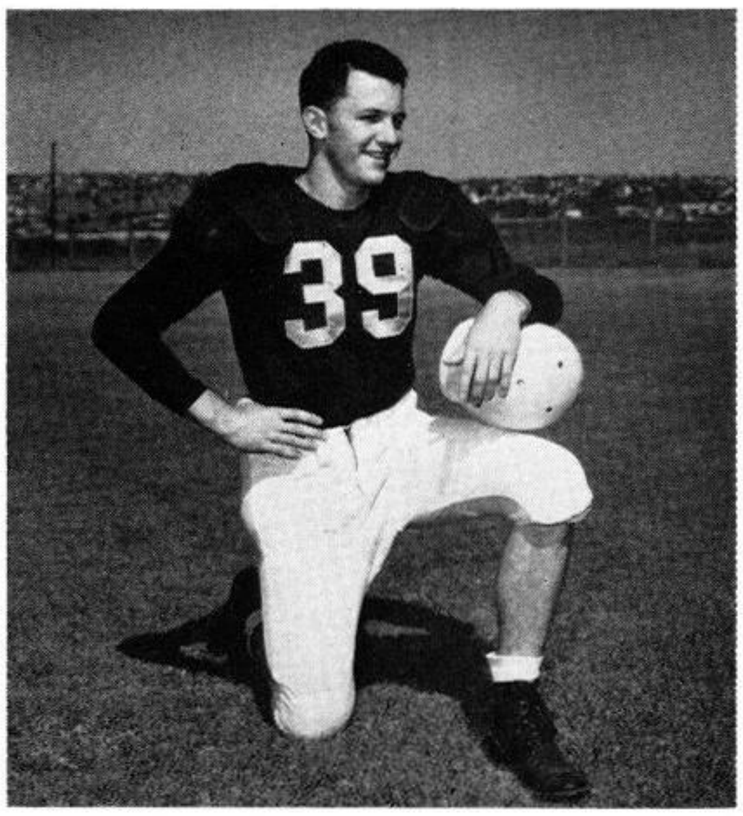

AL ROSSI served as Senior freshman manager during 1952.

Head Coach HOWIE ODELL guided this year's team to third place in the tough coast conference and a 7-3 season record. Wins over Stanford and California were esepcially satisfying.

Captain DICK SPRAGUE. Although a mid-season injury kept him out of the final games, he provided leadership and a strong spark to the team.

NEIL "SKIP" STAHLEY, backfield coach, put together as smart and as fast a group of backs ever seen for UW.

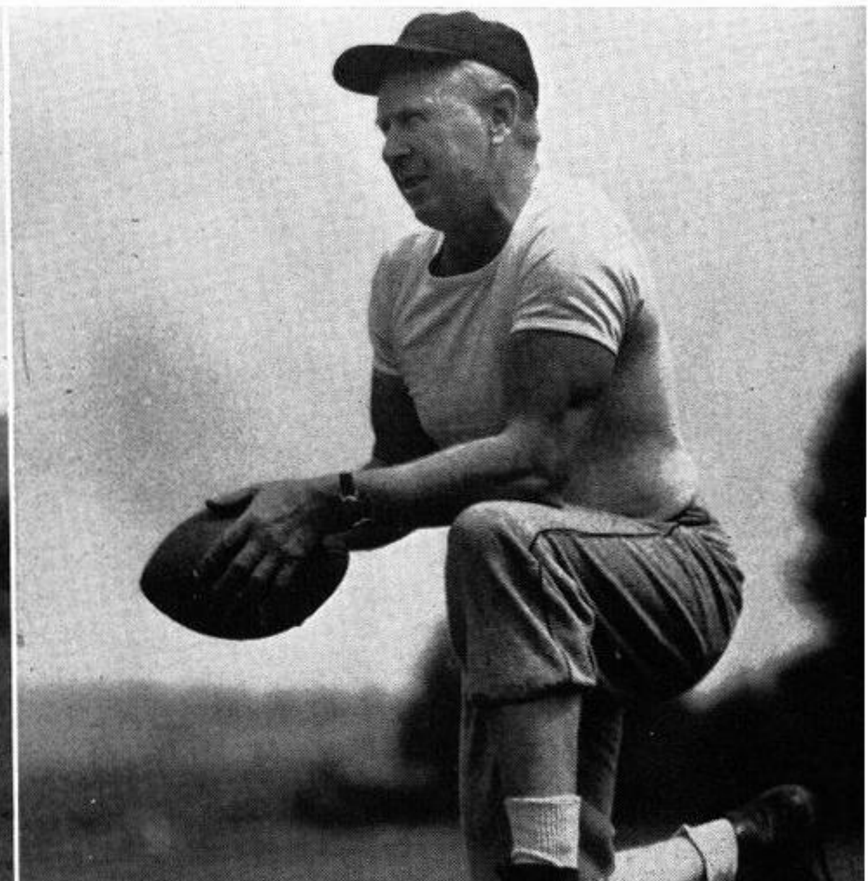

A rough, hard tackling line was a credit to defensive line coach JIMMY DeANGELIS.

End Coach MORRIS "RED" BADGRO turned out four of the finest ends on the coast and deserves much credit.

The University of Washington Husky swim team swept all opposition out of its path to win easily the Northern Division crown during the 1953 season. Led by All-Americans Merrill Hodges in diving and Dick Magnuson in the breaststroke, Washington extended their consecutive dual meet victory string to a phenomenal thirty-six. It was the ninth time in eleven years that the Huskies have won the ND title, and, despite the loss of several key men through graduation, a good freshman team and and a very strong sophomore squad promise a well-balanced team next year.

Under the eagle-eye of head coach William H. H. "Tippy" Dye, the University of Washington Huskies romped home with their third straight Northern Division title. The Huskies went on to take the PCC championship and then went east to place third in the NCAA championship playoffs at Kansas City. The fabulous Washington team, ranked by many as the best team in Husky history, had a conference record of 15 wins and one defeat. Their season record was 30 wins against 3 defeats. The starting five for coach Tippy were all seniors. Bob "Hooks" Houbregs was the team standout, making everybody's All-American squad. He virtually rewrote the Northern Division and Conference record books in total points, high game (49), and average. He broke every game, series, season, and career scoring record in the Northern Division books. "Slippery" Joe Cipriano, the hustling crowd pleaser at guard, and Charlie Koon were two of the fastest, cleverest guards in the division and Doug McClary and Captain Mike McCutchen provided staunch board strength and helped place Washington among the best in the country in defense. Washington finished the season as the fourth ranked team in the nation.

Both of the Idaho series provided plenty of thrills for the fans. In the home series Houbregs poured through 84 points in two games including 49 in one game, both of which are conference records. At this time "Hooks" was averaging 34 points a game. In Moscow for their last series of conference games, the Huskies lost their first and only game by a score of 61-64.

Washington swept through their second home series of the season by defeating Oregon State's Beavers 77 to 54 and 68 to 56 in Seattle. Up-set minded Oregon State went out with a vengence to bottle up Houbregs and succeeded in holding Bob to 40 points. Meanwhile, however, Cipriano and McClary were scoring 23 and 20 points respectively to lead the attack. Down at Corvallis Tippy Dye's boys riding a ten-game winning streak crushed the Beavers 73-60 and 69-53. Houbregs led his teammates with 71 points for the two games.

In the second series with six conference games left to play, he finally broke Jack Nichols record for the total points scored in one ND season. Koon continued in form at the free throw line by sinking his 18th straight charity toss.

Oregon apparently found the secret to stopping Bob Houbregs, for in four games he only scored over 20 points once. This was in the first game when he plunked through 33. Oregon's great center Chet Noe was the man largely responsible for stopping Bob along with a tight, sagging defense. The rest of the Huskies took the opportunity to bring up their averages by scoring well up in the teens during the games. Washington copped the Northern Division championship when they won the first game of their second series with Oregon in Seattle.

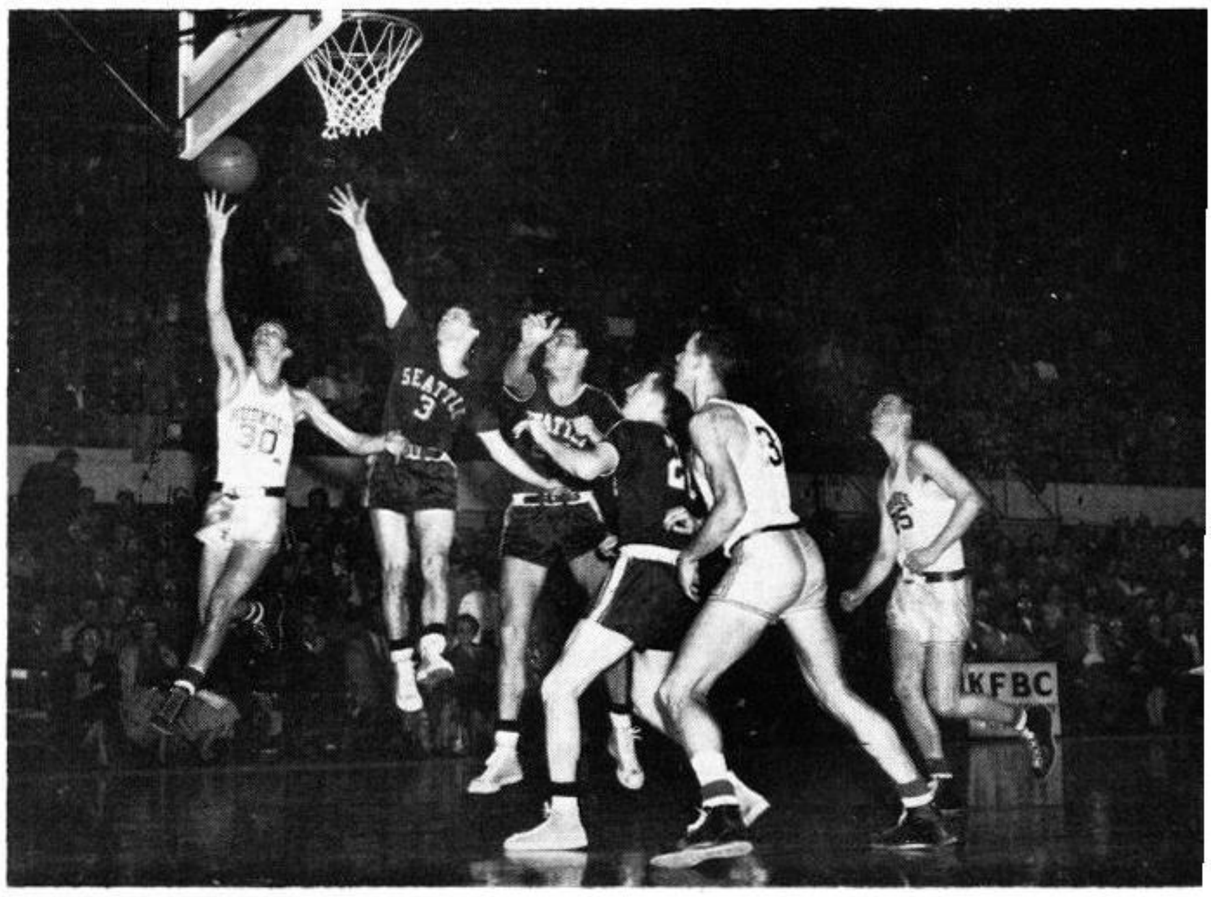

n c a a playoffs

Seattle University's EDDIE O'BRIEN goes up for a score against Wyoming at the Corvallis playoffs as twin brother JOHNNY O'BRIEN moves in.

Having wrested the Pacific Coast Championship crown from California, the University of Washington Huskies moved south to Corvallis for the NCAA regional playoffs, where they met the highly touted Seattle University team with their pint-sized (5'9") All-American Johnny O'Brien and his twin brother Eddie. Despite the hustle of the SU team and the drive of the fabulous O'Briens, the Huskies easily ran over their cross-town neighbors by a score of 92-70. In the second game, Washington edged a young Santa Clara team 74-62.

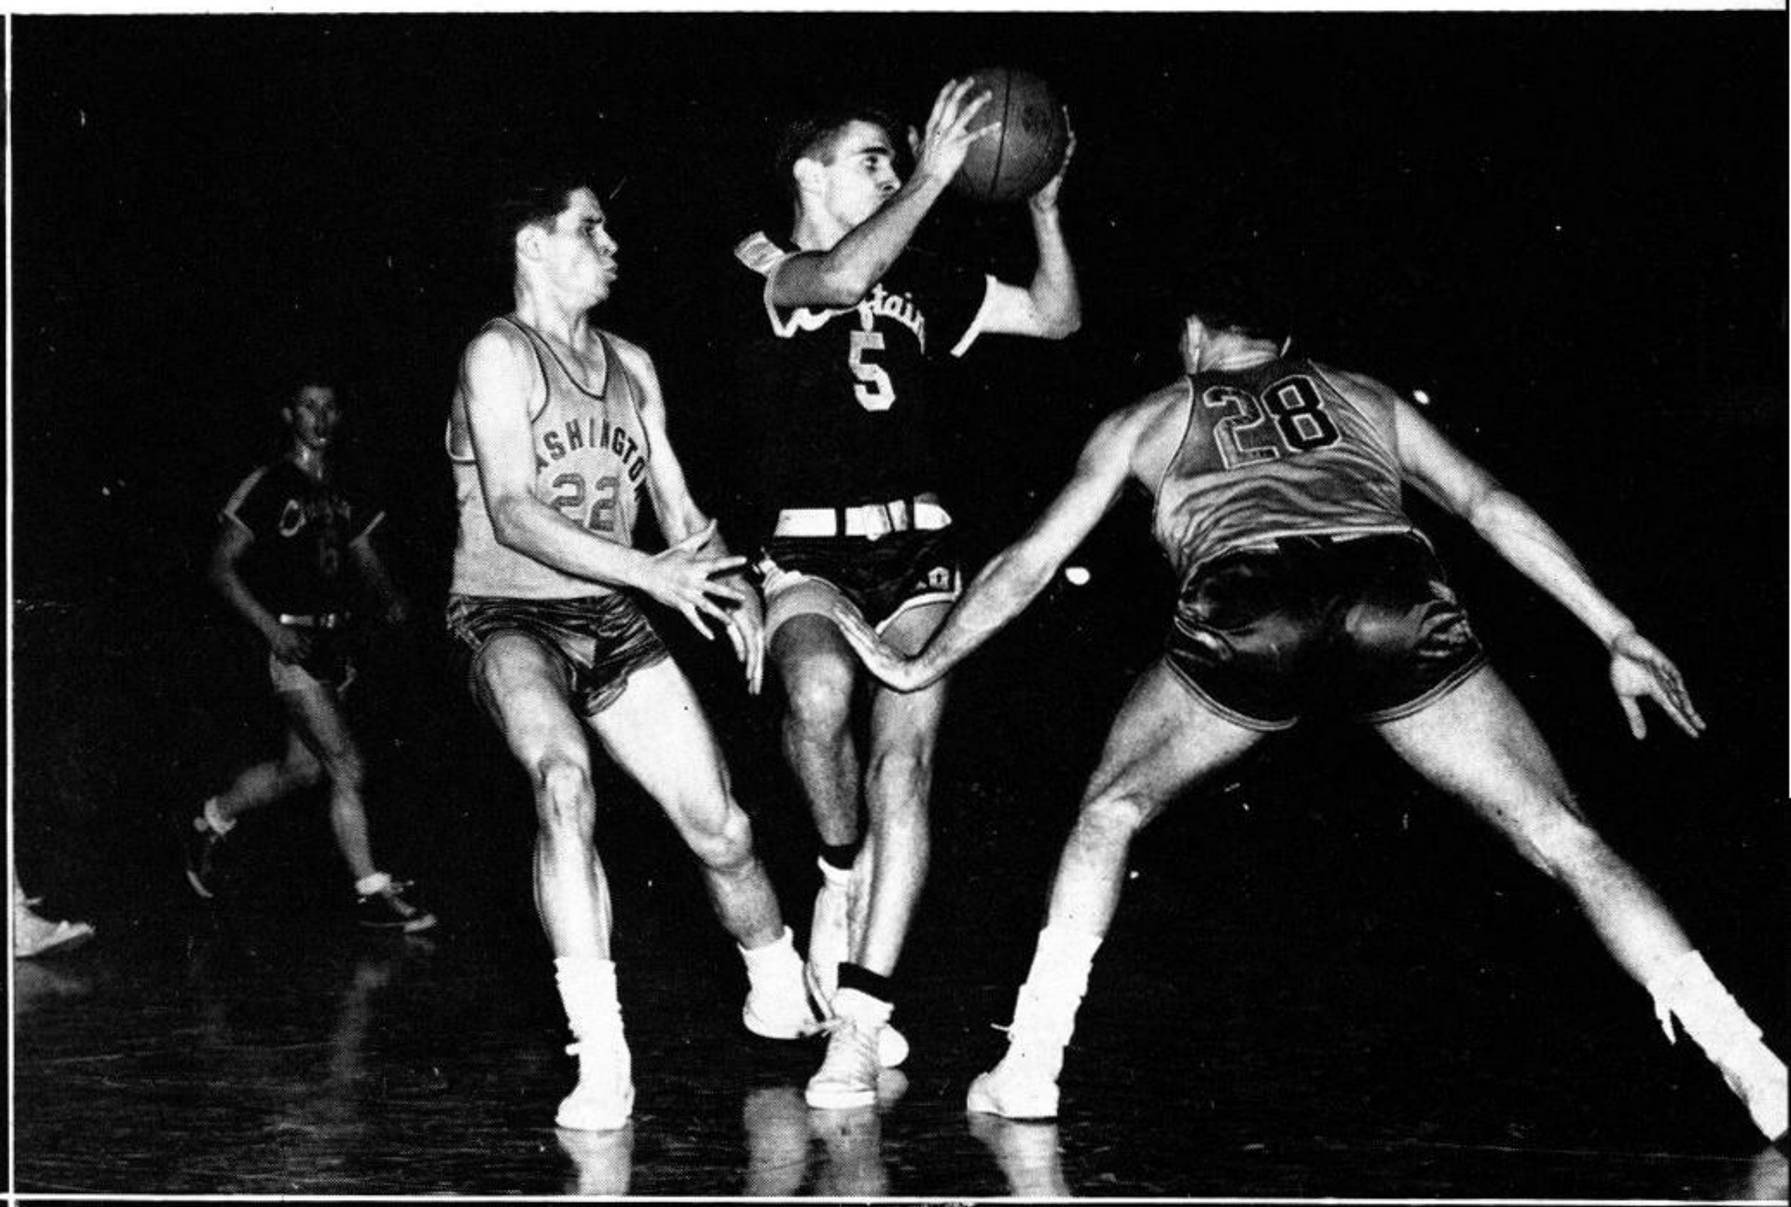

Back at Kansas City the Huskies ran into one of the best defensive games this country's ever seen and lost heavily to Kansas 79-53. They came back in true championship form the next night to trounce Louisiana State 88-69. Kansas lost the championship that same night to a superior Indiana team by a score 69-68. Houbregs was unanimously chosen to the All-Star team of the tournament. He had earlier set a single game scoring record (45), tied Johnny O'Brien's three-game scoring mark, and had just missed breaking Clyde Lovellette's four-game scoring mark.

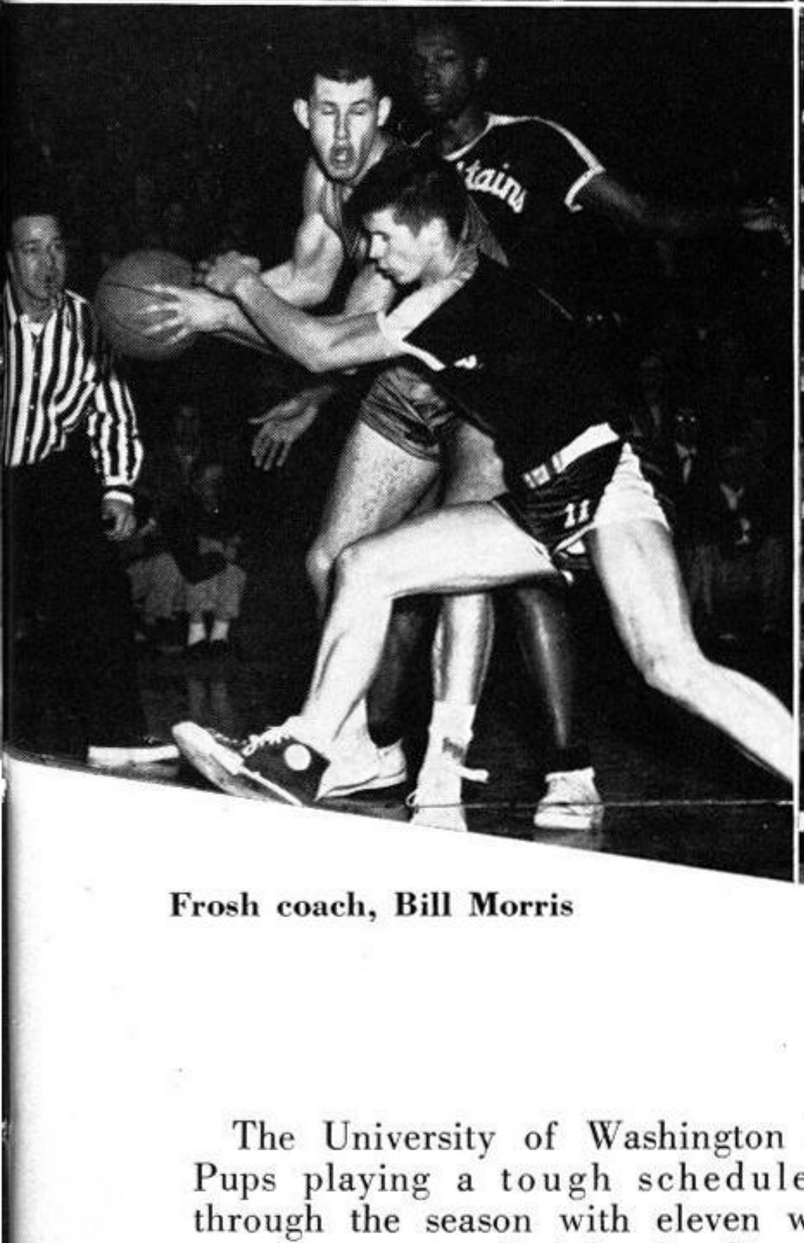

Slippery JOE CIPRIANO slips by the O'Briens and the fragile Seattle U defense for two points. Trying to match the "Cip" is JOHNNY O'BRIEN (3), while DOUG McCLARY (23) and BOB HOUBREGS jockey for position.

Frosh coach, Bill Morris

The University of Washington Husky Pups playing a tough schedule came through the season with eleven wins in seventeen starts. Led by hustling Doyle Perkins and big Karl Voegtlin the Frosh averaged over 72 points a game against a 58 point average by their opponents. Other regulars for the Frosh were Ron Patnoe, Mike Monroe, Bob Bryan, and Jim Coshow. Coached by former All-American Bill Morris, the yearlings showed promise of a strong varsity in a few years. Included in the season's games were two important split series with the Washington State frosh and the Seattle University Papooses.

For the second consecutive year Blaine Hall copped the coveted Gerhart Trophy for the organization accumulating the most points in women's intramural competition. Sponsored by the Physical Education Department, the program continues throughout the school years and includes such sports as volleyball, tennis, swimming, badminton and skiing.

This year's women's Varsity Ski team climaxed another successful year by taking first and second in the Pacific North West Intercollegiate Ski Meet for women held at the University of Washington ski area. The team members are chosen from among the winners of two intramural ski races held during the year. Both a varsity and second team is chosen. Top racers in the group were Cameon Hughes and Tina Jacobsen.

Congratulations, Class of '53

We share with you the thrill of accepting the challenge of new opportunities . . . for while you have prepared yourselves for greater service, we too have increased our capacity to serve . . . Today

our greater, finer Frederick & Nelson is better equipped than ever before to satisfy the needs of the growing, ever-advancing Pacific Northwest.

Frederick & Nelson

Business Manager—1953

Congratulations to a fine team

You can take much pleasure in knowing that through your own efforts and those of your staffs you have produced in the 1953 TYEE an annual that will give many happy hours to your fellow students now and in the years ahead.

It was a privilege to have served on your team as the printers of the 1953 TYEE.

THIS PIONEER TRUCK ON THE JOB . . . MEANS QUALITY CONSTRUCTION

When you see the blue Pioneer truck on the job delivering Tru-Mix Concrete, you know long-lasting quality construction is under way. When you see Tru-Mix Concrete used for foundation and other concrete work you know an architect, contractor and builder who demand first class materials are on the job.
